

ITEMS IN BRIEF

Judge Bradshaw returned this morning from presiding at a term of court at Heppner.

District Attorney Wilson returned this morning from being in attendance on the circuit court at Heppner.

Master Roy Lewis is visiting his father in the city. Next Tuesday he will pursue his course at Bishop Scott academy in Portland.

The recorder did not have any population this morning. The city jail did not increase its population last night.

Mr. H. S. Wilson returned last night from an extended tour of the east, during which he visited the world's fair and his old home in Vermont.

We received a call to-day from Mr. H. Jewett of White Salmon, Wash. He says fruit and other productions in his vicinity yielded very well this season.

Mr. James H. Fraser, of Grand Valley, is in the city. His sheep are in the neighborhood of Mt. Adams and are in splendid condition. He will take them to the home pasture for some time.

A carload of horses was shipped from the stockyards of R. E. Saltzman & Co. yesterday for the east. These were fine work animals, and are expected to find ready sale, as Oregon horses are in good demand.

The marshal sold two horses yesterday at very low figures. They were responded for and were auctioned to pay the price of keeping. One brought $4.00, and the other about $5. This was a good opportunity for any one to purchase a riding animal at a cheap price.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Bettington returned last evening from a visit to the coast, where they have been for several days. Mrs. Bettington's health was very much benefited by the stay and she returned to the city yesterday. They were accompanied by Mrs. Bettington's daughter, Mrs. Baldwin, who returned from visiting her son Bert at Mt. Angel college.

We have heard a rumor on the street that a company of capitalists has leased ground in the city for the purpose of manufacturing works in the Dalles at an early day. It is reported that this company will pile a portion of the bank of Mill creek, and erect extensive buildings. This is undoubtedly the point for manufacturing industries in Eastern Oregon.

Florence West, on Thursday last week at the home of Mr. A. Glover, on Pe Me lake. Several men fired a number of times at the woman, but she escaped unscathed. She said: "Let me take a shot at it." After some persuasion the gun was handed to her and she fired and missed the target. When the smoke cleared away, there almost at her feet, lay the dead bird, written in mortal agony.

The "petrified frog sitting on a petrified limb," reported as found in Union county thirty feet underground by Prof. M. G. Royal, has gone the round of the papers. But as has been pointed out by the Elzevirian, which says regarding it: "This petrification (it is a product of the Heppner country, instead of Union, but the limb, frog and stone were all from the Blue mountain sandstone, by a genius who was with U. P. Clark, prospectors about two years ago at the head of Butter creek. The Gazette had all the fun it wanted over the curiosity," they handed it over to Elzevirian, which kept it till Prof. Royal's visit here a short time ago.

A terrific thunderstorm was with us Wednesday, says the Fossil Journal. The lightning flashed and "God's artillery" continued in close succession for nearly almost too close to be comfortable. The rocky point in Mr. Newman's pasture was struck and smoking produced for a stray bull, and we are informed that another shaft made a big hole in the county highway near the head of Darling canyon. Such severe storms are like angry visits in this country, and it is only on extreme occasions that lightning strikes any object in east Eastern Oregon. Since the storm rain has steadily and continuously rained, and the grass has commenced to grow.

Fossil Journal: The dwelling house of D. M. Atchard, of Condon, was struck by lightning during the terrific thunderstorm last Wednesday afternoon. The terra cotta tile was smashed and quite a hole made in the roof, but fortunately no one was hurt more than being slightly shocked. Also one of the largest sheds in town was badly shattered and broken off within five feet of the ground. As the citizens viewed its prostrate form, they manfully individual shook his head and exclaimed: "Too bad, too bad, no trunk is nearly three-fourths of an inch in diameter. The boys should keep larger limbs in the manufacture of whistles, that so magnificent a production of our soil might not be wasted or ruined."

From Thursday's Daily: Mr. C. G. Roberts, of Hood River, is in town to-day. He is expected to be in the city for some time.

Clark Crocker paid a visit to his Kikietkat farm yesterday.

Two days of sunshine, and the mud in the streets has disappeared. The streets at the corner of Third and Washington streets has been newly packed.

These days are delightful, and nearly every citizen pronounces the weather perfect.

Mr. Chas. Wintermer and cousin, Miss Mary Gibson, of Harrison, Wash., are in the city.

Mr. J. Hardy left this morning for Nansen, on a visit to Mrs. W. F. Helms, of that town.

Wheat is coming into Moody's warehouse in small quantities. The price has not raised since our last quotations.

Messrs. A. Bucher, Charles Frank, W. H. Rutter and others returned from the locks last evening on the boat.

Mr. J. S. McCain, formerly one of our contractors, has been retained for a few years past, in the city visiting friends.

Mr. John O'Leary left on the boat this morning for Portland, where he will take the Northern Pacific for Battle City, Montana.

The two men of color, who were arrested under the ordinance against vagrancy, are doing good work on the streets under the supervision of the commissioner.

Mr. J. W. Ready and family, who have been residents of the Dalles for a number of years past, left for Albion on the boat yesterday morning, where they will reside in future.

Justice Schatz had a case before him this afternoon. It was for assault and battery, and after hearing the testimony, the justice fined the defendant $5 and costs, which were liquidated.

Miss Willey, of this city, has the longest tomato vine of any of which we have ever heard. It is fourteen feet long, and has produced already 200 tomatoes and is still in bloom. This is hard to beat anywhere.

Miss Melissa Hill will have to-morrow morning for Eugene, where she will attend the senior year in the university. She will be accompanied by her younger sister, who will pursue the studies in the classical course.

We received a call this afternoon from Mr. E. J. Davis, editor of the Eastern Oregon Republican. He is expected to be on a trip to the Dalles by his wife, who was formerly one of the teachers in our public schools.

We understand that Mr. John Hampshire has resigned his position as purser on the legislator. Mr. Hampshire has proved himself a genial and accommodating official, and the traveling public will regret very much the step he has taken.

Mr. King, the bookmaker, shipped about 400 mountain sheep to-day to the Portland market from the stockyards of R. E. Saltzman & Co. They were in fine condition, and will help establish the reputation of Eastern Oregon in this regard.

Fruit of all kinds, such as peaches, plums, apples, etc.—are coming into the market at Hood River, and the yield is very large this year. The products are shipped over the country, and furnish a good source of revenue for that town.

Indiana are in town from Mt. Adams with outside-the-counter for sale. They have spent their summer vacation gathering this wild fruit, and will now gather in the quarters, dollars, etc., which they will spend in winter supplies.

Charles D. Kellogg and wife will give a concert performance at the Methodist church on Sept. 23d. The proceeds will go towards liquidating the debt of the church.

COUNTY COURT.

Warrant for rock crusher ordered to be drawn when city accepts part of contract.

The assessor was given until Oct. 30, 1933, to complete assessment of county.

The petition of P. A. Snyder and others for a road, known as the "Diverters or old emigrant road" was read first time and continued until next term.

The license granted to E. M. Bergeson to sell spirituous and malt liquors in less quantities than one gallon for six months.

License granted to J. P. Rankin to maintain a ferry between Hood River, Oregon, and White Salmon, Wash., for ten years.

Warrant in the hands of the county clerk for over seven years were ordered cancelled.

The petition for road by A. S. Roberts and others was read the necessary terms and W. L. Ward, A. D. Bolton and Fritz Clausen were appointed viewers.

In the matter of the petition of A. C. Doak and others for the road as recently surveyed and located by J. H. Sherar, Geo. A. Liebe, D. M. French and S. B. Adams were appointed viewers.

License granted to Bader & McKenzie for the same purpose at the locks for six months.

McDonough was granted license for one year to sell spirituous and malt liquors at the locks.

The following bills were allowed and warrants ordered drawn for the amount:

Table of bills allowed and warrants ordered drawn for the amount, listing names and amounts.

Extremely Bold.

The following is from an Arizona paper, and is so frank a trifling error of an actual occurrence; but oysters in Eastern Oregon never perform such acts of bravery:

"During the night recently a coyote came up to the ranch house of D. S. Thomas, near Arizola, where the families of the men employed on the ranch were sleeping, and Manuel Marino, were sleeping out of doors, the West family on the east side of the building, the Marino family on the north.

The tracks of the animal showed that it passed the cot where the West family were sleeping. Going to the north side the coyote passed by the cot where the Marino family were sleeping, and that animal about 6 years of age, dragged her from her cot and around the house in the direction whence he came. The outcries of the child quickly aroused every one, and they were all up and ready for action.

West ran into the house and got a pistol. As he came out of the door Mr. West called that the beast was passing out.

The cries of the child, however, were sufficient to locate its whereabouts. Going close to the window the animal was seen against the beam's side and fell dead. The child was considerably bruised from contact with the ground as she was being dragged."

Tramps.

In the suburbs of the city, near the East End, is a group of ten or twelve old residents. One of them said that he can find a number of tramps every day, who take life easily, lying down and sleeping away the peaceful hours when the shadows begin to fall they make the rounds of the city, picking up a meal from the garbage cans.

The marshal is aware of this habit, and frequently makes a raid on the place. Until much recently he orders the hoboes to leave the city, and they generally obey the order. It may seem a hardship that some of the tramps should be punished for those who follow the vociferous of tramps for the opportunities it affords for petty thefts; but the sanctity of property requires a strict enforcement of salutary police ordinances. Every man should be punished for following some useful employment, and the only way that the world over all men a substance is as false as any proposition could be. Air should be free for every man to breathe, but the product of men's industry which constitutes the commodities of food, should bring in every market the price of the labor necessary to its production.

The Canada Thistle.

Amongst the laws passed by the last legislature is one for the extermination of the Canadian thistle. This weed is getting to be a curse to the country and advantage should be taken of it by following some useful employment, and the only way that the world over all men a substance is as false as any proposition could be. Air should be free for every man to breathe, but the product of men's industry which constitutes the commodities of food, should bring in every market the price of the labor necessary to its production.

OREGON WEATHER SERVICE.

The following is the weather report for the week ending Tuesday, Sept. 12, from the central office in Portland:

WEATHER.—Showery weather has continued since the 8th of September. Thunder storms occurred in the mountainous districts; they were generally attended by hail. The mean temperature of the week was 61 degrees, there was a deficiency of sunshine and the rainfall averaged 0.55 of an inch, which is largely in excess of the normal. The dense smoke, caused by numerous forest fires, has dispersed and the atmosphere is once more pure and healthful.

Crops.—Threshing has temporarily ceased, owing to the dampness of the straw. There remains considerable work for the headers in sections where the grain was sown late. Growing crops have received great benefits by the rain. Vegetables have been especially benefited. Pastures have improved so that the prospect for sufficient grass on the range is good. Stock are fat and beef cattle are plentiful. There appears to be less damage done to fruit than was first estimated. Tender plants were injured by a frost, which occurred on the 9th. The second crop of alfalfa has been secured, and farmers are prepared to enter the winter season with well filled barns.
