A comparison of the school system of The Dalles with other cities of the state will be of interest. Below we give some figures:

soon as the dry, hot weather begins these are occupied by herders who keep their sheep well in hand in the vicinity The greatest danger is from wild animals, and the attacks of these have to be warded off continually. They prowl around the herd at night, watching for an opportunity to carry off a stray lamb or feast upon a maimed ewe. Herders frequently have desperate fights with cougars and bears, and only conquor after an exhibition of pluck and perseverance.

SHERIFF'S SALE. Property, Sold Under the Hammer, to Which is Attached an Interesting History. This forenoon two sales were made of property on foreclosure of mortgage by J. C. Flanders, the mortgagor beng Rev. O. D. Taylor. The land sold comprised what was known as the Wilson farm and the Hill farm, the former containing 242 scres and the latter 815.15, and during the time of the North Dalles fradulent boom constitu-ing the acreage of The Columbia River Fruit Co. We have been nformed that the land is considered as security for several thousand dollars which the projector of North and Grand Dalles still owe the directors of the company, and it has been suggested that this foreclosure and sale may quiet the title to the property and destroy the security of Mr. Taylor's creditors in the fruit company. The property was bid in by Mr. J. A. Johnson, of Buffalo, who, some years ago, was induced to invest a large sum in North Dalles through the persuasive influence of the good sermons and button-hole conversations of the president of the Interstate Investment Co., and for which he has received little or no consideration There are also several other Buffalo creditors of the reverend gentleman and whose shekels have been invested in the rock piles and sand dunes of the barren waste on the north side of the river. Mr. Johnson bid the property in for $12,736, and we believe he have had a cheap bargain if he had paid $20,000 for the land. He is undoubtedly amply secured for whatever amount may be due him, and it was very fortunate that he should have apred at The Dalles during the time this sale was being made.

These circumstances will bring our citizens in recollection of the time when the east was flooded with literature regarding the great city in Washington; of the sale of corner lots when the shoe factory was built and the old shed farther up the river; of the poor, deluded people, having invested nearly all their money in this fraudulent scheme, coming out here to find the business point and the true city of the Inland Empire on the Oregon side of the river, instead of the Washington, and returning penniless and disheart-ened. The true history of North Dalles, alias Grand Dalles, will furnish an interesting chapter in some future work, and it will eclipse in every ele-ment of deception the "Eden" de-scribed by Dickens in Martin Chuzzlewit or the "Sea Dreams" of Tennyson.

This Little Town Shows Many Evidence The founder of the town of Rufus, Mr. R. C. Wallace, spent the day in the city on business. He says since the flood of June, 1894, Grant has become almost deserted, and the town of Rufus, two miles east, has given some signs of prosperity. A great many new buildings have been erected this season, and there are other evidences of enterprise and progress. Mr. Wallace has established a steam ferry on the Columbia, connecting the place with Washington, and there are good roads to Goldendale and other points 5 00 in Klickitat county. To Waszo ther 10 00 is a good road, and a great deal of 2 00 freighting is done to different points 2 00 in Sherman county. The railroad company receives in freights on car-load lots a large amount of money every month, and a large portion of the grain of Sherman is shipped from this point. Wheat arrives daily from last year's crop, and Mr. Wallace does not believe the farmers will be through hauling this grain before the coming harvest. There is no sand surround-ing Rufus, and this is a great consideration in hauling heavy loads. If the stages to Wasco and Goldendale were to make this a station the town would soon build up, and there is every pros-pect of this being done in the future. Mr. Wallace is very hopeful of the town, and expects to see it the leading place in Sherman county in a little while. ANOTHER GORGEOUS CAR COMES. Second Billing Brigade of the Great Wal

In some localities the harvest in this In some localities the harvest in this county has begun, and will be general in a few days. The first part of the season it was thought crops would be light; but the weather has been very favorable during the past two weeks, and from all reports there will be an average yield. This is encouraging, as the indications are that the market price will be higher than for some years. The last harvest was a phenomenal one in this region; but the nomenal one in this region; but the price was hardly sufficient to pay the cost of planting and cutting, and with an average crop this season and the price ranging from 50 to 60 cents, it will send more money in circulation than the abundance of grain did last

CURES CLEAR LIFE ENTERVA SARSAPARILLA of Hilsbord, Va., sends this testimony to the merits of Ayer's Sarsaparilla: "Several years ago, I hurt my leg, the injury leaving a sore which led to erysipelas. My sufferings were extreme, my leg, from the knee to the ankle, being a solid sore, which began to ex-tend to other parts of the body. After trying various remedies, I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, before I had finished the first bottle, I experienced great relief; the second bottle effected a complete cure."

you can it moving the Bulkhead and Other Work

The work of removing the bulkhead is being pushed with the greatest activity, and the contractors have about 300 men at work on this part of the canal. After the dirt has been re moved, which was thrown there in 1880 to save the works there are twenty feet of solid rock that will have to b blas d out before the walls above and below can be connected. This bulkhead has been in position fifteen years, and from the soil that was placed there to protect the works from the flood of that year shrubbery and trees have grown to a considerable height. The walls above and below this bulkhead are completed, and two gates are in position—one at the upper and another at the lower end of the canal. As soon as this is removed the walls will be connected by solid masonry, and the connected by solid masonry, and the embankment rip-rapped. Then two more gates will be put in and boats can pass through without any obstruction. Of course the work will not be finished; but it will be sufficiently so to answer the purposes of river traffic. It was calculated that it would take 75 days' work to remove the bulkhead, and this will be accomplished some time in September. The walls will then be finished and the gates placed n position, and the canal and locks a he Cascades will be a reality. All this work can be done by Christmas, and there can be no doubt that by that date the Columbia, so far as The Daller and vicinity are concerned, will flow unvexed to empty its wealth of waters into the lap of Mother Ocean.

WORK AT THE LOCKS.

Preparatory to Opening the Canal.

Arrested for Forgery. A man was arrested last night for passing forged checks on The Dalles National bank. He claimed when first taken in charge by the officer that he was a deputy sheriff from the Locks and had a warrant of arrest from Justice Birnie's court for a man by the name of Edwards; but afterwards told different stories in reference to his identity, and attempted to destroy some papers he had on his person by throw-ing them in the water closet. This morning when interviewed by a re-porter of the T.-M. he said his name was P. A. Mahaffey, and was en route to his home in La Grande from Seattle where he had sold some beef cattle. He got on a spree and spent nearly all the money he had. In appearance he is a good looking man, looked as though he had worked at hard labor, and does not appear as though he had followed sharp practices any length of time.

A Vancouver dispatch, dated yesterday, says: The sale of the Vancouver, Klickitat & Yakima railroad was consumated today, the purchase being in the name of C. N. Scott. By the terms of the sale, the purchasers paid about $5000 cash, and assumed indebtedness amounting to about $34,000. This indebtedness is to be paid in 15-year bonds, drawing 6 per cent; the purchasers also oblige themselves to build at least three miles of extension of the road this year. The sale puts an end to the litigation in the

The salmon season will end on the 10th of next month, and the run in this vicinity has been the poorest ever remembered since the industry has been started. A Sand Storm The east bound passenger train due at Pendleton at 6:20 in the morning was delayed until 10:10 yesterday morning. A freight train had been stalled in a sand drift four miles east of this city, and had to be dug out with shovels. The wind and sand storm of Tuesday afternoon was terrific. Huge masses of sand were moved, and in many places, the contour of the country was completely altered. It is the first train delay for many months on account of blowing sand. The company has resorted to every means to preveut such occurrences, and now only the most severe storms can seri-ously impede the passage of a passen-

Dr. James A, Richardson, formerly of this city, but at present residing in Salem, has received from the east some black bass which he has turned loose in Mill creek near the capita city. Judge Hayden, of Polk county has also received a number of these fish and placed them in a lake on his farm. These will largely multiply in numbers in a few years, when the streams in the Willamette will furnish

The Oregon Fruit Union removed its office yesterday from the Cosmopol itan hotel to the brick building occupied by The Dalles Lumber Co., on the opposite side of the street. Its manager will be busy during the next two days gathering and preparing for shipment east a carload of peach plums from this vicinity. This will be the first shipment of the season from Oregon, and will reach the market in fine condition, establishing the well-earned reputation of Dalles fruit in

A. O. U. W. Election The grand lodge A. O. U. W. now in session in Portland, elected the following officers yesterday: Master Workman, Wm. M. Colvig, of Jacksonville; foreman, John D. Coleman, of Portland; overseer, C. H. Stockton, of As-River; receiver, R. L. Durham, o Portland; supreme representatives, J. J. Daly, of Dallas, W. D. Hare of Hill-boro and W. W. Brannin of Pendleon; grand trustee, G. H. Durham, o

State vs. Hawthorne. The case of Hawthorne, who was placed under $100 bonds to keep the peace towards his wife, has occupied peace towards his wife, has occupied the attention of the justice court for the past two or three days. Before the bond was properly made out and filed he was again arrested for whipping his wife and brought before Justice Davis, who imposed on him a fine of $20. He was sent to jail in default of payment, and, having raised the money, was given his freedom this morning.

QUIT, BEFORE IT IS TOO LATE. To quit suddenly is too severe a hock to the system, as tobacco-to an inveterate user, becomes a stimulant that his system continually craves. "Baco-Curo" is a scientific and re-liable vegetable remedy guaranteed to be perfectly harmless and which has been in use for the last 23 years having cured thousands of habitua tobacco users—smokers, chewers and snuff-dippers.

You can use all the tobacco you want, while taking "Baco-Curo," it will notify you when to stop. We give a written guarantee to permanently cure any case with three boxes, or refund he money with 10 per cent interest. "Baco-Curo" is not a substitute but reliable and scientific cure—which osolutely destroys the craving for tobacco without the aid of will power, and with no inconvenience. It leaves the system as pure and free from nicotine, as the day you took your first

Just What's Needed Exclaims thousands of people who have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla at this season of the year, and who have noted the success of the medicine in giving them relief from that tired feeling, waning appetite and state of extreme exhaustion after the close confinement of a long winter season, the busy time attendant upon a large and pressing business during the spring months and with vacation time yet some weeks dis-tant. It is then that the building-up powers of Hood's Sarsaparilla are fully appreciated. It seems perfectly adapted to overcome that prostration life, and while it tones and sustains the system, it purifies and vitalizes the
