

ITEMS IN BRIEF

Mr. E. Bergeson, of the Cascade Locks, is in the city today.
Two members of the Demos family of rustic came in the city last night on the boat last evening.
The Sherman county case, State vs. Douglas, has continued on until a date to be named in a later issue.

Of hell where his dirty soul will be cloaked in the purple and excruciating fire of damnation instead of hell left in the penitentiary where the abortion should be doing time."
From Thursday's Daily
C. M. Greene, of Portland, is in the city.
Mr. G. D. Woodworth, of Hood, is in the city.
Capt. H. C. Coe and wife, of Wood River, came to the city on the Arma last evening.
Dr. R. L. Ashbrook and Alex. Ashbrook, of Wheeler, W. Va., are registered at the Umatta House.

A marriage license was granted yesterday afternoon by the county clerk to F. A. Coe and Miss A. Durbin, both of Astoria.
Miss Meina Hill, a graduate of the state university of this year's class, arrived home from Eugene this morning.
A force of employes have been busy for the past few days in paving the rails and ties from the wrecked bridge over Mill creek.

A large force of men are employed in repairing the roadbed between this city and Clatsop, and will be ready for traffic in a few days.
Next Monday the officers elected on the 4th of this month will take their positions, and are already becoming acquainted with the routine work.
From Celilo east the road track is being repaired as rapidly as possible, and it will be laid a little while before communication with the far east will again be established.

There were one hundred head of cattle shipped to the Union Meat company at Astoria and another hundred at Clatsop, W. O. Salter, manager of the firm, who is here on a business trip.
There is a man living in Moscow, on the outskirts of civilization, who has twenty-five children. When a resident of Astoria, he was a well-to-do farmer and he moves first into the woods.
Mr. R. W. Baxter, general superintendent of the Union Pacific, and Mr. A. J. Boris, superintendent of the western division, passed down the river this morning on the Astoria.

Mr. Chas. Wintermuth, of the class of '96 of the state university at Eugene, arrived in the city yesterday. He will spend the week-end at the home of his parents in Harney county.
During the flood many industrious persons employed their time in saving drift, and now that the river has receded are busy gathering their hauls, which will result in many instances in large quantities of fuel and some valuable timber.
The case of State of Oregon vs. Walter Douglas, charged with the murder of Fred M. Huxford, was tried in the circuit court by change of venue from Sherman county.

We understand there was some exhibition of the fire at the city yesterday. Two members of the different companies were on the contest for getting the first water. Shows were struck, water infernos, and a general fight was only prevented by the interference of cooler heads.
The second of the cases in which a change of venue was taken from Sherman county was on trial today. This case is entitled State of Oregon vs. E. M. McEvoy, et al., and is charged with the murder of Fred M. Huxford. The case was tried in the circuit court by change of venue from Sherman county.

The successful candidates in Harney county were: Perry Rathbun, Populist, county judge; F. L. Shuler, Democrat, clerk; A. G. Giffin, Populist, elected sheriff; Sam Miller, Democrat, assessor; J. S. Gorr, Republican, treasurer; A. B. Mark, Republican, commissioner; Charles Newell, Republican, school superintendent; T. A. McKinnon, Democrat, surveyor; George Southworth, Populist, had no opposition for coroner.
About 50,000 pounds of wool were received at Moody's warehouse yesterday, and it was one of the busiest days of the season. At present there are no transportation facilities, east or west, and this has had a bad effect on the wool market. There are several buyers in the city who offer what they consider fair prices, but which sellers consider very low. If the railroad were in good condition, east and west, there would be buoyancy in the local market for this product not expected for some time past.

At the fire last evening a mid-directed stream of water knocked off a woman's hat into the flames and it was consumed before she could reach it. She was in a clothing store, and she was wearing a hat with a large plume. She was rescued by the firemen, but she was badly burned. Her name is not known.
The Union Pacific road has been put in repair from Umatta down to Hills junction, and the people of Heppner are again in communication with the rest of the world. It is expected that the road will be open from Portland to the Cascade locks by Saturday night, which will help out wonderfully in making repairs to them in this city, as it will enable material of all kinds to be sent down to them by cargo train. Celilo to be sent along the line, which will enable the work of repairing to be carried on at several places simultaneously. Over 1000 men are at work between Hills and Willows. It is expected that the line will be in working order to the east by July 15.

Mr. E. C. FitzPatrick, the stock inspector of the county, is in the city today.
Mr. Chas. M. and wife, of Centerville, Wash., are visiting friends in the city.
The wool scouring mill at Pendleton is doing a fine business. There should be a good supply of wool for the market.
Mr. F. V. Silvertooth, who has been in the city for two days, returned to his home at Granite Creek today.
Yesterday afternoon a marriage license was issued by the county clerk to Mr. C. O. Horning and Miss L. M. Rand.

Mr. T. J. Driver, the sheriff-elect, has moved his family from Waco to this city, and hereafter they will reside at the Dalles.
As the name indicates, Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer is a renewer of the hair, including its growth, health, youthful color, and beauty. It will please you.
The recorder's court has furnished no pabulum to hungry reporters during the past few days, and all anxious inquirers after news were answered in a negative.
As a reminder of the recent flood the lamp placed in front of this office to indicate the landing of the free boat for the Umatta House still remains in position.
Prairie fires have been raging in Umatta county, and Senator J. H. Raley's farm near Pendleton suffered from the flames and fire. The loss of grain and grass was destruction.

The Regulator brought to the city a large list of passengers last night. This morning the Astoria boat was docked at the rail road terminals, and persons desirous of going east made close connection.
One hundred sacks of wool were received today at Moody's warehouse from Silver Lake in Southern Oregon. This is about 200 miles distant from The Dalles, and this city is the most available market.
Mr. N. J. Simott, of this city, will deliver the lecture on the "Great Flood of 1933" at the Sherman county. The young man is a fluent speaker, and we congratulate the county on securing such choice talent on the occasion.
Mr. C. Leroy Phillips had a basket of cherries with him today, from his garden in the city, which were the finest we have seen this season. Some of them were nearly the size of plums, and they had the most delicious flavor.
Not many business houses in these United States can boast of fifty years' standing. The business of Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass., whose incomparable Sarsaparilla is known and used everywhere, has passed its half-century and was never so vigorous as at present.

There is still a forlorn and solitary boat on the river, on which the bill for wharves has accumulated to quite a sum. If not removed soon the craft will not satisfy the charge.
When the blood is loaded with impurities, the whole system becomes disordered. It is not only a matter of health, but of life. In such cases, a powerful alternative is needed, such as Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It never fails, and has no equal.
The Irms arrived with the mail from the Cascade about 6 o'clock this morning, and will apply prolong the time in which to complete the improvement. Mr. Morgan described minutely the work done by the contractor, and says it was heretofore accomplished. It was extended to the government buildings and contracted of sand bags and stone, and on top of these were laid fascines, kept down by heavy rocks, so that the ends of the brush should lay over and save the washing of the outer walls. This work will be finished in a few days, and about $3000 worth of material was used. During the time this was being done electric lights were used along the line of the work, and there was no cessation night or day. The loss of the day boat was a great deal of money, but the injury to machinery and damage to property which was submerged by the river. As soon as possible work will be continued on a grand scale, but the change of plans will put off the time of realization of an open river fully a year.

Weather Bureau
Following is crop-weather bulletin, No. 13, of the Oregon state weather service, for the week ending Monday, June 23, 1924, by B. S. Fague, local forecast official.
The weather continues cool, partly cloudy and a few light showers have occurred. The mean temperature ranged from 58 to 64 degrees, which is practically the same as last week. There has been an absence of warm fronts and the nights continue to be quite cool.
Crops.—The harvesting of rye is now in progress in the Columbia river valley, where also the barley will soon be ready to cut. Winter wheat is very promising; spring sown and volunteer crops will make a good yield. Grains are generally very bright, and the wheat prospects are usually the poorest, this year, of the prospects of Umatta, Sherman and Union. The hay crop is heavy. Some hay ranches and orchards were ruined for this year's crop at the flood in the Columbia. The fruit prospects are generally very bright, although the blueberries did do considerable damage. "I have never seen better prospects for good crops," writes several local correspondents. To the south of the Columbia river valley the late frosts, extending to the middle of June, did considerable damage, especially to vegetables. A Grant county correspondent reports "the fruit crop very short, almost a failure. The hay crop is pronounced about a green fly is damaging fruit trees. Squares are doing damage." Generally through the river in the Columbia valley the crop is good. Snow fell to the depth of two inches on the 10 and 11th at Klappan Falls. Sheep shearing is practically completed and the wool is unusually clean, heavy and of long staple.

The Columbia and trilateral rye crops continue to be a veritable river to within their banks. The waters yet continue to be high; but they are below the destruction point. The river will continue to fall, though the decline will be slow, not much over a foot during the next seven days.

A Fireman Injured
Union Pacific passenger No. 1 was delayed Saturday night and did not reach here until Sunday morning at 2 o'clock, says the Astorian.
The cause of the delay was the striking of a freight train beyond Willbur. The train consisted of two engines, a passenger train and a freight train. The passenger train was delayed by the freight train. The cause of the delay was the striking of a freight train beyond Willbur.
