The first intimation the Curtis citizens had that the locality was threatened with disburst with a roar that could be heard several miles, and a wall of water 10 feet high rushed down the valley, car-rying everything in its path. Houses, freight cars, stock and mountain debries were caught up and dashed about like feathers. The fine roller mills, which occupied the east side of the great ravine, received the first shock of the torrent and the buildings

All details from the south where the torrent passed indicate very extensive damage. Farm products of every de-scription were engulfed, and in many instances where the homes of farmers were in the immediate vicinity of the valley, the disaster was almost ruinous. Small buildings were swept away or undermined in such manner as to be rendered worthless, and in some sections the water rose so rapidly as to seriously menace the lives of families. No loss of life thus far has been reported. Twenty miles to the south, where Medicine valley is confined to a official Statement From the Former Regarding the Controversy.

New York, June 3.—Important official news regarding the controversy between England and Venezuela has just reached this city, and is made public through the Venezuela yellow book. This volume is the report of the minister of foreign affairs to the national government, and corresponds with the annual report of our state device of the prisoners, one juryman having altered his judgment. On the fourth ballot, however, eleven clamored for acquittal, and when the roll was called for the fifth time the twelve men were found to be unanimous.

to arbitration, and in fact has even gone so far as to request England to settle the dispute in this way. It also states that the press of Venezuela and all English corporations doing business there have also endeavored to bring about the same end. Even the pope has interested himself in the controversy and offered his friendly services. The report closes with the significant words, after having explained all the measures taken by the present government in this important matter from the day of its inauguration:

> Otis Savage's appeal from the judgment of the circuit court of Wasco ment of the circuit court of Wasco county, imposing upon him a sentence of four years, for the alleged larceny of $14,000 from the office of the Pacific Express Company in this city, will probably not be decided by the Oregon aupreme court until early next year. The case will not be taken up before the middle of the October term, and "the mills of the gods grind slowly." Huntington & Wilson and Judge Bennet, attorneys for Savage, have just submitted their brief in the cause, but the brief of the prosecution may not the brief of the prosecution may not be filed until August 3d. Savage's counselors are serenely confident that a new trial will be granted their client.

The perilous feat of shooting the dalles in a skiff was performed last week by two men who had traveled hence all the way from Lewisson, Idaho, in their frail craft. Aside from a battered bow the boat came through without injury, but she shipped water sufficient to thoroughly drench Smith and Patterson, the bold navigators. Upon their arrival in The Dalles the two men became gloriously drunk in a well-meant effort to celebrate their exploit. Smith swas jailed, but sub-
