and Elect Their Ticket. Dispatches were received late yesterday fternoon of the result of the vote in the different states, and this indicated a large Republican majority. This created con siderable excitement, and in the evening in anxious crowd watched the bulletins as they were posted in the Umatilla House. The office of this popular hotel was well filled, and each dispatch was arefully read.

The first news came from New York and gave the vote of precincts as they were counted. It soon became evident that Morton had been elected by a very large plurality, and this created great enhusiasm among Republicans. Other dispatches followed from different states and all these showed large Republican gaines. Illinois gave the Republican ticket a largely increased majority, so did Indiana, Massachusetts, Penusylvania, Ohio and many other states. South Dakota had wheeled into the Republican column, Virginia was doubtful, and Wilson, the author of the twriff bill, had been defeated in his own district, and Democratic majorities had decreased in every gressmen were expected from Florida and one from Louisiana. Dispatches continued in this strain until 12 o'clock, and Republican enthusiasm knew no bounds. It was a cyclone that had swept over the country, and the doom of tree trade was definitely settled. The latest bulletins received indicate that Morton's plurality in New York will be 150,000, and that the legislature will be Republican. In Massachusetts the Republican majority will reach 50,000, and large games are reported in Nebraska. Indiana, usually a Democratic state, gave 40,000 majority to the opposite party. In Maryland the Republicans elected two congressmen and possibly four. New Hampshire elected the Repnblican state and congressional ticket. In Penusylvania the majority is largely increased, and in Randall's old district a Republican is elected. Colorado gives the ticket 18 000 majority, and in Connecticut the Republicans carried state and congressional ticket by a good majority. Iowa has come back to the fold the Republicans. Chicago has gone Republican, and Illinois will give 30,000 majority to the ticket. The Virginias are doubtful, except in Wilson's district in West Virginia, where he is defeated by 1000 majority. Reports are meager from California and Washington, but the latter has elected the two Republican congress men and the state ticket. A dispatch from San Francisco at 11 e'clock today says: 630 precincts polled 102,048 votes,
