The potato yield of this country is estimated at from 225,000,000 to 230,000,000 bushels, the largest crop ever gathered. The average has been nearly 94 bushe's per acre against 57½ bushels last year. In some states the average ran up to 120 and 125 bushels.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Erskine, of Erskine-ville, are in the city to-day. Mr. Erskine has resided on his farm for twelve years, and during this recreation he took a trip down the river to Portland yesterday for the first time. He is perfectly charmed with the access on the river. with the scenery on the river. From Sherman county the prospects of a good crop is very encouraging. Sum-mer fallowed grain is above ground, and mer fallowed grain is above ground, and the moisture that has fallen has given it a good growth. Without something un-precedented happens, that country will yield abundantly next season. Mr. John Obrist, who lives about twelve

Arrested For Grand Larceny.

W. W Enion-Journal. Late Monday afternoon Deputy Sheriff ohn Smails arrested John B. Wallace, agent of the Hastie Lumber company of Puvallup, on a warrant charging him with the crime of grand larceny.

About the first of May, 1892, Wallace purchased $500 worth of lumber from the Hastie Lumber company and started a lumber yard in this city on the vacant lot, corner North Fourth and Oak streets His venture proved very successful, when agent here. The company supplied Walace with several carloads of lumber and nade arrangements through a bank in Puyallup whereby he could draw upon them for money to settle the freight bills on the lumber shipped to Walla Walla Wallace soon built up a good business and the company continued to supply him with lumber, but during this time Wallace failed to send any money to the company. This state of affairs continued un til several weeks ago, when the lumber company suspicioned that Wallace's manner of conducting business was not altogether right. The bank of Puyallup then sent an agent to this city to investigate the matter. He arrived here several days ago and called upon Wallace and informed the gentleman as to his business Wallace turned the books over to the agent, who made a thorough examination. He found that Wallace had disposed of about $2200 worth of lumber, but his bank books failed to show what disposition had been made of the money. It was also discovered that since the 1st of August no record whatever had been made of the lumber that had been sold up to the time the books were turned over to the agent of the bank. These facts were made known to the company and also to Wallace, and when the latter was confronted with them he was unable to explain what he had done with the money, with the exception of about $600, which had been paid to men employed in the yard to handle the lumber. This left a balance of $1600 due the company. When the facts of the case were made known to the company, they offered to compromise with Wallace by taking a mortgage on some land owned by him on the Sound, but he was not inclined to do so. Mr. John Hastie, of the company, arrived in the city Monday and soon afterwards swore out a warrant against Wallace, and he was arrested and taken to jail. Wanted for Murder.
