

ITEMS IN BRIEF

Mr. John Medler, of Wasco, is in the city. Cool, frosty mornings, but February is rapidly passing.

Mr. A. Williams is visiting relatives and friends in Portland. R. H. Shroy, of this city, is visiting friends in Pendleton.

The big guns for Astoria passed through the city last night on a freight train. The D. S. Baber is being thoroughly repaired, and will be in good shape for the spring trade.

We are informed that there will be no cabinet meeting of the Legislature. Some slight repairs are being made, but none of any importance.

The Dalles City, the opposition boat on the lower river, the Portland Telegram says, will be ready for the trade by the 15th of the present month.

Theater records in very busy these days taking testimony in a referee suit, and it is almost impossible for a reporter to catch his ear long enough to inquire the news.

Mr. William Stewart and Mr. James Patton, from Payette, Idaho, have five carloads of cattle in the city. They will be shipped to Portland this evening.

Friendship Lodge, No. 9, K. of P. conferred the third degree on Knight rank on four initiates last Monday evening. This lodge is in excellent financial condition, and is constantly increasing in membership.

The Knights of Pythias of this city are conducting the project of erecting a hall in the spring. There is considerable money in the treasury and the proposition is to form a joint stock company among the members.

Messrs. Condon & Condon have erected an addition to their law office, and now have very comfortable apartments. There are also placed in a room in the Webb safe, with the latest burglar-proof lock on the inner door.

The stockyards still continue crowded with business, and this morning a freight train left for Portland with twelve carloads of cattle. Eastern Oregon, with its burrhead pastures, furnishes the city with the best beef in the northwest.

Morgan is a very easy writer, and we extend to him a cordial welcome to the ranks of the fraternalists. If the weather continues for a few days spring business will open in earnest, and the warehouses and shops at the East End will do a lively trade.

New buildings are constantly being constructed at the East End, and the structures are much better than those which occupied the site before the fire.

Portland and vicinity was shaken up by an earthquake last evening. The roar and rattle of the earth-distributors was not felt at the Dalles. We rest on a rock of ages.

Mr. R. E. Saiter and Mr. Thomas Fargher are in Nebraska for several days for the purpose of purchasing horses and cattle for this market. They understand the wants of this region.

The county court of Douglas has fixed the rate of proceeding of the proceedings of the county court at one cent an inch. This is in accordance with the provisions of the act of 1917, which provided for the "official" paper is considerable.

It is reported that there will be 200,000 acres of land in the Indian reservation open for location after the Indians have been allotted their portion in severalty. Allotment agents expect to have from 100,000 to 150,000 acres of land in the reservation.

At a regular meeting of Jackson Eugene Co. No. 1 held last evening, the following officers were elected: F. W. L. Skibbe, president; Frank Roach, for-man; L. Payne, for-clerk; J. H. Smith, for-treasurer; and A. Keller, secretary, and F. Lemke, treasurer.

Capt. Ad. Keller, of A. Co. of this city, has written a very readable article on the O. N. G. for the Northwest Guardian, published at Portland. The captain has the true military spirit, and his article breathes that fervor for this branch of the service that is truly commendable.

The description of the thief and horse pointed to Leskey as the guilty party and he was arrested. The horse was sold to the one who bought it. But Leskey had disappeared from the vicinity, and was next heard from in the city of Bickleton, having bought a horse and wagon from Jim Sider, of Bickleton. Flower and John McCree, started out to capture him, finding him beyond what is now a little place they named in capturing him and took him to Bickleton. The authorities having sent word to the sheriff of Bickleton to hold the thief until his arrival. The sheriff informed the man and led him with him for Condon, Oregon, to be arraigned for horse stealing.

It Makes a Difference Whose Ox Is Gored. Hemphill, the able free-trade editor of the News and Courier, Charleston, South Carolina, is feeling more, because of a conversation with a certain manufacturer, buying a large quantity of Egyptian cotton, 40,000 bales having been shipped and sold here at 12 cents per pound, which is much cheaper than Carolina cotton, but full as good and competes with it. Mr. Hemphill thinks it is a shame for our Americans to buy so largely of cotton produced in China and the product of cheap labor. He says, that Yankess have a tariff against Canada grown corn, wool, barley and wheat, and he don't see why "we kelp can't have a tariff against Chinese and Egyptian and the products of their cheap labor." There is no doubt that the development of the immense volume of natural resources of the south for ten years to come, will make them glad supporters of home interests.

Sudden Death. Mr. John Belat, living on Government Flat near this city, died very suddenly yesterday afternoon. He had been arrested for being drunk at 4 o'clock, and died in three hours from heart failure. About five years ago he was married to Miss Elizabeth Purman, and leaves a widow and a little girl about two years old, with whom the community heartily sympathizes in their sad bereavement. Mr. Belat was a most excellent citizen, has lived in The Dalles for over ten years, and his sudden demise will be universally regretted. He will be buried under the auspices of Columbia Lodge, No. 5, I. O. O. F., of which order he was an honored member, to-morrow afternoon, at 2 o'clock.

At the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Lewis, in this city, yesterday afternoon, the Rev. J. H. Davis, pastor of the Methodist church, officiated at the wedding of Miss Cora Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Lewis, to Mr. J. H. Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Davis. The bride is a most excellent young lady, and will exemplify in the new relation of life those divine virtues which have made her a most popular and loved in all ages and climes. She has lived at The Dalles for many years, and the benedictions of her friends will follow her in all the future walks of life. For many years Mr. Davenport has very acceptably filled the position of foreman of the TIMES-TRIBUNE, and in the new relation of life he will continue to do so with the same energy and ability. The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Lewis, of this city. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Davis, of this city. The wedding was a most successful one, and all present enjoyed it very much. The bride and groom were accompanied by their parents and other relatives and friends. The reception was held at the residence of the bride's parents. The wedding was a most successful one, and all present enjoyed it very much.

The second annual ball of the Gesang Verein, held at the Casino hall, attracted a large concourse of ladies and gentlemen, and was very successful in every particular. From the first number of the programme to the last there was not a jar in the proceedings, and the music, furnished by the Gesang Verein, was very excellent. The musical numbers were very well executed. The musical numbers were very well executed. The musical numbers were very well executed.

The city of Omaha is about to begin suit against the Union Pacific company to recover property deeded to the corporation in 1863, which is now valued at $1,500,000. Part of the property in question lies along the river front, and the balance consists of lots in the wholesale business part of town. It is claimed that the railroad company has failed to live up to its agreements on that property was deeded, and that as a consequence the titles have reverted to the city. The plan of the American Water Works company occupies a part of the property, and the city is now in possession of the same. Many of the lots have been sold and are now occupied by wholesale business houses.

The Opposition Boat. WHITE SALMON, Wash., Feb. 3, '22. Editor Times-Mountaineer: We hear the question on all sides "Why are the citizens' line of boats not up?" We are very happy to know that they have been built on an account of losing money. We all know it is not on account of ice, hence it must be the latter, and if we appeal to you to inform us wherein this line of boats is one mile better than that so-called "southern corporation"—the Union Pacific.

Last winter the Union Pacific did not put up its boats because they were not paying expenses and in trying to protect their own interests. The people of The Dalles as well as those on the Washington side of the river caused them to let it. They were very happy to know that they had been built on an account of losing money. We all know it is not on account of ice, hence it must be the latter, and if we appeal to you to inform us wherein this line of boats is one mile better than that so-called "southern corporation"—the Union Pacific.

Wrecked by the Mob. VALPARAISO, Feb. 4.—The officers of Democracy at Santiago, and Opposition at Valparaiso, have been cleaned out. These two newspapers are regarded as unfriendly to the present government. The former was attacked by a mob, and short work was made of it. In the case of the latter, it is claimed that some military officers were passing the office were insulted from the windows, and then assaulted it with iron bars and clubs. The mob then entered the office, smashed the furniture, tied the type to the forms, and otherwise wrecked the office. Both papers, as well as La Zepa, were closed for several days. The chief of police here is a man named Captain Gorin, the chief of the Imperial under Balmaceda, has arrived here from Peru. He is arrested and placed on board the cruiser Errazuriz.

A Skipper's Frank. PORT TOWNSEND, Wash., Feb. 4.—A peculiar case, giving evidence of great ignorance or gross negligence, was brought to the attention of Collector Watson yesterday in a letter from Deputy Collector Berry of Tacoma. The British ship, which was towed past here to the port night before last by the tug Tye, was investigated to have come from San Francisco without having cleared from that port. The only papers the captain had to show were a general request for clearance and a third-stow list. Whether ignorance, accident or negligence be accepted as an excuse, the vessel will in all probability be seized and have a heavy fine imposed. The best office here has written Tacoma for more explicit information on the subject, and will advise the collector of the result. Watson will decide on what action he will take.

Defamation of Character. SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 4.—A suit for $25,000 damages for defamation of character was watched today by Dr. J. E. Pfout against Thomas Harrison Dempsey, formerly one of the proprietors of the Evening Times. Plaintiff alleged that Dempsey told one Miss Carrie Shears that in his business, Dempsey denies having persecuted Mrs. Shears to attempt to cow-ardize her into giving him a large sum of money. Plaintiff said he tried to dissuade her, but she insisted on going to the city and suing him. Plaintiff said he was informed that Pfout had slandered her. He also accused Pfout of hiring a man to do him up, and says a man one evening sprang from the brush with that intention, but was scared off by a revolver. He says that Pfout is seeking to get even because last summer at his house on Lake Washington he and his brother-in-law thrashed Pfout for insulting Mrs. Dempsey.

Death of a Pioneer. SAN DIEGO, Calif., Feb. 4.—John Stewart, said to be the oldest living white pioneer of this South, died in San Diego at his home in Old Town, aged 81 years. Stewart was one of the shipmates of Richard Henry Dana, and is frequently mentioned by that author in his "Two Years with the Indians at the Mouth of the Colorado" as pilot of the ship Alert in 1830, and has never left the city since that time. He was a member of the San Diego Historical Society. He was a member of the San Diego Historical Society. He was a member of the San Diego Historical Society.

Mad Heart of Monoc. ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 2.—Count Tolstoi said that the grain now in Russia will not last until spring, and that it will be necessary to import grain from America. He is unwilling to inform the government of their stocks, as they wish to retain all they can for higher prices. This has caused some uneasiness among the people. Transfer House. Monday he expressed the intention of going to Pasco to work on the canal there, but bought a new suit on the day of the transfer. He was last seen leaving the hotel at train time by Clerk Moore. Smith did not appear to be intoxicated, but had bought a bottle of whisky, the shattered remnants of which were afterward found on the table in the room. He had been making his headquarters at the transfer house on Sunday night, but no news was received here until yesterday. Silas Parton, a cousin to Manuel Parton, who was killed, and who was with him at the time, brought the news here. The Partons, who had kept a close watch on Turner, thought they saw an opportunity to catch the outlaw when his men were away from the house, so four of the Parton crowd made a sudden swoop on the rendezvous. They caught Turner and sharp asleep in the cabin, as they had anticipated, and made them prisoners. Turner, however, made a dash for it, and was seen to escape a number of his men, who were in a cabin a short distance away. The Partons, seeing they were outnumbered, fled. A number of shots were exchanged, and George Sharp was killed. No further news has been taken to organize a posse of officers here to capture Berry Turner, since it has been learned that the seat of the trouble is in Tennessee and not in Kentucky.

The only papers the captain had to show were a general request for clearance and a third-stow list. Whether ignorance, accident or negligence be accepted as an excuse, the vessel will in all probability be seized and have a heavy fine imposed. The best office here has written Tacoma for more explicit information on the subject, and will advise the collector of the result. Watson will decide on what action he will take.

Defamation of Character. SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 4.—A suit for $25,000 damages for defamation of character was watched today by Dr. J. E. Pfout against Thomas Harrison Dempsey, formerly one of the proprietors of the Evening Times. Plaintiff alleged that Dempsey told one Miss Carrie Shears that in his business, Dempsey denies having persecuted Mrs. Shears to attempt to cow-ardize her into giving him a large sum of money. Plaintiff said he tried to dissuade her, but she insisted on going to the city and suing him. Plaintiff said he was informed that Pfout had slandered her. He also accused Pfout of hiring a man to do him up, and says a man one evening sprang from the brush with that intention, but was scared off by a revolver. He says that Pfout is seeking to get even because last summer at his house on Lake Washington he and his brother-in-law thrashed Pfout for insulting Mrs. Dempsey.

Death of a Pioneer. SAN DIEGO, Calif., Feb. 4.—John Stewart, said to be the oldest living white pioneer of this South, died in San Diego at his home in Old Town, aged 81 years. Stewart was one of the shipmates of Richard Henry Dana, and is frequently mentioned by that author in his "Two Years with the Indians at the Mouth of the Colorado" as pilot of the ship Alert in 1830, and has never left the city since that time. He was a member of the San Diego Historical Society. He was a member of the San Diego Historical Society. He was a member of the San Diego Historical Society.

Mad Heart of Monoc. ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 2.—Count Tolstoi said that the grain now in Russia will not last until spring, and that it will be necessary to import grain from America. He is unwilling to inform the government of their stocks, as they wish to retain all they can for higher prices. This has caused some uneasiness among the people.
