EDITORIAL NOTES.

Henry Watterson says that Cleveland should not receive the presidential nomination because he cannot carry New York, and that Hill should not receive it because he could carry no state but New York. Henry is about right, sometimes, but it does not appear that his favorite, Carlisle, stands a much better show than the two worthies above mentioned. If the Democrats really want to elect some one, why not nominate Henry himself.

The result of the MoKinley act stimulated trade, a fact which the London Times admits. The trade of 1891 was $1,729,330,896 as against $1,647,-139,093 for 1890, an increase of over $82,000,000. Democracy prophesied that the revenue would be wonderfully and unjustly increased. They are not honest enough to acknowledge that though the trade with foreign countries has increased as above, the revenue has decreased.

The Yambill Reporter well says: It now transpires that the river and harbor bill reported by the Democratic house committee is considerable larger than that of the billion dollar congress with the band wagon, but in this instance it deserves commendation for Frank Menefer, freight and cartage. keeping in sight of the procession. It has grasped the idea of a billion dollar country sooner than anybody expected it to.

Because Harrison did not involve J Hawthorn, " " .. this country in war with Great Britain, the Democrats are attempting to J L Morgan, " make capital by calling his administration a "jingo" one. If he had taken any hasty action, his enemies would have condemned him, and because he didn't they blame him. So it is one of those instances where it is impossible to pursue an acceptable policy. The Democratic party is determined to oppose every act of the present administration, whether good is again in our midst, He expects to puror bad, and it makes little difference | chase and drive out of this county about what is done it will be antagonized.

The choice of the Democracy for president appears to be Grover Clevenational convention as the standard bearer of the party is difficult to determine. Political bosses and political methods will be the ruling feature and the person whom they consider the best lamb crops is not figured in the above stateto suit their purposes will receive the nomination.
