TELEGRAPHIC: Jumped His Friend's Claim.

SPokane, Wash., Sept. 7.—Frank L. Wilson, a prominent colored Republican politician of this city, shot and instantly killed Charles Hart, also colored, at the former's home, in Knapfield valley, Stevens county, about 6 o'clock Tuesday evening.

Wilson and Hart, who have long been intimate friends, were adjoining home on the farm of Wilson's brother-in-law, when the shooting occurred.

Wilson fired a repeating rifle, with which he had been practicing, when he arrived at his place and found Hart in the barn, a quarrel arose. This was followed by a fight, in which Hart, who is an expert marksman, was the victor.

Wilson begged him not to shoot. Hart fired, however, the ball passing through Wilson's clothing and grazing his body. Wilson Hart was thrusting in another cartridge Wilson jumped back, pulled his pistol, and shot Hart through the heart, killing him instantly.

Wilson testified to the coroner's jury, which exonerated Wilson on the ground of self-defense. Hart's wife, who was married six months, at the request an agreement was produced, signed by himself and wife, which she refused to sign.

Wilson's wife, who is a widow, placed long enough to acquire a title, which Hart held on his own, after which they were divorced.

Wilson is a man of ability and very popular.

Death of a Theatrical Manager.

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—R. M. Hooley, the aged and well-known theatrical manager, died this afternoon. He has been unconscious since yesterday. The primary cause of death was disorder of the liver. A surgical operation was performed on Monday, weakening his hold on life. His age was 71.

A California Town Burned.

CLAYTON, Cal., Sept. 8.—This town was nearly wiped out by fire this morning. Only two buildings are left standing in the business portion of the town. Clayton has a population of about 700. Losses not yet estimated. Twenty business structures were destroyed.

Talk of Compromise.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—The air about the senate wing of the capitol is full of rumors, and it is impossible to trace most of these to any source which appears authoritative, or which indicates any organized movement of sufficient force to produce results. One given out with the greatest attention to details, which bears a slight resemblance to fact in case it should prove true, is to the effect that Gorman is moving in the direction of a compromise. It is reported that he has been in conference with the other senators, and that he has offered a compromise which would be acceptable to all parties.

Business Blocks Burned.

BALDWIN, Wis., Sept. 8.—Two blocks of business houses and dwellings were destroyed by fire this morning. The loss is estimated at $100,000. Many families are homeless.

Caught Meeting Fruit.

MOUNT VERNON, Wash., Sept. 9.—James Sampson was arrested today by Sheriff O'Loughlin, charged with assault on a deputy sheriff, Frank Willard. Sampson works on O. D. Donnell's fruit ranch, two miles north of town. Donnell has been greatly annoyed by the thief, and has offered a reward of $100 for his capture. Sampson was caught in a plum tree. The thief ran, and Sampson shot him. Willard fired a shot at Sampson, and he was wounded in the neck and back by No. 6 shot, and nearly penetrated into his lungs and intestines. His recovery is doubtful. Willard is a deputy sheriff, and Sampson was caught in a plum tree.

English Commissioners Meeting.

LONDON, Sept. 8.—The riots in the coal-mining districts are increasing. Very serious trouble is anticipated. The coal-mining districts are increasing. Very serious trouble is anticipated. The coal-mining districts are increasing. Very serious trouble is anticipated.

ITEMS IN BRIEF: A fire was quite comfortable this morning.

Mrs. Laura Logan, of Astoria, is visiting friends in the city.

There was frost in some places this morning, but not to any great extent.

The Union Pacific, west-bound, did not pass through the city until 10 o'clock this morning. It was due at 3:30.

The ocean beach and camping resorts in the mountains are deserted; but still our streams are being whipped occasionally for trout.

Justice courts do not afford rich harvests for reporters these days, and the business of the regular courts, however, could be worked to advantage.

The Rev. J. Whaler expects to depart Monday night for Moscow, Idaho, the seat of the regular Episcopal annual conference, to be gone about ten days.

The rain has made the roads to the interior in excellent condition. This comes in accordance with the report that they will be traveled by numerous west wagon.

Five carloads of cattle were shipped from the stockyards of R. E. Salmanson & Co. yesterday for Portland and one carload to Wash. The latter came from Dayton, Wash.

A new militia company being organized in this city is rapidly increasing its complement of recruits. Forty is necessary for organization, and the company now has 75 members.

Since the rain vegetation seems to have acquired a freshness only witnessed during the winter months, the atmosphere has attained that clearness for which the climate of Eastern Oregon is so remarkable.

Rev. W. C. and Mrs. Curtis returned last night from a short vacation at the ocean beach. The tour to the coast was taken as a proper celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis.

The shipments of fruit this year have been much greater than usual. Large quantities of apples have been sent to Portland and the south. Our fruit industry is not nearly developed, and will eventually be a source of great revenue to our orchardists.

The fall season for salmon opens to-morrow, and the fishermen are already busy. The light run during the first months of the year. In this locality the September run is always the best, and the water too high and caught. Some vessels in this vicinity will not be let down to the river at all.

Hoed River Glacier: The wind last Saturday caused the glacier to break her fastenings and she drifted across the river onto the rocks on the Washington side of the river, and she was damaged. The machinery was removed and she was towed back to this side of the river.

Miss Marie E. Rickett, who has occupied the position of chief agent for the Union Pacific, has been transferred to the city of Portland, where she will continue to work for the same company.

A thorough search has been made by the neighbors of J. L. Lewis, the missing owner of the ranch at Lost Creek, bridge in Lane county without avail. He lived alone and his home open just as he customarily does, and no one being missing. Suicide is thought to have been committed.

The Bonanza mining company, recently organized with a capital stock of $100,000, has been organized in the city of Portland. The company is expected to start work in the fall. It will be a large company, and will work about fifteen miles inland. It is expected to start work in the fall.

The Alameda is now in the Snake river, and made the first trip to Lewiston last Saturday. She has been thoroughly repaired, and is now in excellent condition. She is a fine vessel, and is expected to make many more trips to Lewiston.

The subject for the discourse this evening at the church will be "The Christian's Duty." The subject is a timely one, and is expected to attract a large audience.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Anderson returned on the boat this morning for the first time since their departure for the coast. They were very much pleased to see their friends, and were expected to stay for a few days.

The following deed was filed for record today: Milton D. Odell to Miss E. M. McCoy, et al. of the quarter section 10, T. 10 N., R. 10 E., S. 10.

Miss Alex. Henderson and Wm. Ross returned from Trout lake on the boat today, where they were enjoying an out-of-door hunting and fishing.

Mr. Reer, who is in town today from Detroit, says that he did not see any game there, and that he will do more hunting in the future.

There are now six church editions in the city—Catholic, Episcopal, Congregational, Methodist, Baptist and Christian—in which there are services every Sunday.

Ev. Gov. Moody, Mr. Moody and Miss Edna Moody arrived in the city last night from Salem. They came on the same mission of attending the funeral of their grand-son, who died in the city of Salem.

Mr. D. M. French received a dispatch yesterday from Portland stating that his little son, Walker, would be forced to undergo another operation. He left this morning for Portland, where he will be with his family.

Mr. Adam Fick, formerly a subject of the emperor of Germany, was created a full citizen of the United States last Saturday, and now possesses all the rights and franchises pertaining to citizens in this country.

Dr. D. and Mrs. Donna will leave on the train to-night for the east, and will be absent some time. The doctor is a delegate to the sovereign grand lodge of Odd Fellows, which convenes at Milwaukee, Wis., on the 18th inst.

Rango cattle are bringing about the lowest prices yet for over six months on the Chicago market. Many large outfits have stopped shipping, and the advice sent to the cattlemen from the markets is to hold on to their stock for the present.

The subject of the sermon this evening at the Christian church will be "The New Birth," or the constitutional method of adoption into the kingdom of Christ. This is the most controversial subject in theology. Don't fail to hear this important question discussed.

Mr. Thos. Phelps, while picking pears at his brother's orchard, was struck by a tree and sustained a serious injury to his right thigh. He was brought to this city, and Dr. H. Jones, who attended him, says that he believes he will recover.

The funeral of little Mary Moody took place this afternoon, at the residence of the parents, and was very largely attended by friends of the family. She was a favorite child, and her death is a great loss.

Astoria Budget: Not long since, a band of horse, raised on the brick ovens and other buildings of Eastern Oregon, was taken to Kentucky, and sold at prices fairly remunerative, considering the state of the market. It is only the beginning of the trouble, and will some day have the same fate as the horses of Kentucky.
