

EDITORIAL NOTES. The promptness manifested by Gov. Penney in ordering the National Guard to support the sheriff of Malheur county in the execution of the law is very commendable, and his action will be endorsed by all good citizens.

It may be interesting to know that seven candidates on the state ticket were appointees of Gov. Moody during his incumbency of the executive chair. This is strong commendation of his judgment and evidence that "Moody men" are not so bad after all.

At this stage of work very little effective work can be done on the locks at the Cascades; but it is to be hoped that the present congress will pass the River and Harbor bill by the time the river has reached a low stage. It may be true that the electoral vote of Oregon is not attractive to the Democrats in the lower house, but the importance of a liberal appropriation for improvements in the Columbia river is a matter of the most vital interest to the northwest, and we hope the Democrats in congress will legislate, in this instance, for the people.

Republicans have a bare 2000 plurality in Rhode Island with the support of the entire national Republican committee and the administration. The state is emphatically in the doubtful list. Albany Democrat. In 1890 Rhode Island gave a Democratic majority, and a few days ago, notwithstanding the fact that the Springer free-wool and protected manufacturers bill was introduced and passed by the Democratic party, gave a Republican plurality. Still the state is considered doubtful by our esteemed cotemporary. We wish all were in the same doubtful class.

A Democratic exchange says the McKinley bill, with its protection to wool-growers, lowered the price of the product in the United States. We presume it will soon be claimed that the McKinley bill caused dull times in Oregon during the past year. If a duty of 13 cents per pound caused more wool to be shipped to Boston from South America and Australia and lowered the price of the home staple, then, according to Democratic logic, it would be an advantage to the "overtaxed poor" to double the duty and thus decrease the price of woolen goods to American citizens. Such arguments contradict themselves and need no refutation.

The Portland Dispatch, a Democratic exchange, says: "Mr. Ellis was not the choice of a majority of Eastern Oregon, but the Malheur losses settled the matter. A man selected by the ring vote must be pretty satisfactory to the bosses. He can hardly be said to be the Eastern Oregon candidate. He has the ring on him." This is erroneous in every particular, and clearly demonstrates the fact that the Dispatch has not watched the drift of political opinion in the Inland Empire for the past few years. Two years ago the TIMES-MOUNTAINEER mentioned the name of Hon. W. R. Ellis as a very eligible candidate for congress, and during the last few months no name received so many favorable comments. Mr. Ellis is absolutely free from the Portland ring, and an open river has a firm and steadfast ring in him.

The principles of protection apply to communities as well as to nations, and the corner-stone of the doctrine is, keep all the money possible at home. If this had been followed in The Dalles during the past few years business would have been on a much better basis than it is now, and not nearly so many complaints about "hard times" would be heard. In this vicinity as good fruits are raised as anywhere on the Pacific coast, and a fruit canner would be a paying investment. The city handles more wool direct from the producer than any point in the United States, and there is every inducement for a woolen factory. Besides these there are other natural resources which only need development to be great factors of wealth and prosperity, and, instead of doing every conceivable thing to give supremacy to a faction, if business men would work in harmony for the establishment of manufacturing industries there would be some inducement to home-seekers to come here. Until this fratricidal war ceases the town will constantly decline, and the most desirable accessions to our population will settle elsewhere. Protection is a grand, good thing for the country, and we need a great deal more of it at home.

Basel Mill. Fossil, Oregon, April 11, 1922. Much interest centered in the above game, which was played at Fossil on Tuesday last, April 10th, owing to the fact that Antelope had two weeks before administered the first drubbing that the club had ever received to the Fossil since. Prior to the first game the Fossil players had not practiced any, while Antelope who sent the challenge had, on this occasion the Fossil players felt confident of reversing the order of things and Antelope felt equally confident of scoring another win, and thus gaining the championship by putting off two of the three games arranged for. Both sides were strongly backed by their favorites, and as near as can be ascertained $1000 was up on the game. It may interest some to know that Fossil has played ten match games since the club was organized and won nine of them. Teams: Fossil—Willie Hoover, pitcher; Geo. Ross, catcher; Jas. Stewart, short stop; H. Stokes, 1st base; F. Howell, 2nd base; C. D. Barard, 3rd base; Mike Luker, r. field; Dr. Goddard, c. field; Ed. Lupton, l. field. Antelope—Grant Mays, pitcher; D. Dawson, catcher; W. Silvertooth, s. s.; B. Rogers, 1st b.; W. Gleason, 2nd b.; Johnny Malone, 3rd b.; N. Burgess, r. f.; F. Wallace, c. f.; Chancy Clark, l. f. Rain had fallen early for two weeks and all forenoon of the day on which the game was played, but made no impression on the hard-packed sandy ground, which was in the pink of condition. The evening before the game Pitzer Parker, the Fossil captain, was taken down with a gripe and the Fossil boys tried to postpone the game for a day, giving the rain as their reason, but really hoping that the weather would be sufficiently recovered to enable him to play. However, Antelope forced them out, and the game commenced at 3 P. M., the rain having nearly stopped by that time. Grant Mays started the game by striking Antelope's pitcher Hoover with a line drive, which was probably a little excited, out; two of them, however, reaching the catcher's ears, succeeded in reaching first and then home. Fossil went out on the first inning with three tallies to their credit. Antelope went in and were whitewashed, and it was plainly seen the second inning began that the strangers were not in it, they having put up money on them commencing to tremble. The game was but a repetition of the first inning, the home men having a complete walk over. The Fossil boys knocked Pitzer Mays all over the field, and compiled a score of 42 for eight innings. The Antelope players knocked Pitzer Hoover's balls much, but he was throwing for flies, and got them, too; it was, indeed, a treat to see the boys gathering them in. A magnificent fly knocked by Grant Mays was beautifully taken by Ed. Tippley after a run of thirty yards, for which Ed. received quite an ovation. Ed. also acquitted himself well at the bat, scoring nine tallies, the highest made. Antelope made a grand total of seven for three innings, three of which they were whitewashed. They left the ground a pretty badly beaten lot of players, but they say they are still in the ring, and are resolved to make a much better showing in the third game, which will come off about the middle of this summer, on Monday night, at the home of Senator Hilton's ranch, about midway between Fossil and Antelope. The Fossil club is undoubtedly the better team, and unless Antelope rustles around and secures a number of good players from outside sources to supplement those of their present line, the third game will be very similar to that played on last Tuesday. Undoubtedly we have a smart set of players in Fossil, and are not a little proud of them, and the boys know it; physically they are probably as good as any nine in Oregon, averaging, as they do, 180 pounds. With one or two exceptions, the nine is the same that beat Baker City and La Grande at The Dalles last year, and by hard practice has much improved since then. A. B. Lamb, of Fossil, umpired the game to the satisfaction of all.
