

ITEMS IN BRIEF

From Wednesday's Daily:
A light frost covered the ground this morning.
A clear, bright, sunny day, and every person is happy.
Mr. W. M. Hays of Hood River is in the city visiting the fair.
Mrs. T. G. Gordon is visiting friends and relatives in the city.
Circuit court will convene at Prineville for Crook county next Monday.
We are glad to see Judge Thorsby who is to be around in a buggy these five days.
Fallen leaves cover the sidewalk in places, and these should be removed immediately.
There are a large number of visitors in the city, and a large attendance at the fair may be expected.
What is the matter with the Pendleton Tribune that it credits its Hepper text to the Long Creek Eagle?
Pupils in the public schools are rehearsing exercises for the proper celebration of Columbus Day, October 12.
Spray Bros. of Hepper, shipped six carloads of cattle to Puget sound yesterday.
Mr. John Irvine will sell a lot of fine horses at the stockyards on Saturday, the sale beginning at 1 o'clock in the afternoon.
Hon.berger Herman may be expected in The Dalles in a few days, and will address the citizens on the political issues of the day.
The routes' gallery at the sheriff's office furnishes a variety of photographs. Some are fair looking, good looking and others are not in any manner attractive.
Hogs continue to pour in, notwithstanding the fact that few sales are made in Portland; but the local market is being built up by the hogs offered for sale.
Mr. Lorton, of Long Valley, Idaho, fed one carload of cattle at the stockyards a few days ago.
Mrs. J. E. Hays, of Prineville, is in the city, and was in prime condition.
Yesterday the races were not such as would be expected where only thoroughbreds were entered; but they furnished considerable entertainment and amusement for those in attendance.
Mr. A. McIntosh, who has been ranging his sheep on the mountains at the head of Mill creek during the summer months, is now engaged in driving them to the Tygh ridge, where he will winter them.
The stockyards of R. E. Saltmarsh & Co. have been shipping beef cattle to the Puget Sound Dressed Meat Company during the week, and not a day has elapsed that the employees have not been busily engaged.
Some young men in Pendleton answered the matrimonial advertisement of a woman in Illinois, and the matrimonial union has journeyed across the continent to the Puget Sound.
Yesterday, while the moisture lay upon the ground and the birds were warbling their sweet songs, Wm. Nelson marched into the clerk's office and declared his intention of becoming a citizen of the United States, and renouncing his allegiance to the King of Norway and Sweden.
Baker Democrat: Mr. Grimes, the Portland cattle buyer, shipped an entire train load of cattle, consisting of 13 cars to the metropolis. The heaves were from the upper tier of the stockyards, and the cattle from the former range were larger and fatter and showed off to a much better advantage.
Lots 7, 8 and 9 in block 27, Gates addition, were sold yesterday to A. Bettiggen, sr., for $225; lot 10, block 27, to A. Bettiggen, jr., for $225; lot 11, block 27, to A. Bettiggen, jr., for $225; lot 12, block 27, to A. Bettiggen, jr., for $225.
Mr. N. W. Bley returned from his sheep ranch near Antelope yesterday. He gathered his herd and drove them to winter quarters. Bountiful rains fell in that vicinity, and grass is growing nicely.
Mr. Phil Brown, jr., arrived in the city this morning, from Ireland, bringing with him Mrs. W. H. Brown, who was married while absent. He is glad to return to Oregon, and has seen no place that has so many friends as his home here. Mr. and Mrs. Brown, after visiting friends a few days in this city, will return to the sheep ranch near Antelope.
A frightened team of horses in coming down Court street this morning made things lively for a time; but a crowd of light poles, and were forced to come to a sudden halt. The frightened team was attached contained a man, his wife and family; but no one was injured, although the woman and children were badly scared.
Mr. J. P. Moore, of Townsend, Mont., arrived in the city a few days ago and went out to Antelope to examine the Merino sheep into that state, and their reputation is such that induced Mr. Moore to come down this morning to see the same breed into the new state. Wasco county's cattle, sheep and horses are well known over the Northwest and this is the result of improving our breeds.
Moody's warehouses are crowded with wheat, and still a long line of wagons are waiting almost every day for a load to be unloaded. No one can doubt the fact that Wasco is a grain producing country, and first quality wheat is the staple of the city any day in the week. We managed to get the car of Mr. W. H. Moody for a minute or so, but the car was expected the same "rush" for many weeks to come. Prices have appreciated, and for first quality wheat the quotation today is 82 cents a bushel.
Mr. R. Sigman has a fine lot of horses in the city. They are at present at Robinson's stable, on second street, and are being shown in the afternoon at the fair grounds. These consist of a Shire stallion, the sire of several colts, and an animal of almost perfect proportions and of splendid action; two colts, foaled last March, one from a Clydesdale mare and the other from a Percheron mare, and the Shire horse as sire, and the largest and best developed foal of the age of any I have ever seen. He has also a yearling which touches the beam at 1180 pounds, and two year-old fillies which weigh 1100 and 1190 pounds and 1380 pounds. This band of horses comprises as fine animals as can be seen anywhere, and cannot be excelled in any county in the state.
From Friday's Daily:
The sidewalks were white with frost this morning.
District Attorney Wilson arrived home from Eugene on the noon train.
Master Willie Croson is quite sick at the residence of his father in this city.
Mr. J. A. Anderson, of Dufer, the celebrated "Kano" correspondent of the Times-Mountaineer, is in the city.
The rain last night extended all over the county, and farmers are well satisfied with the present favorable conditions.
The second crop of strawberries are in the market, and they are of very excellent flavor. Who would not live in Eastern Oregon?
Misses Ursula and Iona Koch, who have been visiting the Portland exposition for the past few days, returned on the evening boat.
The congregational church is being carpentered and seated today, and Sunday morning next will be dedicated with becoming ceremonies.
Ex-Gov. Moody, accompanied by his daughter, Miss Edna, and Mrs. Ralph Moody, arrived in the city yesterday morning from Salem.
One unscrupulous individual was taken to the city jail this morning by the marshal. He was somewhat obnoxious, and he was much more docile after being booked.
August Tunelson, of Cascade Locks, filed a mining notice in the clerk's office on the 13th, locating a coal vein south of the Union Pacific railroad and the trestle bridge at the Locks.
Mr. Joe MacEachern, formerly in Portland, is in the city, and now residing in the city, was in the city yesterday. He was on route to Prineville, and left on the morning stage.
The funeral of Mr. Bernhard E. Vogt was largely attended yesterday morning by mourning relatives and friends. Mr. Vogt had a bright future before him, and it is a matter of the deepest regret that he should be cut down in the morning of his life.
Mrs. Victoria Mespelle left at the office yesterday morning for the city of Prineville, Oregon, where she has a farm on Mill creek. These are excellent in quality and very large in size.
Mr. Louis Borchard, a subject of Emperor William, declared his intention Tuesday of becoming a citizen of the great republic of the United States, and so stated under oath before the county clerk.
There was a meeting of the council Tuesday evening, when the principal business was the determination of the sale of the city lots, and accepting the purchase of the property of Mr. Phillips for $2000.
Deputy U. S. Marshal James arrested one John H. Edwards, who, whose name we did not learn, yesterday for selling liquor to Indians. He was examined the same day before Commissioner Washington.
Mr. Wm. Glasius, the janitor of the public schools, has a crazy quilt on exhibition at the pavilion which he made himself. He has also a quilt made of several inches of such work may be deemed a really art.
It could be truthfully said that the neaves were opened last night, and sufficient rain fell to saturate the ground, and such such work may be deemed a really art.
The frame work of Dr. Rinehart's new dwelling house on the bluff at the head of the city was raised last night. The house, when completed, will be a very handsome building, and will command the best view of the city.
Mr. C. L. Phillips, and being accompanied by the business will improve the city and manufacture as good soda, ammonia, etc., as can be procured in any city on the coast.
The Homes Business College, of Portland, Oregon, is now a day and night school, so parents who send their sons and daughters away to a business school can feel that they are being educated by a school where the students are under the influence of a young man, and woman as well, should have a business education. It is then to do business for themselves, and a good book-keeper or stenographer can always find employment.
Send for catalogue of the Holmes Business College.
Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Benton will receive the congratulatory committee on the occasion of the new relation in life. The bride, Mrs. M. Benton, is a daughter of the late Capt. D. C. Deming, and is a young lady of very estimable qualities. Mr. Benton, the groom, is a member of the firm of Master & Benton of this city, and has a large number of friends in The Dalles. The kindest wishes of the community will attend the young people in the voyage of life.
Mr. Steen Show, in his new stand, adjoining the First National bank, has a very full and complete stock of watches, jewelry, etc., and is better prepared than ever to attend to the wants and wishes of his customers. He has added to his stock all the latest novelties in finger rings, charms and brooches, and a better selection cannot be seen anywhere in The Dalles.
Mr. Show still maintains his prestige as a watch-repairer, and all work entrusted to him will receive prompt attention.
From a letter received from one of the editors who was in attendance at the association, we quote the following: "All speak in glowing terms of the treatment received at the hands of your citizens, and certainly great good will be derived from the exposition. The drive over the hills was a proper thing, as it was a surprise to many to see what great things that hill would produce. Although I know the county well, it was a surprise to me. Your citizens are deserving great credit on account of the interest taken in the association. Long may we remember the annual meeting at The Dalles."
The body of a man was found on the shore of the upper tier of the stockyards yesterday afternoon, and the coroner in this city was notified of the fact. He went down to the body this morning, and the man was absolutely dead, and there was no clothing or papers near him by which he could be identified. It was evident that he had been dead several days, and had either committed suicide or been murdered while bathing. He appeared to be about middle aged; but the remains were so decomposed that his age could not be ascertained. The coroner brought the body back with him and buried it in the city cemetery.
Miss Lang and her mother, in driving from the fair grounds in a buggy about 1 o'clock this afternoon, had a misfortune of having one of the front wheels knocked off by a cow who had been running from the animal being frightened; but Miss Lang retained her hold of the reins until the buggy was stopped, and she was rendered unconscious by being dragged on the ground. On being released the horse ran to the stable taking the wheel with him and leaving the hind wheels some distance behind. Fortunately the ladies were not seriously injured; but Miss Lang had not exhibited remarkable coolness and bravery it might have resulted otherwise.
Coming to The Dalles.
One or more surgeons of National Surgical Institute, No. 318, Bush Street, S. F., will be at the Ullrich Hotel, The Dalles, Oct. 17th. One day only. This institute is specially devoted to the treatment of curvature of the spine, diseases of the hip and knee joint, crooked limbs, club feet and all bodily deformities. Their success in treating these troubles as well as nasal catarrh and other diseases has made for the institute a national reputation.
All persons who are suffering from any of these complaints should come to take advantage of this opportunity for relief. Ask your postmaster for particulars.

Letters Adversised.
The following is the list of letters remaining in The Dalles postoffice unclaimed for Saturday, Oct. 14, 1892. Persons called for these letters will please give the date on which they were advertised:
Abbott, John Fitzgerald, Patrick Hansen, Mr. Meyer, H. S. Kelsey, Bertha Kozar, H. E. Lansen, Oliver Ledford, Cora Leebing, N. Lette Miller, W. H. Moore, Eugene Perkins, Martha Scott, William Stener, J. A. Stuer, J. A. Vaughn, Or. M. T. Nolan, P. M. 1314.
Waldensky's Boxes.
Not having published a paper Thursday we give the result of Wednesday's races:
First race, half mile and repeat. Entries: Little Joe, S. Bennett; Frank Hastings, J. F. Melny; Fennerty; H. G. Green. Won by Little Joe in two straight heats—523, 538.
Second race, gentlemen's roadsters, best 3 in 5. Entries: Here, H. H. Hinton; Buckskin Joe, D. Maloney; Polly, E. J. Jacobson; Nellie, J. S. Schooling; Fet, M. A. Moody. Here won first heat 1:38. The second, third and fourth in 1:32; 1:31, 1:31.

THE FAIR.

In a walk through the fair grounds today a marked improvement was discernible in the exhibit of cattle, and display of fruit, vegetables, etc., in the pavilion.
There are several fine pigs, of which a pair Coeser own, owned by E. L. Boynton is of especial mention; also some Berkshire, owned by Belver, by Mr. Sharp.
Mr. Boynton, of Kingsley, has the only Brown Lehigh fowls on exhibition.
In the horse stalls are Montford, 7 years old, owned by R. Kelly.
Verney—4 years old, imported Percheron, E. L. Boynton.
Butcher Boy, 4 years old, 2 Percheron, E. L. Boynton.
Jim Blaine—2 years old, graded Percheron, B. Dovers.
Lord Hawk, Jr., B. Southwell.
Prince, yearling, J. D. Whitten.
Team grey geldings, J. D. Whitten.
Mare and colt—five months old, J. Hays.
Three colts—2 years old, Patrick Bolton.
Belltonder—3 years old, J. Hays.
These animals are excellent in every regard, and are worthy of exhibition at any fair held in the state.
Adjoining the horse stalls are stalls in which are kept different breeds of cattle. There is a lot of Devon cattle—exhibitor not known.
A Jersey cow, which shows all the peculiarities of that breed.
Shorthorn Durham cattle appear well, and display all the excellent points of that breed.
A Pure Shorthorn Durham bull shows to good advantage, owned by Mr. Guthrie, of Kingsley.
In the pavilion there are several additions to those noted yesterday.
Fashion and Hybrid race work in farms are very interesting to examine.
A fine display of vegetables from farms on Mill creek are very creditable.
Mr. H. Chrusman has a model dryer, on which we understand he has a patent. It operates very easily, and is said to do its work better than any other model dryer.
A great variety of jellies are also on the tables today, and these are clear and compact.
The races this afternoon were quite interesting, but were too late for insertion in this issue.
From Friday's Daily:
Yesterday was a red-letter one for the District Agricultural Society, and during the afternoon all business houses were closed and young and old repaired to the grounds. The day promised to be a bright and cheerful one, and this indeed may be made it one of recreation and enjoyment; but the success of the elements are not subservient to human desires.
Soon after noon the roads leading to the grounds showed a degree of activity rarely witnessed, and carriages and vehicles of all kinds were depositing their loads of human beings at the entrance of the enclosure. The cattle stalls were very attractive to those interested in the improvement of those and other domestic animals, and these afforded many fine specimens. That is in the history of Wasco has passed when the fair has been the most successful in our low grade of cattle, and now as fine Percheron, Shire, Clydesdale and Knox Breeds, R. dham, Jersey, Black Galloway and Devon horned cattle, Merino, Cotswold and Southdown sheep, Essex and Berkshire pigs can be seen. Bookbinders may desire. This has all been accomplished in the past few years by careful breeding, and the practical lesson has been learned by our farmers that the best grades furnish the largest returns.
The pavilion, as usual, was densely crowded with men, women and children passing through the aisles admiring the different exhibits. It was nothing saying that the fruit were excellent, for Wasco county is well known over the state in this regard. The floral display, needlework, collecting of oil paintings, water colors, crayon drawings, pen and ink sketches, and photographs received several encomiums.
The different committees were busily engaged in awarding premiums, and Miss Lang and Mr. MacLain in recording these in the different books kept for the purpose. We copied several of these, but at the request of the president and secretary of the association we withheld the publication until they are officially announced.
Although the sky had become darkened by clouds, and a few drops had begun to fall, the interest of the attendees was to the grand stand to witness the races. The band had arrived, and the people were enraptured by several well executed tunes.
The first race was three-eighths of a mile and repeat. Entries: Frank Hastings and Rockland Boy. First heat was won by Rockland Boy in 38; second and third by Frank Hastings in 34 and 41.
The second was a trotting race for three minutes horses, best three in five. Entries: Polly, E. Jacobson; John L. Chas. Walker; Nellie, J. S. Schooling. The first heat was taken by Polly in 3:31; second by John L. in 3:31. The remaining heats were postponed until today.
About 4 in the afternoon the rain began to fall in soft showers, and every one was desirous of seeking shelter, especially the women and children. If it had not been for the weather yesterday would have been the most successful one of any day of the fair; but the rain stopped the races, and forced the large concourse of people to retire to their homes. At any rate, the citizens of The Dalles are satisfied that the management is doing everything possible to make these fairs successful, and feel very much encouraged at the interest taken this season by our people.
PRESENT WOOL TARIFF.
THE DALLES, Oct. 13, 1892.
By your courtesy, I offer to your readers interested in wool raising the difference there is today between the market value of the average quality of Oregon wool in eastern Oregon, and that of the same quality of a similar blood and quality, such as is produced in Buenos Ayers, New Zealand, Australia, Cape of Good Hope, Russia, Canada or elsewhere, of mixed Merino blood that will produce a similar class of marketable goods, as our own wool.
My object in doing this, and in inserting truthful statements, is that Eastern Oregon shepherds may know the exact difference between the value of their wool under the McKinley tariff and like wool of foreign countries that grow in Boston, New York or Philadelphia under free trade. The statement offered supposes transportation charges to be the same under protection as under free trade.
The McKinley tariff schedule K, class 1, embraces like foreign wool as it has heretofore named, as well as goat and camel's hair of first-class quality, and places thereon on a duty of 11 cents per pound on arrival in the United States. All wool of like second class must pay a duty of 12 cents per pound; wool and camel's hair of third class, the value of which shall be over 13 cents per pound, including all charges, pay 32 per cent. ad valorem. Wool and camel's hair of the third class, the value whereof exceeds 13 cents per pound, including all charges shall pay 50 per cent. ad valorem. Wool on the skin shall pay the same rate as other like wool.
The average price realized for Eastern Oregon wool, in the present, in this city this year, has been 15 1/2 cents per pound. Fine sheep, grown upon well-bred blood and kept upon a continuous north-

Look Like Evans and Sontag.

Guamas, Mex., Oct. 13.—News of the transactions of Evans and Sontag, the California train robbers, has reached Guaymas, and copies of the San Francisco papers received here containing accounts are being eagerly perused from all quarters. Two strangers, resembling the printed descriptions of Evans and Sontag, have been seen here by a number of persons, including United States Vice Consul Hale, during the past week. On observing that their movements were being watched, the two men disappeared and are believed to have taken passage on the steamer Korrigan for Santa Rosalia, Lower California.
Specimen Cases.
St. H. Clifford, New Cassel, Wis., was troubled with neuralgia and rheumatism, his stomach was disordered, his liver was affected to an alarming degree, appetite fell away, and he was literally reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured him.
Edward Shepherd, Harrisburg, Ill., had a running sore on his leg of eight years' standing. He used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Buckle's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well.
John Spicker, Catawba, Ohio, had five large liver sores on his leg, doctors said he was incurable. One bottle Electric Bitters cured him. Box Buckle's Arnica Salve cured him entirely. Sold at Squires & Kinserly's drug store.
Boys' and Girls' Aid Society of Oregon.
Boys may be had (and sometimes girls) for—(1) ordinary service at wages; (2) upon indentures, to work, attend school, and be brought up somewhat as your own;—(3) children may be had for legal adoption.
First is a lot of Devon cattle—exhibitor not known.
A Jersey cow, which shows all the peculiarities of that breed.
Shorthorn Durham cattle appear well, and display all the excellent points of that breed.

NEVER GO BACK ON BEN. BOYS.
BY "VOLUNTEER."
Comrades, remember the days of defeat, When our hearts were broken and our hands hung. Did you ever know of a cheering word, That fell from Cleveland's tongue?
Not a word of cheer for the brave boys, But a sneer for the gallant and true; They never go back Ben, boys, They never went back on you.
Choose your man a hero in war, Or the head of the sabre and star, Or scold you a man who watched from afar At your fellow your battle-won.
Then let him slide in November, boys, His copperhead partner too, But never go back Ben, boys, He never went back on you.
Can you vote for the man that voted your claims? Held out your crippled and old, Held out your battle-won fame, And turned you out in the cold.
No, vote for the man that honored you, boys, Leader and comrade true; They never go back Ben, boys, He never went back on you.
CASCADA LOCKS, Oct. 12, 1892.
Death of Mrs. Powell.
Mrs. Leta Powell, who had been sick with typhoid fever for several days, died this morning. The history of this case furnishes a chapter of accidents rarely met with in real life. Some months since, in driving from Dufer to her home she was thrown from the cart in which she was riding and suffered serious injury. At that time her life was despaired of, by reason of the being an accident. She so far recovered as to walk by the aid of crutches, when she contracted a severe type of typhoid fever, and soon afterwards suffered a premature birth. The infant lived but a few hours, and the mother tended to aggravate the disease. She patiently bore her sufferings until this morning, when she passed to the silent shore. Mrs. Powell was a most exemplary Christian woman, a loving and devoted wife, and an affectionate mother. In their sad bereavement the husband and children will receive the heartfelt sympathy of the entire community.
Presidential Electors.
The following is the list of candidates for presidential electors to be voted for Nov. 8th, and which has been furnished the different county clerks:
Republican—John F. Caples, Multnomah; David M. Dunn, Multnomah; George M. Irvine, Union; H. F. Miller, Jefferson.
Democrat—W. F. Butcher, Baker; Wm. M. Colvig, Jackson; R. A. Miller, Jackson; Geo. Nolan, Clatsop.
Populist—J. G. Burleigh, Wallaw; W. H. Galvani, Washington; S. E. Holt, Jackson; Nathan Pierce, Umatilla.
Prohibition—George W. Black, Jackson; Norton R. Gayland, Lane; W. Lucas, Polk; Gilman Parker, Clackamas.
