MILWAUKEE, Sept 15-Dispatches this morning from a score of northern Wis consin cities tell stories of great loss by forest fires. Marshfield, Junction City,

Dexterville, Prentis, Spencer, Medford, Rhinelander, Stevens Point and other places with a population of 1000 to 6000, are surrounded by flames, and in the greatest danger of being wiped out. Everything between Daly, Wood county, and Necedah, Juneau county, on the Milwaukee & St. Paul railway, is burned. Dexterville is threatened with annihilation. Hundreds of scattered dwellings known to be in the path of the flames are doubtless burned. No loss of life is reported, but that all the settlers in the ourned districts escaped is impossible. Every square mile of the vast timbered district of Wisconsin is as dry as tinder The flames are sweeping without check. The losses will doubtless run into the millions The district already swent by fire and that threatened includes nearly one-third of the state. Wisconsin i overhung by a pall of smoke reaching rom Lake Michigan to Lake Superior, and from the extreme eastern border of the state to the Mississippi river. Advice at the railroad offices here ar o the effect that the flames have swept verything between Babcock and Necedah, a distance of twenty miles. The country is sparsely settled, so the damage is only to timber. Fires are very bad around Merrill, Pine Ridge, Heights, Combs, Daney, Runkle's Mills and Rudolph; all small places. The Deadlock in the House.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15-The battle over the Tucker bill to repeal the federal election law was resumed this morning, the Republicans again filibustering Burrows renewed his motion to disease with the call of the committee in order to prevent the bill from being reported. A roll-call was ordered. Reed walked up and down the sistes shaking his head. The Republicans obeyed their leader and refrained from voting. The administration Democrats fled to the cloakroom to avoid acswering their names. The vote resulted: Ayes, 1; noes, 146; no quorum. It developed gain of 40 votes for the Democrats, leaving them 31 short of a quorum. A call of the house was ordered. The call developed the presence of 237 members. Filibustering was ended by the arrival of the time of the special order for eulogies to the late Representative Chipman, of Michigan. A number of eulogies were

Last night it rained continuously, and it is apprehended that this will damage grain in stacks. The rain last week did not put wheat in good condition, and the present weather will only augment the injury. Harvesting in this portion of the northwest is principally performed by heading, and the heads are placed in loose piles. This

The fall rains came unusually early this year, says the Fossi Journal. A tremend-ons amount of rain fell during the ten days in. What little grain was not secured re-ceived a thorough soaking, and a good deal of the grain that was stacked in flat stacks preparatory to being threshed has been damaged. However, the benefit accruing from the rain will far more than offset the damage. Range grass is already several inches high, and pasture and grazing will be exceedingly good until winter acts in, which will result in stork being in the best of condition to withstand the rigors of a possible hard winter. Fall plowing has already become general, and the long 'Indian summer' will be utilized by the farmers in preparing the soil for bountiful crope the coming year—for fall sown grain is never a failure here. The rain has purified the air and ayerted much sickness and discomfort. damage. Range grass is already severa
