say, "D—n Anacortes!" The "con" man grasped his horny hard And prated of friends in a far-off land. He told him of Swiggins, his brother-in-law, And every friend that he ever saw; But the miner looked in the distance drear, As if he were drawing a spectre near, .And only these words could the listene

"D-n Anacortes!"

The real estate man, hearty and gruff, Extended his band and unloaded old guff; He told of the country that made people On a gopher hole or a swampy ditch, But the miner was versed in Los Angele lore And San Diego, be'd been there before. Down at Walla Walla he'd sold a farm, And at Puyallup a house and barn. He'd sold a mine in the Cour d'Alene, And a herd of cattle from off the plain;

All that he had, eyery inch of ground,
And he'd joined the stampede down to Puget Sound;
He'd dumped it all in, made a "sucker's"

play.

They told him the railroad would come that Way; He'd lived on bologna, his hair turned gray, And now he's a tramp and does nothing but

"D-n Anacortes!" Equal to the Occasion.

Somerville Journal. Harriet Beecher Stowe's son, the Re-Charles Stowe, of Hartford, Conn., met with an experience the other evening which completely nonplussed him. One evening quite recently he dined with Mrs J. W. Boardman, proprietress of the Hotel Woodruff. Visiting Mrs. Boardman is a cute little niece about five years old. She is a regular chatterbox and makes many bright remarks during the day. Fearing lest the child would astonish the preacher by some outlandish saying, her aunt warned her to keep mum during the diner. The admonition was listened to with awe, and at the table the little one scercely dared look at Mr. Stowe, not wishing to commit a supposed sin. While the servant was absent from the room the little girl noticed there was no butter on her small pink dish. She didn't mind holding her tongue, but to eat bread without butter—that would never do. She took a survey of the table, and lo and behold, the butter dish was directly in front of the preacher. Wistfully she gazed at both for a few seconds. Never in her brief existence did she appear so pensive. Then, gathering all her courage and clearing her throat, she said: "Dear pastor, won't you please, for brist's sake, pass the butter!"

be Rev. Mr. Stowe never received suc shock. He leaned over his chair to pick up his napkin, which, of course, had not failen. Mrs. Boardman must at that moment have arranged a window curtain, and other guests were suddenly touched vith a friendly cough.

Little Mabel, self satisfied that she had done the proper caper, was the only one at the table who could positively preve out into beautiful, plump, hale, hearty, strong young women.

"Favorite Prescription" is an invigorating, restorative tonic and as a regulator and promoter of functional action at that critical period of change from girlhood to woman-hood, it is a perfectly safe remedial agent, and can produce only good results. It is carefully compounded, by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate organization. It is purely vegetable in its composition and perfectly harmless in any condition of the system. It imparts strength to the whole system. It imparts strength to the whole system. For overworked, "wors-out." "run-down," deblitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," housekeepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally. Dr. Pierce's sortie Prescription is the greatest earthy icon, being unequaled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic. It is the only medicine for women, sold by druggists, under a positive quarantee from the manufacturers, that if will give satisfaction in every case, or money will be refunded. This guarantee has been faithfully carried out for many years.
