FRANSACTS A REGULAR BANKING BUSINESS SALEM, Oct. 21-The jury this morn ng returned a verdict finding John H. Dove not guilty of the crime of burning the steamer R. C. Young for the purpose of defrauding insurance companies. This verdict was given on a point of jurisdiction, it not having been e-tablished that the vessel was burned in Marion county It was fired on the Polk county side, and Captain Dove and two others were tried here for the crime under a code which says that where a river is the boundary line of a jurisdiction, either county extends for a mile toward the opposite shore. This seems to be in opposition to the constitution, and the case raises an important point. Dove once made confession of his guilt, and one man, indicted for the same crime, goes to prison for three years, and a third is yet to be tried. The arrest of these men was ac-complished by Detective McCarthy in the interest of the insurance companies.

Glacier: Captain Coe purchased a dozen valley quail at Portland last week for the Rod and Gun club. They will be taken care of by Mr. R. Pealer this winter and turned loose on his place next spring. It is to be hoped that they will be let slone until they have become plentiful. The club expects to procure some Chinese pheasants during the winter, and, if possible, will Fossil Journal: The Lost Valley races came off Monday and Tuesday as advertised, were no rackets—only two fist lights; and no whiskey was allowed on the ground—but was very plentiful in the granary. Owing to the number of ladies present—eight the first night and six the second the dances did not pan out very well.

There were not many thoroughbreds seen on the race track, and we understand Andy
Leslie's old sorrel cleaned out the field.
