Last week the California & Oregon Land Company paid $2408.40 taxes on its land in Klamath county, where it has 145,000 acres of land, granted originally to the Oregon Central Military Wagonroad Company, the total grant amounting to 1,100,000 acres. The road was never really built, but the Klamath Falls Express says that the state derives more benefit by the receipt of taxes from the lands than it would by disposing of them otherwise, would by disposing of them otherwise, for the property is practically value-less, and not more than one tenth of the acreage would ever be settled

The way to reach catarrh is through the blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla, by purifying the blood, removes the cause of the disease and permanently cures catarrh. Take only Hood's. There was a person who was decidedly drunk last night, and the hours of darkness were slept away under lock and key. This morning he was brought before the city recorder, and was mulcted in the usual fine. A bountiful rain fell at Condon and vicinity Tuesday evening, and contin-ued untill 10 o'clock Wednesday morning. This did a great deal of good t the farms of Gilliam county, and bountiful harvest is expected.

When the blood is impure or impoverished, boils, pimples, headaches neuralgia, rheumatism, and various other diseases are developed. Take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It purifies, invig-orates, and vitalizes the blood, and retores vigorous health.

The next attraction at the Baldwin opera house will be a dramatic com-pany that will play the entire week beginning May 13th, with a change of programme each evening. There are seventeen members of the troupe, and they will play at popular prices.

have lately, through the columns of the Oregonian, given the farmers much sage advice as to how to con-duct their business in order to prosper. It would now seem the proper thing for one hundred eminent farmers to tell the lawyers and business men how to conduct their business in order to prosper. Good advice of this sort doesn't cost much, and—it would be ungracious to discuss its value.

HOMICIDE IN WALLOWA.

John Flemming Instantly Killed by John A dispatch dated Enterprise, Ore., A dispatch dated Enterprise, Ore., April 30th, has the following:
John Flemming, a young farmer living about four miles southeast from Enterprise, was shot and instantly killed yesterday morning by John Basim. The two lived neighbors. Flemming and his Zywarzeld son rode over ming and his 7-year-old son rode over to the Basim ranch in the morning to look for a cow. Basim and Flemming had some hot words, about the cow trespassing on Basim's property. Basim, who was plowing at the time, unhitched his horses and rode on to his house about half a mile away, while Flemming and the boy continued to search for the cow. Basim soon resim rode over and told his brother what he had done, and then came to this place and gave himself up to Sheriff Neal.

Both parties are well known here. Basim has been considered an excel-lent citizen, but is said to be a man of very high temper. The examination der, in the first degree, is now in prog-ress before Judge Olmstead. At the inquest over the remains of flemming the coroner's jury returned a verdict of murder against Basim. Both the parties connected with the has caused a great amount of public

Rev. W. C. Curtis, pastor of the Con-gregational church in this city, was in dance, and returned last evening. He reports that the meeting was very interesting to all concerned in the work, and the people of Condon were very courteous to the visitors. The church building was wrecked by a cy-clone recently, but the association took hold of the matter, and stimulated the people to an extra effort and the edifice will be rebuilt at once. There were present ministers from churches in different parts of the state, and they appeared well pleased at the progress being made in their fields of The sessions were made inter-esting by the discussion of pertinent subjects, and the sermons and ad-dresses delivered in the evening were especially good. There was a good attendance of people at all the meetings, and it was very much regretted when the association adjourned.

Winter Was Drowned. The Enterprise at Aurora confirms the report of the drowning of W. H. Winter, a prominent stockman of Prairie creek, in Snake river. It learns that Mr. Winter started about noon, Saturday a week ago, from his camp to go to go the Warnock stock ranch about a mile distant along a dangerous trail close to the river. In passing a steep incline, the mule he was riding slipped and went over the bluff about 50 feet and went over the bluff about 50 feet into the river, carrying the rider with him. The dead mule and saddle were found on the bluff. Also blood and some hair was found where Winter's head struck a rock in his fall. A diligent search was made for the body, but without success at the time of Frank Winter's departure for the valley. The deceased was well advanced in years, and was a highly respected citizen and From a gentleman who came from Wamic yesterday we learn a very bountiful rain fell there Tuesday night and Wednesday morning; but there was less rainfall at Tygh and Dufur. Laban Johnson, who caused the death of Mrs Crumpacker, of Pomeroy, is described by the Courier as being a slight built young man, rather well dressed, and carries his arm in a sling from the effects of the wound he received at the hands of Crumpacker. To a casual observer he would appear as if belonging to the "tin-horn" fraternity and a man capable of attracting the attention of weak minded women. The sympathy of Garfield county citizens seems to be with the husband, where it justly belongs.

Hard Up.

The Astoria Budget is hard up. It appeals for money: The Budget don't want much money but it would like to have a dime once in a while just for the luck, and enough to buy a pot roast at least once a month. COMMENDABLE ENTERPRISE, he New Opera House Will be of Large Proportions and Capable of Seating

Mr. Max Vogt is pushing work on the opera house, and will have it com-pleted at the earliest possible date. The walls are solid and in good condition, and these will require but little repairing. Over two of the doors the lintels were broken as a result of the fire, and these have been replaced by new ones. The roof willbe supporte of by trusses of the Howe pattern, and the span will be 63 feet in length. This will do away with all pillars in the auditorium, and will give clear space for drilling and for seating purposes. When finished the hall will be 125x60 feet, with 29-foot ceiling, and a space of about 32 feet will be used for the stage and dressing rooms. The entrance will be on Third street, near he center of the block; but there will be several exits on the alley, so that, in case of accident, there will be an opportunity for all to escape.

Mr. Vogt is entitled to considerable ndation for his enterprise in refitting this building. During the con-flagration of September, 1891, he was a heavy loser, and his elegant three-story brick blocks went up in flames without any possibility of averting the destruction. This discouraged him for a long time, and he considered it a waste of money to put it in buildings to furnish food for flames. The pros-pects of a revival of business this summer has given him confidence that there will be better times in the future, and the worst depression has passed. When the house will be ready for occupancy Mr. Vogt will have spent several thousands of dollars, and it will be ready to the several thousands of the several thousands. it will be of great benefit to the city. It is hoped that it will be the beginning of an era of enterprise and investment in The Dalles, and that the city will give evidence of permanent advancement during the coming sea-

He at first denied that he had committed at first denied that he had committed the robbery, but when confronted by Saylor acknowledged that he was guilty and asked for mercy. The facts in the case are as follows: Mr. Say-lor's wife was absent on a visit to friends, and Welch stayed with him doing chores around the house. He had implicit confidence in the fellow, and he occupied the same bed with Saylor. The barber, after his day's work, was in the habit of putting the purse containing his money under the mattress. Welch had taken careful note of this, and had made his plans accordingly. Mrs. Saylor was expected home Wednesday, and Saylor informed Welch of the fact. Early in the morning, Welch got up and went out, and Saylor thought nothing of the matter until the west bound train pass-ed down the road. He then suspected that something was wrong, and searched for his purse. It was missing, and his suspicion fastened on Welch. On making inquiries at the depot he found that Welch had taken that train for that Welch had taken that train for The Dalles. He immediately telegraphed to this city, and the man was arrested. Fortunately the money was found on his person, excepting 75 cents, which it is presumed he paid to a brakeman for the privilege of riding on the blind baggage. Mr. Saylor, notwithstanding the fact that he is out the expresses of his trip to. was Carlyle's expression of the experience of many people who reach middle life before their digestive organs loudly protest against improper food. The first warning generally comes from food cooked with lard. How often we hear the remark, "I like it, but dare not eat it." To anyone in this common condition

indeed a boon. By the use of this new and wonderful foodproduct the disagreeable effects of lard-cooked food arealtogether avoided. The features of economy, convenience and adaptability, emphasize the above, and demand the attention of careful housekeepers to Cottolene.

IT'S INIURIOUS TO STOP SUDDENLY and don't be imposed upon by buying a remedy tha requires you to do so, as it is nothing more than a substitute. In the sudden stoppage of tobacco you must have some stimulant, and in most all cases, the effect of the stimulent, he it opium, morphine, or other opiates, leaves a far worse habit contracted. Ask your druggist about BACO - CURO. It is purely vegetable. You do no have to stop using tobacco with from nicotine as the day before you took your first chew or smoke. An iron clad written guarantee to absolutely cure the tobacco habit in all its forms, or money refunded. Price $1.00 per box or 3 boxes (30 days treatment or guaranteed cure.) $2,50, For sale by all druggists or will be sent by mail upon receipt of price, SEND SIX TWO CENT STAMPS FOR SAMPLE BOX. Dear sirs—I have been a tobacco fiend for many years, and during the past two years have smoked fifteen to twenty cigats regularly every day. My whole nervous system became affected, until my physician told me I must give up the use of tobacco, for the time being, at least. I tried the so-call d "Keeley vare," "No-To-tac," and various other reme ies, but without succes, until acci entaily learned of your "Baco-Cure." Three weeks ago today I commenced using your preparation, and today I consider myself completely cured; I sm in perfect health, and the horrible craving for tobacco, which every inveterate smoker fully appreciates, has completely left me. I consider your "Baco-Curo" simply wonderful, and can fully recommend it.

Yours very truly,

C. W. Horriox.
