

THE LESSON OF ECONOMY.

The financial panic through which the country has passed in the last few months has taught a practical lesson to the citizens of the United States, and that is, economy. Wealth has been accumulated easily, and, in consequence, money has been expended with an extravagant hand.

THE TARIFF.

The country awaits with anxiety the action of the Democratic party on the tariff question, and on this will depend its real or woe for the future. Ever since the republic existed a protective policy has been followed, and any attempt at change has been fraught with disastrous consequences.

THE RESULT IN NEW YORK.

The defeat of Maynard in New York is no cause of surprise. It was well known that a good many men in his own party would not support him. He stole certain election returns which, in turn, enabled his party to steal the state senate, and, as another necessary consequence, gain absolute control of the legislature.

HAWAIIAN MATTERS.

The letter of Secretary Gresham on the Hawaiian question has made plain the position of the administration, and no doubt can hereafter be entertained that Cleveland and his cabinet are opposed to the annexation of these islands.

THE ORDINANCE.

Our evening contemporary had a very sensible criticism of a city ordinance in its last issue, and which it denominated "not only impolitic but idiotic." Whoever the author may be, he should know that every municipality, as agent of the state, has authority granted to it which may appear as an abridgment of personal rights to one living in the country.

OUR POSITION.

In reference to the ordinance regarding tying and feeding horses on the streets and cows running at large, day or night, the TIMES-MOUNTAINEER is favorable to the law passed in 1889, and it seeks nor expects any favors from any class or clique.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Penney's Thanksgiving day will be principally observed in this state by athletic sports and parties in the evening; the president's by prayer and turkey-devouring. Which is the more appropriate observance we leave other to decide.

The newspapers are trying Pendergast for the murder of Mayer Harrison, and this court has decided that it was sane enough to find Harrison's house and fire a pistol at him, he was responsible for his act.

The public mind is not in a conservative condition since the panic has depressed business and depreciated values. It cannot be expected that men will reason coolly on subjects when their means of sustenance have been stopped, or when they cannot relieve their families from the pang of starvation.
