ssassinate William O'Brien, At first the story was believed to be a canard, but as oon as it became known that O'Brien had hurriedly decamped in consequence of the discovery, the excitement became intense. At the moment of filing this fispatch, the streets are filled with angry men who threaten to arm themselves with more deadly weapons than blackthorns and stones. Strong guards of police are stationed in the vicinity of gunshops and wherever it is possible to ob tain firearms, and are doing their utmost o keep the turbulent mobs in motion, but it is a difficult task. The report of the murderous conspiracy terribly enraged the McCarthyites, who threaten to they have thus far put upon themselves and outdo the Parnellites in deeds of vioence. Fitzallen said all right, and started to rise, but before he could do so Root drew a revolver and fired twice, one bullet entering the abdomen of the captain near the eighth rib and coming out near the spinal column. Fitzallen was lifted into a phaeton and taken to Sunnyside, where he lies at the point of death. Root has been arrested.

HAZELTON, Pa., Nov. 2.-Lizzie Drom. aged 14 years, was attacked by an Italian at Turlock last night, as she was leaving populous part of the city. The Italian prang from behind a tree as she was assing, and seizing her by the throat, shoved her violently against a fence. The girl fought the villain bravely, but the firm clutch at her throat prevented her at first from making any ontery. By a desperate effort, however, she wrenche the Italian's hand away and screamed loudly for help. Her cries of "Murder!" caused a commotion among the congre gatio i, who we'e just coming from the hurch. P. F. Boyle, president of the ouncil, who witnessed the assault, and a number of others ran to the girl's rescue. When the fiend saw them approaching e let go of his victim and ran down the street. A number of the congregation followed. He dodged through several streets closely followed by his pursuers, and finally managed to make his escape. The girl was badly frightened, and part of her clothing was torn, but she sustained no serious injury from the assault. She believes she could recognize her assailant again, and the police are already looking for him. His motive no doubt some time have been boldly engaged in was robbery, as the girl wore some jawelry, whose glitter probably attracted his attention and invited the attack. Considering the locality and time of the attempted robbery, the assault was one of the boldest ever made in this city.

Fossil has a new flour mill, and the people are happy. This is the way the Journal expresses its delight: "On Monday morning Smith, Royal & Alderson's new mill was in operation, and its euphonius hum has been heard ever since. The proprietors have been faithfully at work for about four but little friction, and the flour it is turning out is pronounced by those who have tested roller system. Mr. Smith, the senior partner and head miller, has had charge of some of the best mills in the valley, being last foreman of Scott's Marion county mills, and is recognized to be a leading member of his profession. There is not a mill in Oregon that will do better work than the Fossil one; we congratulate the proprietors, the town and the large country around which
