TELEGRAPHIC. Fire in a Coal Mine. SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25 - Particulars fied. have been received here of the fire in the Blossburg coal mines, near Raton, N. M briefly mentioned in last night's dispatches. They were as follows: "At 6 Z. F. Moody o'clock last night a fire broke out in the M. A. Moody mule stables in the main entry of the Biossburg coal mines, which are situated four miles south of Ranton. It spread with lightning rapidity, and soon the en trance to the main shalt was a mass of flames Sixteen mules were in the stable when the fire broke out, and none were saved. When the fire was discovered, it was known that 100 men were at work in the sub-ways, in entire ignorance of their great peril, and shut off from escape except through an air shaft which was likely at any moment to be cut off by th flames. A messenger was at once dis patched to the mouth of this shaft a distance of three miles over the mountain. to notify the miners of their great danger, and it is thought at this hour that all have escaped. The town is wild with ex Women and children whose itement. husbands and fathers are known to be in the mine are panic stricken, and the greatest consternation pervails. The Raton hose company arrived on the ground, but owing to the limited water supply their efforts to extinguish the fiames were of no avail. The Blossburg coal mines are the largest in the territory and are operated by the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad, employing about 500 men who take ont 50 carloads of coal per day. It is thought the mine will be consumed. The origin of the fire is unknown. The loss to the railway company cannot be estimated, as they depend al most wholly on these mines for fuel on the New Mexico divisions, but it is probable that should these mines be entirely destroyed the output of the Starkville, Colo., mines, which are controlled by the same company, will be greatly increased, in which case nearly all of the Blossburg niners will find employment. At a late hour last night the fire was still raging fiercely, with no prospect of abatement. A few days ago a hand of sheep with the brands and earmarks de-faced was driven into the city and sold to faced was driven into the city and sold to one of our dealers. During the week Mr. Solomon Houser, of Tygh valley, same into the city, and, being acquainted with the sheep examined them. He was of the opin-ion that they were Thorborn's, and to-day Mr. Thornborn is in the city to further in-

The observance of Thanksgiving day at Antelope was a grand affair, and attracted as many people as the fourth of July would. There was considerable interest manifested in the horse races and athletic sports, and, in speaking of the affair, the Herald says: "People from all parts of the globe" were present at the athletic sports last Thursday. They were all surprised to see how Antelope proved in the past year, and what

A man in Douglas county has sold 14,000 pounds of tomatoes raised on less than two acres of ground, and made 200 bottles of ketchup besides. He sold none of his toma-toes for less than fifty cents a bushel.

Miss Ida M. Lister, well known to may was brought before Judge Keithly last Tacs-day, says the Gazette, to be examined as to his sanity. He was adjudged insane and Wednesday morning Sheriff Noble departed with the unfortunate lad, en route for Salem, where it is boped full recovery will soon be brought about.

Fossil Journal: We learn with regret of the death of Elmer Martin, aged about 16 years, son of P. C. Martin, of Datch Flat, which took place Thanksgiving Day. The boy had been ill but a short time, and his death comes as a surprise here. The be-reaved family has the sincere sympathy of this generative. this community.

The girl who was rescued from the clutches of Van Cort in Albina was formerly a resident of The Dalles, and Mr. Frank Middleton, formerly editor of the Wasco Sun, but now a member of the Welcom staff, ferretted out the crime about to b committed, and was the means of saving the girl from a fate worse than death.

We learn from the Antelope Herald that we learn from the Antelops Hernal that some person set fire to Messrs. George A. and Fred Young's bay last week and before it was extinguished about 40 tons went up in smoke. This is a heavy loss to these gentlemen and if there should come a hard winter it will work a hardship on them, as they have impressed bands of sheap in fand they have immense bands of sheep to feed

The recorder's office will be a "thing of the recorder s once will be a "thing of beauty and a joy forever" when Paul Kreft gets through with it. In almost a palace, for elegance, Recorder Menefee will here-after dispense even-handed justice, and ho-boes and "drunks" must consider the beauty of the surroundings when heavy fines are immediated to the surrounding the surrou
