

The Times-Mountaineer

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 28, 1893

ITEMS IN BRIEF

From Wednesday's Daily.

Mr. J. B. Havelly, of Boyd, is in town today.

J. O. Warner, of Nannaw, was in town yesterday.

There were several head of cattle on the boat this morning for Portland.

Mrs. I. M. French and daughter Cora were passengers on the boat this morning for Portland.

The what club is making preparations for a winter campaign. It will consist of 223 of gold nuggets and a bar of bullion from the Los Llanos mine. The loss is estimated at $3000.

The robbers who stole $700 from Oregon's store at the night of the 22d of gold nuggets and a bar of bullion from the Los Llanos mine. The loss is estimated at $3000.

Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Davenport returned this morning from Colfax, Wash. Mrs. Davenport has been visiting relatives in Wallace, Idaho, and met her husband at Colfax.

The Idaho exhibit at the world's fair in Chicago was robbed on the night of the 22d of gold nuggets and a bar of bullion from the Los Llanos mine. The loss is estimated at $3000.

Private Connor of troop H, Walla Walla, who was recently court-martialed for being a deserter, has been sentenced to six years in the military prison at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas.

The crowd of what wagons at the warehouses continues to grow. It is estimated that there will be 2000 wagons in the city by the end of the month.

The rock-crusher is turning out considerable crushed stone, which is being used on our streets. This will make a great deal of difference in the cost of paving our streets.

Early yesterday morning a fire broke out in Walla Walla. It was caused by a gas stove in a restaurant and a barber shop. The loss is estimated at $5000, and the insurance will cover about $3000.

The funeral of the late Mr. G. E. Beers was largely attended this afternoon from the Congregational church. Rev. Mr. Adams, pastor of the church, officiated at the church and grave.

At the Unmalls House today there were several parties. The guests included many of the prominent citizens of the city.

Co. G. O. N. G. will hold a meeting this evening in Wingate's hall for the purpose of adopting a constitution and by-laws. It is very likely that this place will be rented permanently for the militia companies in this city.

A dispatch dated at Moscow, Idaho, Oct. 22d, says that F. Zeller, postmaster at Juleta, has been arrested for the purpose of smuggling opium. Domestic trouble is said to be the cause. He had been married less than two weeks.

The term of circuit court ended in Crook county last Saturday, and Judge Reed, Deputy Prosecuting Attorney Dyer and A. S. Dyer returned to the city. The next term of court for this district will be held in this city beginning next month.

A man by the name of Firth is in charge in the county jail for the purpose of disposing of stimulants. As soon as he has an examination before the commission, he will be taken to Portland, where he will be tried before the U. S. court.

There were no developments around the city jail this morning. The Williams boys were allowed to proceed on their way to Portland, and the Indian only remained as an occupant. No arrests were made last night, and the recorder was not present in his business.

Two convicts named Tom Spokane and Wright from King county, were discovered in the act of tunneling out of the penitentiary at Walla Walla from the brick yard yesterday by Varden McDuff. They were in eleven feet and dug four feet in twenty minutes.

Mr. Patrick Donovan, a well known farmer residing near Walla Walla, in a quarrel with two other men, was struck over the head with a pistol, and the bullet causing a fracture of the skull and other injuries. He refuses to make a complaint, and the pursuers of the light cannot be traced.

A relic of the revolution is on exhibition at Ashland, where it is to be sold. It is a powder horn of the British by John Tice, of Moonmouth, N. C. It came from the battle of the Clouds, in 1781, and is the property of his descendants. It is handsomely carved with scenes of battles fought by the British army in which the original owner served.

Mr. O. D. Smith, aged 19 years, died at Wapinitia yesterday of consumption. He came from the Willamette valley a few days ago, hoping that the change might benefit him; but the disease had progressed too far and he could not be cured. He was buried at Wapinitia to-day, and the remains will be taken to his home in Oregon.

A Spokane attorney has broken the record for short sales. Louis H. Plator is the name of the official time 18 minutes and 18 seconds. He is a member of the bar and is a resident of Spokane. He is a member of the bar and is a resident of Spokane.

Board members of the state reform school held a meeting yesterday afternoon at the school building. The meeting was held at the school building. The meeting was held at the school building.

The peace and dignity of the clerk's office, which during the days of financial depression is in a state of anarchy, was disturbed this morning by Anderson striding into the room, and with uplifted hand, and a menacing look, he will be true and faithful allegiance to the republic of the United States and forever renounce the crown of Norway and Sweden as his prince and potentate.

The cranks continue to leap into prominence. An exchange says: "A Kansas man has discovered a liquid preparation that will change the color of the African and make him a white man. He says he has experienced the same result. He is a member of the bar and is a resident of Spokane. He is a member of the bar and is a resident of Spokane."

Attorney E. B. Duff, of The Dalles, says the Privilege News represented Prosecuting Attorney Wilson, who is in possession of the circuit court for Crook county this week. We wish to say for Mr. Duff that he did his whole duty in conducting cases for the state. It is, perhaps, needless to say that he is a satisfaction sometimes to know that any man and especially an attorney, will perform every duty to the best of his ability. He is a member of the bar and is a resident of Spokane. He is a member of the bar and is a resident of Spokane.

A dispatch from Spokane, dated the 23d inst., says: "Edward M. Swanson, a Swede, was arrested at the Placer mining camp at the mouth of the Peed d'Ureille river late last night charged with the murder of a brother prospector by the name of Goldstein. There were several witnesses who, it is claimed, will swear that after a dispute Swanson drew his rifle and deliberately shot Goldstein and then took what he claimed was his due from the dead man's pockets. Swanson claims that he was shooting at a deer and Goldstein happened to be in the way."

There is some indication that a literary club will be formed this winter by those inclined to the study of the classics. It is presumed there will be weekly meetings, of which the programme will consist of discussions of the leading dramas of Shakespeare, Bolivar Lyttton and Sheridan. Essays on subjects relating to English and continental literature will also be read. We hope our informant is correct, as such a society will do good in many ways. It is a member of the bar and is a resident of Spokane. He is a member of the bar and is a resident of Spokane.

We learn from the News that arrangements are being made in Prineville to have a match game of baseball played sometime in November. The game is to be played between the Antelope and Prineville nines. A paper was circulated last week to ascertain how much money could be raised in the way of a purse. The subscriptions are liberal, and the management is in good and competent hands, we have no doubt of the success of the getting up of the games.

Eugene Guard: One Hank Tondro, a man about 30 years of age, who came here about a month ago and was employed in J. W. White's second hand store, left suddenly Monday night. He took in the store and had the entire contents of his employer. Mr. White states that a watch, a revolver, three shirts of clothes, some footwear and cigars are missing besides about $4 in money, which was in the cash drawer. The amount of the stolen property is worth at least one or $60. It is thought the thief left on 9th of last night's train. He claimed to hail from Wisconsin. A warrant has been sworn out for his arrest, and it is probable that he will be apprehended.

Says Henry Clews, the Wall street banker, in his weekly financial review: "Contrary to all previous experience, money is flowing in large amounts to the center at the middle of October—the season at which it has always gone to the interior for moving the crops. All the tendencies are towards a plethora of funds seeking employment in this department, and should the repeal bill pass the senate, this ease in money will set capital free for employment in the larger enterprises and promote a general revival of business."

Albany Democrat: W. T. Branch, the expert appointed to examine the books of Hamilton in a large amount of this department, has been unable to show any misappropriation of funds in any respect reflecting on the honesty of the bankers. The expense of running the bank for six years was $25,025.44, which certainly indicates some good sized profits. The receipts were $38,063.73, and losses on long and short account $2,638.82, showing an amount of $12,700.81. The receipts were $38,063.73, and losses on long and short account $2,638.82, showing an amount of $12,700.81.

The placer machinery at Pasco will be set in motion during the coming week, says a exchange, according to information received by parties yesterday, who are anxiously awaiting the result of this new experiment in saving the flour gold in the sands of the Columbia river. The appliances consist of a hydraulic dredger and Bennett amalgamator, located on barges and operated by a powerful steam engine of 100 horse power. The experiment here was already extended over $40,000. They calculate to dredge to a depth of 20 feet below the level of the water where the dredger stands, but will not attempt to go down to bedrock.

From Thursday's Daily. Harper's for November on sale at M. T. Nolan's postoffice book store. He has received $2000 so far for the past few days, and our people feel hopeful for the future.

The west-bound passenger train was five hours late this morning. A special went along on the regular time. It took 35,000 grain bags to hold farmer Parer's (the Populist elector) crop of wheat in Unmalls county.

Mr. Lian Hubbard, who was a resident of the city for several years past, left this morning for his home in Portland, N. Y.

Mr. Chas. Mell, of Centerville, Wash., has been several times in the city. He has been turned out west, and he suffered little loss by reason of rain.

We received a pleasant call to-day from Mr. Frank Leithold, of Kingstley. He harvested and threshed his grain before the rain, and was therefore fortunate.

U. S. Grant is the postmaster at Dallas. John Brown sold real estate at Sotha Mills Hill Nye has returned to Pullman from his eastern trip. Will Carleton is engaged in the dry business at Corvallis.

Mr. H. C. McConnell and son Eddie will leave on the night train for Buffalo, N. Y. Eddie was formerly an attaché of the Trans-Montaineer office, but recently has gone to work on a farm in the neighboring county of Klickitat.

Carl Schurz and Wayne McVehave having failed to get offices have begun to "blackleg" the profession. Frontiersmen are evidently "blackleg" like most honorable men, that the good will which has to be purchased is not worth the cost.

The cranked rock from that machine now at work in Unmalls street is being used to fill mounds. If the profit of this stone crusher is properly utilized, the amount of acres of the city would be very much improved in the next few weeks.

Mr. H. L. Powell, of Pleasant Ridge, brought us to-day some specimens of potatoes, and a few of them are very large and of fine quality. The potatoes of the Wasco county are very excellent and as prolific as any of the coast.

The city jail was visited last night, and during the dark watches, when nature all around is still, a lonely, solitary inmate slept the sleep that knows no waking. This morning he was interviewed by Recorder Duprah and replenished with a new pair of trousers.

A special dispatch of the 23d inst. from Everett, Wash., says: Daniel J. White, for some months employed as car repairer on the Monte Cristo railroad, at 4300 years yesterday afternoon looked himself in one of the company's cars at the depot and blew his brains out with a revolver. He was an Englishman, about 30 years old, and his family resided at Whatcom. No reason was given for the act.

A new student, Nicholas Braun, arrived at the state school for deaf mutes Tuesday, says the State Statesman. He came from Tallahassee, Florida, and is the eldest son of the late Nicholas Braun, of the same name, who died at the age of 44—22 years and 22 days. The building at the school is a fine structure, and the attention of 40 pupils, and it does not seem of exaggeration to say that the institution is one of the best in the world.

A Spokane attorney has broken the record for short sales. Louis H. Plator is the name of the official time 18 minutes and 18 seconds. He is a member of the bar and is a resident of Spokane. He is a member of the bar and is a resident of Spokane.

Board members of the state reform school held a meeting yesterday afternoon at the school building. The meeting was held at the school building. The meeting was held at the school building.

The peace and dignity of the clerk's office, which during the days of financial depression is in a state of anarchy, was disturbed this morning by Anderson striding into the room, and with uplifted hand, and a menacing look, he will be true and faithful allegiance to the republic of the United States and forever renounce the crown of Norway and Sweden as his prince and potentate.

The cranks continue to leap into prominence. An exchange says: "A Kansas man has discovered a liquid preparation that will change the color of the African and make him a white man. He says he has experienced the same result. He is a member of the bar and is a resident of Spokane. He is a member of the bar and is a resident of Spokane."

Attorney E. B. Duff, of The Dalles, says the Privilege News represented Prosecuting Attorney Wilson, who is in possession of the circuit court for Crook county this week. We wish to say for Mr. Duff that he did his whole duty in conducting cases for the state. It is, perhaps, needless to say that he is a satisfaction sometimes to know that any man and especially an attorney, will perform every duty to the best of his ability. He is a member of the bar and is a resident of Spokane. He is a member of the bar and is a resident of Spokane.

We learn from the News that arrangements are being made in Prineville to have a match game of baseball played sometime in November. The game is to be played between the Antelope and Prineville nines. A paper was circulated last week to ascertain how much money could be raised in the way of a purse. The subscriptions are liberal, and the management is in good and competent hands, we have no doubt of the success of the getting up of the games.

Eugene Guard: One Hank Tondro, a man about 30 years of age, who came here about a month ago and was employed in J. W. White's second hand store, left suddenly Monday night. He took in the store and had the entire contents of his employer. Mr. White states that a watch, a revolver, three shirts of clothes, some footwear and cigars are missing besides about $4 in money, which was in the cash drawer. The amount of the stolen property is worth at least one or $60. It is thought the thief left on 9th

In the afternoon, and on examination of the wound the physicians decided that the hand when they saw it, and a terrible accident, they then decided the injured part advised him to go to the hospital at Portland, and leave the matter with the surgeon.

From Friday's Daily. Ex Gov. Z. F. Moody is in the city. Large numbers of sheep are dying in the heavy snowstorms on the mountains of Klickitat county.

"The ser, the yellow leaf" covers the sidewalks, and these should be removed by householders and property owners.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Floyd returned this morning from an extended tour of the east, during which they visited the world's fair at Hamilton, and their old home in Michigan.

A carload of calves and one of sheep left the stockyards of R. E. Saltmarsh & Co. in this city yesterday morning for Portland. There will be two carloads of cattle shipped this evening to Portland.

That ubiquitous individual, known as John Doe, was before the police court this morning for being drunk. He was fined $5 and costs, and replenished the city treasury to that amount.

It now appears that when the Oregon Pa. is sold in December the bidding will be spirited. It is said that among the bidders will be the S. P. R. R., the Great Northern and a number of the shareholders residing in Philadelphia.

To-morrow is the last day of the industrial exposition in Portland. It has not been as successful as former years by reason of the heavy depression; but the exhibits are the most complete that have been equal to those of other years.

It is stated that the Southern Pacific company's shops are to run on full time. The change goes into effect to-day and applies to all points on the system between El Paso and Portland. This order will affect 5000 men and increase the pay roll $100,000.

The weather is simply perfect. There is no Indian summer of two or three weeks duration in the northwest; but the fall season appears to be a continuation of summer, and winter comes so gradually that the change of seasons is hardly perceptible.

The Register takes heavy loads down the coast. It is said that the Portland and large quantities during the past few days, and there is a vast number of bushels of apples and a continuous stream of produce on the market by means of the Columbia river.

According to a vote in the house Monday, the representatives favor women suffrage. They are: Allison, Carey, Dolph, Fray, Gallagher, Hunt, Kyles, Peffer, Telser. Carney has been elected to the position. Dolph has been an advocate of this reform.

The west-bound passenger passed through the city at 10 o'clock. It is said that the amount of the excursion rate of $2 for the round trip to Portland, which went into effect last week, is a great success. The amount of $2000 has been secured for the purpose of the opportunity to visit the metropolis and the industrial exposition.

For some time past, says the Corvallis Gazette, Professor French of the state agricultural college has been experimenting on the fattening of swine and has found that a certain local suture produces one pound of fat on one hog only costs about three and one-half cents. Gain about two pounds a day.

Mr. Henry Gilpin, of Pleasant Ridge, is in town to-day. He says he has threshed 1000 bushels of wheat in a week. He has a fine crop of wheat, and he is a member of the bar and is a resident of Spokane. He is a member of the bar and is a resident of Spokane.

A mission from the city tripped lightly and the train was delayed. "All the ancient farmer with arms as brown and bare, that the wind on his brow, that scents the morning air." Loud laughter and the old farmer "tilt the ears rolled down his cheeks—"Why bless you that's a poet, and that's the best I ever heard of."

We learn from the Wagon News that Mr. Chester Walker, son of J. W. Walker, of the Dalles, has been elected to the position of district clerk. He is a member of the bar and is a resident of Spokane. He is a member of the bar and is a resident of Spokane.

Luke D. Wolfard, of Tacoma, who has several thousand acres in wheat at few miles north of Colfax, says after a thorough inspection of his crop and other fields in every corner of the county that the wheat is doing well. He is a member of the bar and is a resident of Spokane. He is a member of the bar and is a resident of Spokane.

The Public Ventilation. The man was in the upper berth of a Pullman, and in the middle of the night he called up the porter.

"How do you know I was a newspaper man?" he asked the porter. "He was indeed what the porter said."

"Cause you're always wanting to ventilate something, boss," and the porter opened the window above the man and gave him a cold.—Detroit Free Press.

The Must Have Been Blind. Colonel Yergor—Did you hear that Baron de Nogood has married a rich girl?

Judge Peterby—Isn't he blind in one eye and a pretty fast sort of a fellow about town?

"Yes, but as far as eyesight she is a woman of the world."

"How so?" "Well, while he has lost one eye, she seems to have lost the use of both; otherwise she would never have married him."—Texas Sittings.

Letters Advised. The following is the list of letters remaining in The Dalles postoffice for Saturday, Oct. 28, 1893. Persons addressed for these letters will please give the date on which they were advertised:

Burton, Miss G. Baker, Mrs. J. G. Burton, Miss G. Baker, Mrs. J. G. Burton, Miss G. Baker, Mrs. J. G. Burton.

Hughes, Chas. Hewett, Mrs. Lola Johnston, Mrs. K. L. Jensen, Jorgensen, Mrs. D. H. Sanford, N. D. Perkins, Mrs. D. H. Sanford, N. D. Perkins, Mrs. D. H. Sanford, N. D. Perkins.

Warts, M. P. M. T. NOLAN, P. M.

TO TRACE UP THE system after "La Grippe" and other prostrating ailments, and restore health and vigor to the system. It is a member of the bar and is a resident of Spokane. He is a member of the bar and is a resident of Spokane.

You are advised that an order has been made this day for the sale of 500 tons, the same to be paid in full on or before the 25th day of October, 1893, to be used in purchasing tobacco for occupants of said jail.

This order is made because of the failure to bring to this court men whom to pass examination, not one of whom has for some weeks past sufficient money to pay the weekly assessment levied by the court.

Failure to comply with this order will be considered contempt of court, and you will be dealt with accordingly.

Mrs. Kots, Judge, Frank Strauss, Doctor, Chas. C. Dyer, Doctor, By Tom Faxon, Doctor.

Oregon Pacific Matters. Corvallis Gazette. While in the city last week Judge Fulton promulgated several orders of court concerning the O. P. railroad, the first of which requires Sheriff Osburn to let the road not later than December 15th to the highest bidder—all bids to be accompanied by a deposit of $200,000. Order No. 2 authorizes Receiver Hasley to make an order for the purchase of the O. P. railroad, while the third mandate authorizes the receiver to bring suit to recover money due to the Portland Flouring Mills Co. The fourth orders for the receiver to employ a surveyor to make a map of the route of the road between Eugene and Harborside from the month of July and August, to be completed by September 1st, and to draw 8 per cent. interest. The fifth and last amount of the stay of proceedings in the matter of the Farmers' Loan and Trust company asking the receiver to employ a surveyor to make a map of the route of the road between Eugene and Harborside from the month of July and August, to be completed by September 1st, and to draw 8 per cent. interest.

The Pomocoy Independent has this to say of the damage to grain crops in Garfield county: "The outlook is dark for the agricultural interests of this county and all of Eastern Washington and Idaho. There will be people all over this section that will have only a few bushels of grain left for their own use. Many of the crops are out of the question for many a hard working family whose entire resources were in grain. There is nothing to pay debts already contracted, much less buy supplies for the future."

A Gilliam county exchange has the following: "The rains this fall are unprecedented in the history of Eastern Oregon. In the first place the harvest was later than common, and before the grain was all cut, the rain began, and has so retarded the crop that it will be nearly or quite a month before all the grain is threshed. Many of the farmers are patting in their fall wheat when they can't get it out, and a terrible accident, they then decided the injured part advised him to go to the hospital at Portland, and leave the matter with the surgeon.

The penitentiary at Walla Walla is a rapidly filling with convicts. Here is an account of the latest arrivals from the mountains of the Walla Walla penitentiary from Sohomiah. The parties who were their captives are: Peter Palmer and B. O. Hanson, tried together, charged with assault with deadly weapons, and sentenced to one year. William Cooper and John Webb, found guilty of burglarizing Clark's store at Everett, five years of labor, and Bud Coy, guilty of burglarizing Allen & Zeigle's jewelry house, one year. Sheriff Hogan and Juler Knowles brought their passengers to Walla Walla last evening."

A Sorry State of Affairs. The Palouse country is a sorry spectacle this year by reason of the constant rains damaging the grain harvest. This region is undoubtedly the garden spot of the northwest, and it can raise more bushels of wheat to the acre than any spot in Oregon and Washington. The crops are wonderful, often producing as high as 50 or 60 bushels to the acre; but the rains came early this season, and the grain was damaged in the stacks on such a condition that it could not be threshed. The result is a heavy loss to the farmers, generally considered well-to-do, have lost their fall summer's work. Of course this has affected all branches of business, and, coming as it does on the heels of the Democratic loss in the northwest, the country is in a state of gloom. The country is in a state of gloom. The country is in a state of gloom.

Among the many insects indispensable to the growth of the cotton, the silkworm and the honey bee. To the latter Dr. Lamborn's attention has recently turned, doubtless with a view to bringing about the advent of the much needed "cottoning bee."

Although apiculture is the oldest economic pursuit, it is only within the last century that much scientific thought has been directed in the perfection of the various methods of raising and accomplishing in the line of developing a gentler bee, but at the expense of other qualities. To evolve an ideal bee some points must be considered which have hitherto been overlooked.

A desirable point of the trip with various races and an elimination of objections must require much patience, time and money.—Entomological News.

Improving the Bee. Among the many insects indispensable to the growth of the cotton, the silkworm and the honey bee. To the latter Dr. Lamborn's attention has recently turned, doubtless with a view to bringing about the advent of the much needed "cottoning bee."

Although apiculture is the oldest economic pursuit, it is only within the last century that much scientific thought has been directed in the perfection of the various methods of raising and accomplishing in the line of developing a gentler bee, but at the expense of other qualities. To evolve an ideal bee some points must be considered which have hitherto been overlooked.

A desirable point of the trip with various races and an elimination of objections must require much patience, time and money.—Entomological News.

Seven Million Bushels Lost. It is half a million in the gloom of dreary days, and the cottoning bee, the silkworm and the honey bee. To the latter Dr. Lamborn's attention has recently turned, doubtless with a view to bringing about the advent of the much needed "cottoning bee."

Although apiculture is the oldest economic pursuit, it is only within the last century that much scientific thought has been directed in the perfection of the various methods of raising and accomplishing in the line of developing a gentler bee, but at the expense of other qualities. To evolve an ideal bee some points must be considered which have hitherto been overlooked.

A desirable point of the trip with various races and an elimination of objections must require much patience, time and money.—Entomological News.

Improving the Bee. Among the many insects indispensable to the growth of the cotton, the silkworm and the honey bee. To the latter Dr. Lamborn's attention has recently turned, doubtless with a view to bringing about the advent of the much needed "cottoning bee."

Although apiculture is the oldest economic pursuit, it is only within the last century that much scientific thought has been directed in the perfection of the various methods of raising and accomplishing in the line of developing a gentler bee, but at the expense of other qualities. To evolve an ideal bee some points must be considered which have hitherto been overlooked.

A desirable point of the trip with various races and an elimination of objections must require much patience, time and money.—Entomological News.

Improving the Bee. Among the many insects indispensable to the growth of the cotton, the silkworm and the honey bee. To the latter Dr. Lamborn's attention has recently turned, doubtless with a view to bringing about the advent of the much needed "cottoning bee."

Although apiculture is the oldest economic pursuit, it is only within the last century that much scientific thought has been directed in the perfection of the various methods of raising and accomplishing in the line of developing a gentler bee, but at the expense of other qualities. To evolve an ideal bee some points must be considered which have hitherto been overlooked.

A desirable point of the trip with various races and an elimination of objections must require much patience, time and money.—Entomological News.

Improving the Bee. Among the many insects indispensable to the growth of the cotton, the silkworm and the honey bee. To the latter Dr. Lamborn's attention has recently turned, doubtless with a view to bringing about the advent of the much needed "cottoning bee."

Although apiculture is the oldest economic pursuit, it is only within the last century that much scientific thought has been directed in the perfection of the various methods of raising and accomplishing in the line of developing a gentler bee, but at the expense of other qualities. To evolve an ideal bee some points must be considered which have hitherto been overlooked.

A desirable point of the trip with various races and an elimination of objections must require much patience, time and money.—Entomological News.

Improving the Bee. Among the many insects indispensable to the growth of the cotton, the silkworm and the honey bee. To the latter Dr. Lamborn's attention has recently turned, doubtless with a view to bringing about the advent of the much needed "cottoning bee."

Although apiculture is the oldest economic pursuit, it is only within the last century that much scientific thought has been directed in the perfection of the various methods of raising and accomplishing in the line of developing a gentler bee, but at the expense of other qualities. To evolve an ideal bee some points must be considered which have hitherto been overlooked.

A desirable point of the trip with various races and an elimination of objections must require much patience, time and money.—Entomological News.

Improving the Bee. Among the many insects indispensable to the growth of the cotton, the silkworm and the honey bee. To the latter Dr. Lamborn's attention has recently turned, doubtless with a view to bringing about the advent of the much needed "cottoning bee."

Although apiculture is the oldest economic pursuit, it is only within the last century that much scientific thought has been directed in the perfection of the various methods of raising and accomplishing in the line of developing a gentler bee, but at the expense of other qualities. To evolve an ideal bee some points must be considered which have hitherto been overlooked.

A desirable point of the trip with various races and an elimination of objections must require much patience, time and money.—Entomological News.

Improving the Bee. Among the many insects indispensable to the growth of the cotton, the silkworm and the honey bee. To the latter Dr. Lamborn's attention has recently turned, doubtless with a view to bringing about the advent of the much needed "cottoning bee."

Although apiculture is the oldest economic pursuit, it is only within the last century that much scientific thought has been directed in the perfection of the various methods of raising and accomplishing in the line of developing a gentler bee, but at the expense of other qualities. To evolve an ideal bee some points must be considered which have hitherto been overlooked.

A desirable point of the trip with various races and an elimination of objections must require much patience, time and money.—Entomological News.

Improving the Bee. Among the many insects indispensable to the growth of the cotton, the silkworm and the honey bee. To the latter Dr. Lamborn's attention has recently turned, doubtless with a view to bringing about the advent of the much needed "cottoning bee."

Although apiculture is the oldest economic pursuit, it is only within the last century that much scientific thought has been directed in the perfection of the various methods of raising and accomplishing in the line of developing a gentler bee, but at the expense of other qualities. To evolve an ideal bee some points must be considered which have hitherto been overlooked.

A desirable point of the trip with various races and an elimination of objections must require much patience, time and money.—Entomological News.

Improving the Bee. Among the many insects indispensable to the growth of the cotton, the silkworm and the honey bee. To the latter Dr. Lamborn's attention has recently turned, doubtless with a view to bringing about the advent of the much needed "cottoning bee."

Although apiculture is the oldest economic pursuit, it is only within the last century that much scientific thought has been directed in the perfection of the various methods of raising and accomplishing in the line of developing a gentler bee, but at the expense of other qualities. To evolve an ideal bee some points must be considered which have hitherto been overlooked.

A desirable point of the trip with various races and an elimination of objections must require much patience, time and money.—Entomological News.

Improving the Bee. Among the many insects indispensable to the growth of the cotton, the silkworm and the honey bee. To the latter Dr. Lamborn's attention has recently turned, doubtless with a view to bringing about the advent of the much needed "cottoning bee."

Although apiculture is the oldest economic pursuit, it is only within the last century that much scientific thought has been directed in the perfection of the various methods of raising and accomplishing in the line of developing a gentler bee, but at the expense of other qualities. To evolve an ideal bee some points must be considered which have hitherto been overlooked.

A desirable point of the trip with various races and an elimination of objections must require much patience, time and money.—Entomological News.

Improving the Bee. Among the many insects indispensable to the growth of the cotton, the sil