BANKING ON LAND. Senator Stanford has modified his land-loan scheme, says the S. F. Bulletin. The amount of money to be advanced by the general government is not to exceed 50 per cent of the value of the land, exclusive of the improvements. The land is, in all cases, to be agricultural. There is a hope held out that a like privilege may be extended to municipalities. The interest is to be 2 per cent per annum and the loan is to run for twenty the local assessor, not subject to the authority of the United States, however, plays an important part. It is true that it has never asked that the money should be paid back. It is quite evident that if it did, no response would be returned. The federal government advanced money to the Pacific railroads and as everybody knows is having quite a time in getting it, or any portion of it, back. In the meantime it has had to pay a large amount of the interest. If all the farms and all the towns of the country should be given a like chance it is not seen how general bank ruptcy could be avoided. THE WATER QUESTION.

For the past two years our citizens have had the question of a new water supply before them, and the matter phases. Long years before this several of our prominent residents saw the necessity of a new system of waterworks, and strenuously advocated some action in this direction; but blance of morality, or the betterthe mattter did not come to a vote ment of the human race. As soon as action was taken in the matter, another injunction was served, which, upon a hearing before Judge Bird, was dissolved. The commission. then, under direction of the common council hired competent engineers to survey a practical route that water could be brought to the city by gravitation. After several days spent examining the Deschutes river and the streams near the headwaters of Mill creek no feasible plan was reported without at an expense of something over $200,000. During the time these preliminary surveys were being made, negotiations were entered into with the old water company, for the pur chase of the plant, and the lowest figures given were $50,000.
