

A TERRIBLE TRAGEDY.

Henry Ingram slain by his brother Jack on Thursday night.

At a late hour Thursday night information was received in this city of the killing of Henry Ingram by his brother Frank at the farm of the latter five miles south of this city.

The shooting was the result of a quarrel over the division of the Ingram estate and a contest over the terms of the will left by their mother.

There had previously been made by the dead brother and several shots had been fired on a former encounter.

Several days ago the Herald published an account of a farm hand on Frank Ingram's place discovering a man prowling around the house, and how he drove him off with a gun.

Night before last the man returned again and was armed, but was again driven off by the hired man, after some more shooting.

Last Thursday night the same hired man came to this city in hot haste on horseback, seeking the sheriff and a physician, and bearing the information that Frank Ingram had shot and killed the prowler, who was his brother, Henry Ingram.

It appears that about 8 o'clock in the evening, Henry was discovered approaching the house particularly with a gun.

Frank Ingram, with a revolver in each hand, met him and commanded him to throw up his hands, and on his raising his gun to shoot, opened fire upon him, killing him almost instantly.

The quarrel was provoked by the brother who was killed, he having laid in wait for the purpose of killing his brother on several different occasions.

Frank Ingram secured equally as determined not to be driven away, and had asked the sheriff if he would be allowed to carry a revolver. Both brothers expected bloodshed and were well armed.

It was a most unfortunate family quarrel, which ended in a deplorable manner.

LATER PARTICULARS. The above particulars are obtained from the hired man. The officers returned at 8:30 Friday morning with some additional particulars.

The coroner's jury consisting of Geo. Humphrey, C. W. Wats, Alex. Renney, E. A. Miller, Robt. Strong and John Mullan, found that the deceased came to his death at the hands of Frank Ingram, and that it was a homicide murder, and that Ingram be held for trial.

The evidence showed that Frank Ingram had waited at a tree near the house for his brother, and when he came up within eight feet he ordered him to throw up his hands and in the encounter he shot him twice through the heart.

Ingram claimed that he heard another man running and shot at him. A short time afterwards he heard his fallen brother make a slight noise, and shot him again in the face. He claimed that up to that time he did not know who he was shooting at.

A shot gun with a discharged shell was found lying by the side of the dead man. Ingram was brought to this city and lodged in jail.

Both brothers were unmarried and aged about 35 and 38 years, and lived near each other.

Coroner Farrell took charge of the dead brother's body.

OBIOK COUNTY

Items From the Columns of the Ochoee Review.

Sam Nelson, of Mitchell, returned Wednesday from Weboon where he had been with a band of horses.

He found the horse market dull, but met with sales for all he had.

Messrs. J. J. and R. G. Smith, of Sisters, were in town Tuesday. They report an excellent crop having been harvested on Ochoee creek this season, and say the wheat and oats are of excellent quality.

One day last week the Brown brothers, who formerly lived on Bear creek in this county, drove a band of 46 head of cattle onto the Luckmeister bridge in Folk county, when the bridge gave way and 38 of the cattle were killed.

Last Monday J. B. Fryrear, of Sisters, was kicked by a horse and sustained a fracture of one of the bones of his leg just above the ankle. When last heard from Mr. Fryrear was suffering considerable pain, though we trust he will fully recover.

Sam Hodges returned Thursday from near Stockton, California, where he had been with his father and brother with a band of horses.

He says they have sold all of their horses but 40 head, and the prices received for them were very fair. They expect to return in about a month.

Ex-County Clerk Brown is buying cattle in Willamette valley and will bring them to Crook county. Mr. Brown spent a good portion of the summer looking for a better country than this, having visited Arizona and other stock countries, and the result is he will return here. This is a pretty good evidence that Crook county is superior to a good many so-called fine countries.

Killed Accidentally. Ochoee Review. Last Tuesday morning Patrick Kelly, who was herding sheep for Tom Jones, near Trout creek, thirty miles northeast of Prineville, was found dead in his tent by Scottie Donaldson, with a bullet through his head. Mr. Donaldson came in town to notify the coroner, and in the absence of Coroner Woods, Justice Bell, accompanied by Dr. Belknap, Chris Cochrane and Geo. Cline, went to the scene of the accident on Wednesday to hold an inquest. The jury impaneled by Justice Bell found that the deceased was a native of Ireland, about 28 years old, and that he came to his death by accidentally shooting himself either on the 4th or 5th of the present month. The remains of the dead man were found lying in his bed in the tent, with a rifle lying on his breast, and a bullet hole through his head. The bullet had entered the right eye and passed out through the upper part of the head, causing instant death. Little is known of Mr. Kelly except that he was a steady, industrious young man, who had been herding sheep in the country for several years, and had accumulated some money, which he had invested in real estate in Portland.

From Prineville. Prineville, Oct. 10, 1901. Editor Times-Mountaineer: I write to inform you. Of course, the information is borrowed; but your readers will appreciate borrowed tidings, such as we have here.

Hon. B. F. Nichols, one of our best pill dispensers and a man who has figured in state affairs, is going to be promoted to be married. That's some information.
