

ITEMS IN BRIEF
From Wednesday's Daily.
A heavy frost covered the ground this morning.

Mr. L. B. Reed, of Vashon, Wash., a former resident of The Dalles, is visiting the city.

Reverend J. D. Hadden, of the Methodist church, will preach at 10 o'clock this morning at the First Methodist church.

Very evidently there has been heavy snow on the mountain division since the recent storms, and this has caused a delay in the arrival of trains in this city.

The west-bound train due last evening at 6:30 did not arrive until this morning at 4:30. No. 7, due this morning did not pass through the city until this afternoon.

Social matters are very quiet for this season of the year, and young ladies and gentlemen prefer doing their courting around parlor stoves than at public entertainments.

There is a project on foot to put a telephone in operation in this city. This is something which has been very much needed, and should receive the support of all public-spirited citizens.

Rev. A. C. Spencer will give a five minute social to the young people of the city on Friday night at the reading room. A good time guaranteed. There will be no admission, no collection, no supper, but everybody made welcome.

Guard: The cabin belonging to the Leper Babcock, on the upper McKenzie river, was set on fire and burned with its contents. His cow and cat were not killed. This was done at Babcock's suggestion.

Great snow storms have prevailed in Eastern Oregon during the past week, blocking all the avenues of travel, trains on the Union Pacific have been snow bound and have been late for several days. The tracks are now clear, and it is expected all trains will now be on time.

Taylor Dunn, of Dallas, Polk county, a hardware dealer, while exhibiting the good qualities of a feed-chopper which he was selling, cut off his forefinger. A few moments afterwards his father was showing how the accident happened, and he too lost a finger. The interested bystanders saw exactly how it was done.

The English claims against Cullig aggregate about $70,000,000, those of Spain and Italy about $3,000,000 each, and the United States only wants $25,000 and an apology. Yet the English will get all they demand eventually, and the United States will be obliged to whip them out of their boots and let the account go at that.

The firm of Byrne, Helm & Co. are preparing to do a leading business in their drug store on the corner of Second and Union streets. Mr. Byrne is a scientific chemist, and all prescriptions compounded can be relied on. The business of the firm will be conducted on a correct basis, and all matters entrusted to their care will receive prompt attention.

By reason of the incapacity of the $50,000 bonds, purchased by the city of the old company, the Daily Times-Mountaineer was unable to issue on usual time this evening. What a dear experience this has been to the city, and how it will be felt in the city taxes this year and next. It affords the Times-Mountaineer great satisfaction to say, "I told you so."

The weather has been delightful for this season of the year; but the months of January and February are yet to pass before we can hail spring with perfect joy, and in former years cold weather has been experienced in the latter months of the season to the detriment of the crops to be sown below zero, and for ten days to congeal the present supply of water; but we hope this will not be experienced again for several decades.

W. O. W. A. Sample, who is a member of the board of regents of the State Agricultural College, has received notification that a meeting of the board is called for December 30th, and will be in attendance. An effort will be made to secure the establishment of an experimental station in Eastern Oregon, something to which this section of the state is entitled, and which will be of much aid to our farmers. It is hoped that the effort will meet with success.

Albany Herald: Gene Larimore was returning home from church Sunday evening, when in a lonely street he heard some one seemingly trying to pass him from behind. He stepped aside to allow him to pass, when the fellow struck at him with a murderous knife, cutting his arm but fortunately not deep enough to inflict any injury. Mr. Larimore ran up the street and procuring assistance turned and gave the fellow chase. He ran toward the Southern Pacific depot and eluded them. The police were notified, but they could not find the miscreant.

The reservoir at Dayton, recently built at great expense, and which on being first filled, broke, but was replaced by a second, which was found to be unsafe. The insider says it: "It has been known for some time that it was leaking and it was not allowed to fill entirely. A few days ago it was allowed to fill. In less than 24 hours water was discovered bursting from near the place where it broke out when first filled. The water was immediately let out of the reservoir and another break prevented. The wall was found cracked at the same place where the big break was made."

The mountain division, between La Grande and Pendleton, during the inclement seasons of the year, always furnish the usual items of interest for newspapers, and this season it has started in real earnest in this direction. Heavy rains and snows have prevailed all over the coast, and the Blue mountains have not been excepted. Two or three days ago there was a snow blizzard, and to-day we learn that a train was derailed a few miles west of La Grande, and four persons killed, among them the mail clerk, engineer and brakeman. This report is not verified, as only one wire was working. All kind of rumors were rife this morning; but it was most difficult to ascertain any definite particulars.

Baker City Blade: Wm. Murray is reported to have nearly perished on the Grande step during the blizzard of the 25th. He started on his return trip to McEwenville with a two-horse sleigh with the mail and it seems that when he reached the summit of the Burnt river mountains the storm was raging so that the road was soon covered with snow, and the horses becoming exhausted wandered out of the road. He laid out all night, when Mr. McEwen, who had become alarmed at his non-arrival, started out to search for him. He found him between Austin and Parkers station, completely exhausted and nearly dead. He was taken to the nearest house where he is being well cared for. Wm. Murray will be remembered as the young man who drove a street car in this city during September and October. It is hoped he will soon be all right.

Linkville Star: Two little orphans, Warren McDonald and his sister, of Lakerville, were in Linkville this week on their way to Pomeroy, Wash., where they will reside with Grandma McDonald. It was affecting to see the look of dependence which each little orphan placed on the other, as the cold winds of this world toyed with their hair, and loving voices of the other world echoed in their innocent hearts. They knew that this world was cold, but up and was in the sky, and grandma she was in Pomeroy, and would receive them with warm embraces and loving words. They were comfortably wrapped up, however, and cheerful.

From Thursday's Daily.
The holidays will soon be over. We can write 1891 to-day; but to-morrow will be 1892.

By reason of a heavy frost last night on streets can be crossed without danger of being mired.

The monthly collections for December, by general consent, have been postponed until Monday, January 4.

Now is the particular time of the year when good resolutions are being formed, and for a while vicious habits are laid aside.

The river has a little more than an ordinary volume of water, notwithstanding the heavy rains experienced during the past few weeks.

Mr. F. W. L. Skille will give a grand ball and supper at his hotel on New Year's eve, at which the public are cordially invited to attend.

Notwithstanding the inclement season work on the new buildings in the East End still continues, and several very commodious and convenient structures have been erected.

Since the snow fall there has been little activity in the stockyards in this city. Occasionally a carload of cattle is received; but there will be a rash there when spring opens.

Cold water is a strong test of religious faith. Four converts to the Baptist church at Madras, Oregon, were baptized in the Potlatch creek a few days ago. This is said to be the first baptism by immersion that ever occurred in the Coeur d'Alene district.

There is nothing of any great importance occurring at the warehouses in the East End. The roads are in such a condition that farmers cannot conveniently come to town, and therefore no wheat has been received for some days.

The west-bound passenger train passed through this city this morning at 10:10 o'clock. It was due here at 4:50, and was doubtless delayed by the accident near La Grande yesterday, or heavy snow in the Blue mountains.

Mr. Ad Keller, of the Oro Fino, returned yesterday from attending the funeral of Mr. J. C. Keller, a Knight of Pythias, in Portland. He was a member of the grand lodge, when that body convened in this city. Mr. Keller acted as one of the pall bearers for the deceased.

A special from the Oregon State Engineer has tendered his resignation as superintendent of the government Ingot training school at Chemawa, near this city. He resigned to re-enter the ministry. Irwin was appointed under President Harrison in August, 1889.

Every indication now points to the certainty that early spring will witness the beginning of active work along the line of the Seattle, Boise & Salt Lake railway. Chief Engineer Mix is already in the field with a party of men surveying a line for the proposed road.

Baker Democrat: The snow blockade in Pyle canyon yesterday created a demand for snow shovels and the Union Pacific officials sent in an order for fifty laborers to be engaged and sent to that place at once. That number of idle men were not to be obtained, however, a number were found and forwarded to the scene of obstruction.

Astoria Tale: In this city lives an old lady 82 years of age, who has all that time enjoyed a life of single blessedness. She lives in a house now owned by Judge Elliot, a portion of which was built by old man Shively in 1845; she is a sister of the judge, and in all probability good for many more years. She scarcely ever leaves the house and has not been outside of Astoria since 1829.

Salem Journal: The state board of equalization have more than paid their expenses for the year to come by leveling up the assessment of mortgages $10,000,000. If they go ahead and assess the corporations doing business in the state any thing like the rate value of their real and personal property and franchises, they will have been one of the most valuable bodies of men who ever came into the service of the people.

In placing the new pipes in position on Second street yesterday, the ditch was filled without the usual property injured, and in consequence, there was a leak this morning at the corner of Second and Court streets. The old Jackson hand engine, in use since 1863, was brought in requisition, and the water was pumped out of the ditch and the pipes properly joined. This caused another cessation of water for some time.

It will be good news for the wheat producers of the Inland Empire and the Willamette valley that Europe bought from us in the four months ended October 31st, $101,158,156. In the like months last year the exports of breadstuffs were only $38,007,473. In bales, the figures for some of the above periods are: 1890, 15,336; 1891, 18,914; 1900, 18,917. Demand such as this sustained, proves and will clear the barns and elevators of wheat in good time for next year's crop.

A young Frenchman named Frank LaBlanche was adjudged insane to-day, and committed to the asylum. For some time past he has been herding sheep in this country, and has borne an excellent reputation. A few weeks ago he came in town intending to study the English language, and desired to engage a teacher for that purpose. During the time he was herding sheep he carefully studied his surplus value and is considered to be pretty well fixed regarding coin. For a few days past he has been acting strangely, and his examination to-day developed the fact that he was undoubtedly demented. It is to be hoped that a short time at Salem will restore his reason, and that in a little while he will be fully cured of the malady. He has no relatives in the country; but has many friends by reason of his industrious and sober habits.

Headline: There are at this winter a dullness in business circles on account of the protracted and inclement winter, but the farmers and stockmen do not complain, and if this weather holds out the grass will hold out, and the cattle will be in good condition when spring opens, and the farmer's purse will not be depleted from having to feed his stock during the winter. The county is even to be a prosperer next summer, even if not a single stranger comes over here, but there is sure to be a large immigration to this country next year, and we had just as well look forward with some hope and wait with patience for the good time coming. Mind what we tell you, milling operations and railroad building is going to begin pretty soon; it can't be held back much longer, and then Tillamook City will emerge from its old shell, and grow with a bound that will surprise the most sanguine.

La Grande, Oregon, was visited by another fire Saturday night. The fire, which started in the general merchandise store of I. Harris, was tamed by the high wind which was blowing from the east, and it was impossible to check it before Elm street was reached. The list of sufferers and their losses is as follows: M. S. Birch, $20,000, insurance, $14,000; Jacob Zaber, $2000, insurance, $1400; D. Hadden, $2000, insurance, $1500; Dan Mark, $1000, no insurance; A. C. Huntington, $1000, insurance $1000; I. Harris, $3500, insurance, $2800. Other losses will run the total up to about $32,000, with a total insurance of about $22,000.

A Boise City special says: The divorce bill began to grout yesterday and by Tuesday will be well under way. There are over twenty cases on the calendar of the district court. It is very easy to secure a divorce in Idaho, and people of the adjoining states appreciate the fact. Six months' commutation of legal residence, and some county seats are so secluded that people don't hear of the actions until after they are decided. It is quite as easy to get married in Idaho as it is to secure a divorce. No license required and few questions are asked. The people of Washington, Oregon, and other adjoining states are beginning to appreciate the infant industry of Idaho.

Albany Democrat: Bishop Morris has recently discovered a relic in the Coquille country that has a very singular and interesting history. It is an old, large folio bible and prayer book bound together, that was in use in Trinity church, New York city, before the revolution. It was printed in London in 1728, and contains, besides the bible and English prayer book, Strenuous and English versions of Psalms, with musical versions of the Te Deum, Lord's Prayer and Ten Commandments. It has also a form of family prayer in which the words "So mote it be" take the place of the ordinary Amen. It is bound in thick oak boards, and is a very beautiful and bears many evidences of its age and hardship.

The state weather bureau reports the total rainfall for the year 1891 to date to be 2.68 inches below the annual average. For the month of December the total rainfall is 2.48 inches in excess of the average. From January 1st to December 31st there is an excess of the average. On Saturday and Sunday 1.66 inches fell which caused the river to rise from 7.6 feet to 11 feet above the low water or zero mark. The annual average is 49.34 inches; for 1891 it was over 51 inches, but the deficiency which has existed since 1883, says in 1887, when it was three inches in excess of the average. The December average is 32.22 inches. The January average is 7.50 inches, February 6.63, March 6.02, and from April drops to 3.21 inches. July and August have slightly over .50 of inch of rainfall.

The Teachers' Meeting.
A number of teachers of this county, met together in this city in answer to a call, sent out by Supt. C. Shibley, that all the teachers of Wasco county to be present at a meeting of teachers to be held in the superintendent's office Dec. 30, 1891. At 10 A. M. the meeting was called to order by Supt. Shibley, the object of the meeting stated, and Mr. E. W. Merrill appointed secretary. The teachers had been called together to hear the report of the committee, appointed at the last county institute, to consider the subject of a graded course for county schools. Supt. Shibley made a report on the subject, and it was decided that the committee of the subject able to be present at this meeting. The report of the committee having been received, the meeting took up the subject, and after a free discussion, a course of study was agreed upon. By a motion it was decided that the course thus prepared be recommended to the teachers and school officers of the county, and that it be published in the county papers, and also in pamphlet form, for use at the next county institute, at which time the subject should be freely discussed and if deemed advisable by that body the county superintendent be requested to adopt a graded course of study for the schools of this county. The course of study recommended by the teachers consists of eight years' work, and it is believed that it adopted by the schools many advantages would arise. The course in its entirety will be ready for publication in a few days, and it is earnestly hoped and requested by the superintendent that all the teachers and school officers of the county, examine it carefully with a view of offering any suggestions or changes that may seem best. The teachers seem to be in earnest about the matter and it is believed that a course similar to that suggested will be adopted and that in the near future become a part of our school system.

The people of Oregon are renowned for their generosity, and liberality towards all sufferers; as the following will demonstrate: "The Corvallis Leader gives a picture of the present age, one which was also presented in Albany, but not allowed to remain by our eagle eyed police: A horrible sight was to be seen on our streets a few days ago. A cripple with a badly mangled foot, which was crushed to the weather, went about on crutches, begging for aid from every one he met. Being in such a condition he picked up several dollars from sympathetic people, and then got on a circus wagon. He was put to bed by an officer, but became so brooding that he was finally put in the calaboose and kept there overnight. The next morning he left town by order of the night watchman. It is said that he was seen picking off the scabs and irritating his sore foot, no doubt for the purpose of giving it a horrible appearance that it might work on the sympathy of the people. A thief is more of a man than such a fellow as this, and he must suffer the penalties of the law, while this man is allowed to go about free, robbing the people in broad day light.

Wardner News: The Milwaukee syndicate organized for the purchase of the Morning Star, at Mullin, Idaho, has just incorporated at Milwaukee with a capital stock of $500,000, which has been fully subscribed. At a meeting of the company held December 12th, the requisite amount required by the laws of Wisconsin was actually paid in. The agreement for the transfer of the property of the Morning Star is now being drawn up, and will be signed at a meeting to be held at Wardner, on December 13th, at which time will be paid to Mr. Peter Porter, receiver, as evidence of good faith and financial ability. When this is accomplished Mr. Porter will return, in company with the purchasers, in order to have the agreement approved and sanctioned by Judge Holloman, and arrange the time and amount of the first payment and the time and security for the deferred payments.

Notice to Tax-Payers.
All persons who have not paid their school tax for 1891 will have costs added after January 1st. J. M. HENNINGTON, School Clerk, Dec. 9, 1891.

Proposed Resolutions, Yet Saved.
From a letter written by Mrs. Ada E. Hard, of Groton, S. D., we quote: "Was taken with a bad cold, which settled on my lungs, cough set in and finally terminated in consumption. Four doctors gave me up, and I was told I could not live long. I gave myself up to my Saviour, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Croup, Croup, etc. I gave it a trial, took in all eight bottles; it has cured me, and thank God I am now a well and hearty woman. Trial bottles free at Sells & Kinsley's drug store. Regular size, 50c and $1."

Leper Case.
Eugene Guard.
J. H. Babcock, the McKenzie man afflicted with leprosy, has been taken away, and we congratulate the people of Lane county, and especially those of the upper county, upon the success. He was brought here last Monday evening at 6 o'clock, then a private conveyance was hired and he was taken to Junction City, at which point he took the north-bound train for the trip to Seattle, Wash., without incident. At that city he was placed on board a small steamer and conveyed to Port Blakely, Wash., where he was taken aboard a ship, loading with lumber at that point for the Sandvick Islands. A cabin had been built on the deck of the ship previously to his arrival, where he will be confined during the trip to Honolulu. After his arrival at that place he will be taken to the government leper hospital, and confined, until the regular annual gathering of lepers takes place, when Babcock will be conveyed to Molokai, the home of those afflicted with that terrible disease—the leprosy. At that place he will die, for no person subject to the disease has ever been known to escape therefrom. Babcock was perfectly willing to be taken to that place. The vessel will sail on her outward trip on December 30th.

One of the Lost.
The Florence West says that last Wednesday afternoon, at three men, strangers, were walking up the beach from Gardiner and when about three miles this side of that place they found a man lying dead on the beach near the edge of the breakers. They drew him upon the sand out of the water, and in so doing discovered that both his arms had been broken. He was a young man, heavy built, and had a light sandy mustache. He was dressed in a sailor suit and from this and other appearances they concluded he was an officer from some boat which had gone to pieces during the last storm. About half a mile further up the beach they found a row boat which had recently come ashore, and to which were tied a pair of shoes and a tin can. It is altogether probable that the sailor and boat are both of the schooner General Butler, which was foundered off Cape Arago; her mate and four sailors have not been heard from since the storm, hence the conclusion. The body was taken to Gardiner and there interred.
