THE CATTLE SUPPLY

Beef Cattle Show a Material Shortage Over Last Year.

From four journals published at Chicago, South Omaha and Kansas City, figures are taken showing how the receipts of cattle have fallen off this year, even though the entire west has been carefully searched for mar ketable steers.

At Kansas City, up to the middle of May, the receipts were from January 1st: 1894, cattle, 532,395; 1895, 464,552; decrease, 67,843; calves, 1894, 8730; 1895, 13,361; increase, 4631; hogs, 1894, 963,267; 1895, 985,572; increase, 22,305; sheep, 1894, 206,434; 1895, 314,314; in-107,880; horses, 1894, 15,966;

1895, 17,019; increase, 1053.

At South Omaha receipts from January 1st to May 15th were 168,656 cattle, 496,343 hogs, 77,975 sheep, 1559 horses and mules, showing a loss of 16,908 sheep and a loss of 680 horses and mules as compared with 1894. A dispatch from Port Townsend, Wash., says that the death and iden-tity of Ansel White, the lost heir to the $4,000,000 estate, has been fully established by the special commission sent to this coast by the probate court of Utica, N. He and the woman Port Angeles. He and the woman went to Illinois, where they separated. He drifted out through the west to California, and ultimately settled on a lonely ranch in the Olympic mountains, where 30 years later he died. His will, bequeathing all his worldly possessions to Preston M. Troy, is pronounced worthless in so far as it applies to the eastern estate. It was some years after White's death before he fell heir to the Utica estate, and no mention of this estate was made in the

THE SILVER LAKE HORROR.

Yesterday there arrived in the city Mr. J. H. Buick from Silver Lake erchandise for Mr. F. M. Chrisman. the proprietor of the building in which the holocaust occurred last Christmas. Mr. Buick was in the hall when that terrible fire happened, and his wife and a boy seven years old perished in the flames. He carried one boy out of the building, and thought his wife was following him with the other; but on ooking back saw that she nor the boy owed him, and the hall was enveloped by the flery demon. On the ground around the store there were several who had escaped death, but were in a terribly burned condition. The tale is yet fresh in the memory of our citizens, and has often been relat ed; but our reporter could not help but take an interest in the recitals of an eye-witness. Mr. Buick very vividly describes the excitement when the lamp was overturned, and the brave efforts made by friends and relatives to rescue their loved ones from the ourning building. It is a mistake, he says, that the weak were pushed back nto the furnace of death by the strong in their efforts to escape. In many instances athletic young men perished, while small children and delicate persons saved themselves from the olocaust. When the first alarm took place from the burning lamp children and women ran out, while the men stayed and attempted to subdue it. In his opinion the casualties were caused n many cases by persons being over ome by the gas from the burning oil in the close room, which suffocated them and rendered them powerless to help themselves. His brother, J. J. Buick, was one of the ictims, and the widow, aside from her ushand, lost her mother, two sisters. ne brother, an aunt, niece and other elatives-in all fourteen-in this terrible harvest of death. Some families were completely wiped out, and the death list included husbands and wives, who stayed and met their fate together, mothers who perished in the attempt to save their children, fathers who fought the flames to rescue children, and one young man and woman, to be married in a few days, were burned to a crisp clasped in each other's arms. The sight around the building was something that was terrible to witness, and the memory of which will never be effaced from the mind. Lying on the ground were several in the last agonies of dissolution, who had nanaged to escape from the building, but who were so badly burned that re-covery was hopeless. Others suffered rightful burns, and were rolling on he ground as some means of relief from the terrible pain they were suf-fering. The wild excitement of the rowd attempting to save themselves and their loved ones from the hell of flames in the building, and the shrieks and groans of the injured and dying made the scene a perfect pandemonium. Mr. Buick was loath to talk about the event, and in relating the occurrence he seemed to live over again that terrible night at Silver Lake, which cost him his wife, child and brother. The horror of the scene will haunt him always, and our reporter drew the facts from him after very many ques tions were asked. Buick has his remaining son with him, and in care of his sister-in-law, Mrs. J. J. Buick, he will send him to his father, Hon. D. S. K. Buickformerly editor and proprietor of the Plaindealer—at Roseburg. Although 230 miles distant from Silver Lake, The Dalles is the most available trading point, and the best way he had to reach the Willamette valley. The road to this city is very good, and passable at all seasons of the year, while to Eugene or to Ager, Calif., it is mountainous and almost impassable for wagons.

The political education of the people of all countries, except where despoism reigns, is the aim and duty of the press. A man wants to be an active citizen of this country cannot therefore keep abreast the requirements of the times unless he is a diligent student of the press And how a man can claim to exact th full right and privileges of American citizenship without being a careful newspaper reader, is something that I cannot understand. He certainly can-not understand his duties, and inas-

Grant County Trade

The business men of the The Dalles hould take note of the following from he East Oregonian: A telephone line from Pendleton to Burns, by way of Alba, Ukiah, Long Creek, John Day City and Canyon City, would do more to bring the people of Umatilla, Grant, Harney and Malheur counties together and make Pendleton he trade center thereof than any other one enterprise. Business would grad-nally follow this telephone line and the town furnishing the quickest, most direct communication would become the mart of the producing people of those counties. The telephone line would make communication easy and this within itself is the greatest incentive to business and developer of trade.

Attend to the Orchards. The Albany Herald says: "In pas ing through the different portions of the state, one cannot help observing that in spite of the new horticultur law the old orchards continue to be a harbor for insects and a fertile field moss and dead limbs. The only conclusion that can be arrived at from this observation is that to be effective a law must perforce voice the popular sentiment of the people, and it appears that the people do not consider the special work of caring for and proper cultivation of fruit trees to be essential, or these remnants of old orchards would be renovated or cleaned out, so destructive insects to prey newly planted trees."

Good Placer Yield. La Grande Chronicle: Elam Harnish and Joe Worsnick are down today from the Grande Ronde district where they are associated with Paul Bozinni and Albert Loiselle in the "Four Nations" placer claim. The claim has been worked but three weeks this season with three men, and the yield is about $7000 in dust which was brought down today, or an average of over $11 per day to the man. Last season this claim was worked and gave an average of $8 per day to the man. They are ground sluicing, but have better facilities than they had last year.

Dear sirs—I have been a tobacco field for many years, and during the past two years have smoked fifteen to twenty ciga a regularly every day. My whole nervous system became affected, until my physician told me i must give up the use of tobacco, for the time being, at least. I tried the so-call d "Keeley Cure," "No-To-"sc." and various other reme less but without success, until I acci estaily learned of your "Baco-Cure." Three weeks ago today I commenced using your preparation, and today I comst er myself completely cured; I am in perfect health, and the horrible craving for tobacco, which every investments moker fully appreciates, has completely left me. I consider your "Baco-Curo" simply wonderful, and can fully recommend it.

Yours very truly,

C. W. Horrice.
