a Diseased Mind.

SIOUX CITY, Ia., May 3.—Dispatches received by the officials of the Sioux City & Northern Railway Company at 4:30 this afternoon from the company's agent at Sioux Center, 45 miles northeast of here, tell of a terrible cyclone near there, in which a number of people were killed and injured and much property destroyed. The wires were blown down, and telegraphic reports are very meager.

The first dispatch received said the cyclone passed three miles northeast Sioux Center. Schoolhouses near the town were destroyed, teachers killed, path of the storm was devastated. The Sioux City & Northern track between Perkins and Doon was washed out for Dispatches from Sioux Center at 8:30 P. M. say three school houses and at least 20 residences and barns were swept away. At the school houses two teachers and three pupils were killed and many injured. Two women were found dead at 6 o'clock not far from the point where one of the school build-ings stood. One man who arrived in Sioux Center late in the evening re-ported that his house was blown away and his family killed. He himself escaped, and reports that at least 200 or 300 people must have been killed. Relief parties have been sent out from Hull, Sioux Center and Orange City, neighboring towns, but their work is being carried on in total dark-ness in the midst of a tremendous wind and rain storm. It is consequently progressing slowly. A number of bodies have been recovered, although the exact number cannot be learned Every one is violently excited, and definite accounts cannot be obtained. A MANIA

MEW YORK, May 3.-A London cable to a morning paper says: "Oscar Wilde is now said by his friends to be the victim of mania. Dr. Forbes Winslow and Dr. Blandford, eminent pecialists in diseases of the mind are busily occupied in investigating the record of the Wilde family and preparing a diagnosis of the patient's mental and physical bondition. It is more than likely that when Oscar Wilde is next placed on trial, the tes-timony of these learned men will be made a feature of the defense, in order o offset the possibility of the next ury finding him guilty of the charges brought against him. The plea will brought against him. The plea will be that he, guilty or innocent of the charge, is a subject for pathological treatment, and not for the laws of vengeance. This course is said to be contemplated by Sir Edward Clarke in opposition to the wishes of the Wilde's relatives. Great secresy is being observed in the matter and none of those concerned will talk of those concerned will talk Wilde's ancestors were afflicted, even in a remote way, with the form of degeneracy attributed to him. The hereditary problem is far more complex than that. Many forms of nervplex than that. Many forms of nervous diseases in parents might produce in the child pathological conditions that would, unless checked, bring him within the reach of the law. This is generally acknowledged by physicians and the profession is delighted at the prospect of this point of view becoming the issue at law.

Sir William Wilde Oscar's father.

Sir William Wilde, Oscar's father, was remarkably eccentric. although almost a genius as an oculist and as an antiquarian, Oscar Wilde has long been regarded as a subject of the form of insanity called by the French "folie ambitieuse" the signs of which are inordinate vanity and thirst for notor-

The Effect of the "Trilby" Craze Already HARTFORD, Conn., May 3 .- Norton Reed lies in the morgue here as a result of the "Trilby" craze, having committed suicide by taking arsenic while harboring the hallucination that he was under the hypnotic influence of Svengali, the bad man of Du

Reed was 18 years of age, the son o Mrs. Amos Pratt, who, as a widow, married a wealthy shipbuilder of Essex, Conn. Reed was fond of literature, chiefly novels. When "Trilby" came out he was enthusiastic and read the volume until he became "Trilby" mad. Mr. Hammond heard groans in the barn in the rear of his house and found Reed lying on the floor of the carriage

Mr. Angus was the late millionaire

Fair's private secretary and Mr. Mc-Enerney is of the counsel in the Fair will case. Mr. McEnerney declined to be interviewed further. This puts at rest the story that Angus and his associate, Mr. Louis Breese, conspired with McGlauffin & Co., to make a great wheat deal with the dead senator's money. MONTEREY, Cal., May 6.—The death in this city of William Tibbets ended a case which is almost without a parallel in medical history. The decea was a sufferer from dropsy, but the peculiarity is that he was in a state of partial petrification. His body was as rigid as stone. The pricking of a needle made no indentation in the flesh and all power of sensation had disappeared. Mr. Tibbets was taken to the German hospital in San Francisco, and nine physicians made close examinations and held many consul tations to discover the identity of the given the sufferer, and two weeks ago he was brought home to die. The Roseburg Plaindealer says: "The swine industry is destined to play an important part in the future of the farming community by reason of the fact that there is money in it. As one farmer put it, when he jingled $20 pieces in his pocket, 'that is the way to market wheat; drive it in on hoofs.' And while some conservative ones fear that if a large number go into this branch of business the pork market is likely to be overstocked, still we believe it will be practically impossible to affect the market by all the
