American Capital-Trouble in the South.

EL PASO, Tex., May 24.-Samue Clayborn, a negro about 26 years old. who came originally from Tuscaloosa Ala., arrived here yesterday from Mexico, accompanied by his wife and two children. He tells a sensational story. He says that a negro named Bill Ellis, who lives at San Antonio, visited Georgia and Alabama last fall and induced a colony of 800 negroes from the states to follow him to Mexico and locate in a barren valley on the borders of the states of Durango and Coahuila, about 40 miles east of Mapimi, on the Mexican Central railroad. Clayborn says he told the people that they were going to a perfect paradise: that the lands were fertile, and that homes would be given to every family free. But when the poor negroes reached their destination they were put to im-proving land under Mexican overseers, vere not paid for their work and were fed on the vilest food, and compelled to sleep on the ground.

On May 9th Clayborn, his family and about forty others of the negroes made their escape and were pursued by armed Mexicans. Clayborn became separated from the other fugitives, and succeeded in reaching Chihuahua. The thers were captured, and one of their number, Antonio Bones, of Eutlaw. Ala., who again made his escape and reached Chihuahua, says the pursuers shot and killed all of his party except himself. The United States consul at Chihuahua is investigating the affair.

BROWN THE ASSASSIN.

ROSEBURG, May 24-Murderer Brown is again safely lodged in the county jail. Brown left the jail at midnight Tuesday. Deputy Shipley went to bed about 10 P. M. After Shipley was asleep, Brown, knowing the cage to be unlocked, dressed. He first thought he would rob Shipley of his pistol and money and skip, but concluded he would not steal, and went out unarmed. He followed the wagon road to Wilbur, nine miles north, and then went three miles east to John R. Suthwent three miles east to John R. Sutherlin's, on the Umpqua river, arriving there about daylight. There he remained until the folks arose, and was given breakfast. Leaving there, he lay around in the woods, sleeping Wednesday night within half a mile of Sutherlin's father's house, in Camas Sutherlin's father's house, in Camas swale, where he formerly worked. He was afraid to go to the house, for he could see Deputy Shambrook there. Last night at 9 o'clock he came back to John R. Sutherlin's for supper. While eating, Sutherlin covered him with a Winchester, after which they saddled two horses and arrived here about 1 A. M., without a shot being fired.

MEXICAN MATTERS American Capital. Washington, May 24.—Senor Romero, Mexican minister, said today, concerning the intention of Mexico to decree an export duty discriminating against the American capital invested in Mexican mining enterprises, that he was not aware that such a bill had been approved by the Mexican congress, but that, as it was presented by the executive, he believed that it is very likely to be approved. Senor Romero further said that the real object of the pending bill was to distribute on the whole mining industry of Mexico the very high duty now levied upon the mining of silver. The present mining duty is 4.44 per cent. Senor Romero further said that the real object of the new bill is to distribute equally between all the silver producto decree an export duty discriminatequally between all the silver produc-ers of Mexico the present taxes which now lie on some classes of miners, and that the imputation that it is a discriminating measure against American capital invested in Mexico is utterly without foundation.

JOHANN TRANQUILINI DEAD. Was Killed

New York, May 24.—Johann Tranquilini is dead in the hospital of the New York City asylum for the insane on Ward's island. Just before his death he revealed the secret history of the Crown Prince Rudolph's death at Meyerling, January 30, 1889. Johann Tranquilini, while he was no more than an humble cab-driver, was the intimate friend and boon companion of Rudolph. For years all the royal frolics were familiar to him. He it was who were familiar to him. He it was who drove the crown prince on all unheralded excursions. Tranquilini gained for himself a place in the world of history when he drove the crown prince to Meyerling the night of Rudolph's death. When the rumors of the tragedy were whispered from mouth to ear in Vienna, it would seem that he was deemed uncertain as to his sine was deemed uncertain as to his silence. So, soon after the funeral, he left Vienna and came to this country. He seemed liberally provided with money, and for a time lived in lavish extravagance among the Austrians of the city. His claim was that the prince was attached by Baronass Vat. He seemed liberally provided with money, and for a time lived in lavish extravagance among the Austrians of the city. The former upheld their men in the stand they took, and the fact that by represent the most prominent and fluential class on the island today nly complicates the situation. It is declared if the order is not revoked or modified, a general mutiny will take place, and, as the volunteers hold the key of the situation, a revival of the scenes that took place in the '70s will be re-enacted. Dodgers have been circulated calling on volunteers to assemble in uniform. It is expected that in the excited state of the Havana citizens a riot will be the outcome.
