The value of the personal and real estate of the deceased is placed at $217,000. By a special provision in the Petitions to sell liquors of N. A. Anderwill, Mary E. Wells, widow of deceased, 18 appointed executrix without bonds. The locument is a long one, carefully written Petitions of Thos. Scully and P. McAl and expressed and is modified in some particulars by a codicil attached. By the terms of the will one-half of the entire property goes to Mrs. Wells. The other half, after deducting a tew bequests to relatives, none of which exceed $2000, is to be divided, share and share alike, between Ruby Wells, only daughter of the deceased, and Horatio Wells, a nephew. The latter is to assist in settling up the estate, and to secure his share in it must remain in Oregon as a bona fide resident unclaims for damages. Prayer of petition | til the estate is settled. Should he reside without the boundaries of the state for six months he is to lose his share in the estate.

DUFUR, Sept. 13, 1894. Editor Trues Monstard Pro-

Yesterday added two more accidents to the list that has been happening in this vicinity lately. Mr. W. R. Menefee and his wife were thrown from their buggy, or rather the buggy was upset upon them in onsequence of the horse being frightened at a pack horse, loaded, that came galloping along the road. By good luck the single tree broke and the horse was free to run away, leaving Mr. Menefee and wife coopsd up in the buggy top with the running gear and bed above them. The buggy was badly damaged, but luckily both parties were bat

The other accident happened by Hugh falling from a wagon in such manner as to break his right arm. In the absence of other surgeons, Mr. H. Johnston and W. Heisler set the bone. The placky little boy atood their torture with great fortitude, and from what we learn their torture was as little as is usual under such circumstanges. Mr. J. K. Lang and Coptain N. Lane, of Portland are with us for a few days shooting on the prairies. They have had reasonably good sport, at least so they report.

Murdered For His Money: Atbany Herald

The unknown man who was reported n the Herald Sunday morning as being ound dead in the road near Sweet Home has been identified as James Mc-Gee, of Portland, and a peddler, aged 23 ears. At the coroner's inquest, which was held late Saturday evening, the

PURE following facts were ascertained and the verdict was that he had been murdered CLEAR Three suspicious characters had been SKIN seen with him on his journey across the AYERS nountains from Prineville to the valley. The body was found at a sharp bend in the road, showing the murderer had lain in wait for his victim. Three shots were heard in quick succession in that MENTAL vicinity about the time he was supposed ENERGY to be passing that point. The suspicious AYER'S
