FRANKFORT, Ind., July 19 .- The discovery made yesterday of the skelemurder mystery in the history of Indiana. The remains have been identified as those of Miss Louella Mabbitt, who mysteriously disappeared 10 years ago, and for whose murder her lover, Omer Oreen, was lynched. About 10 years ago Miss Louella Mabbitt, a daughter of one of the leading citizens of Carroll county, and herself of society, left her home in the even-ing with her accepted suitor, Omer Green, a man of wealth and widely known. She failed to return home, and searching parties were organized. Green claimed to have let her out of his buggy at her home, and for a few days appeared distracted with grief and led searching parties everywhere. Evidence that indicated Green's guilt began to accumulate, and he sud-denly disappeared. At a bound excitedenly disappeared. At a bound excitement sprang to a frenzy. It became a sort of mania. Almost the entire population of Clinton, Cass, Carroll, Howard and Tippecanoe counties joined in the search. Houses were searched generally, whether people were suspected or not. Cellars and wells were explored everywhere, and every suspicious-looking mound of earth was dug up. The Wabash river was dragged for 50 miles, but the body of the woman was not found.

In the meantime the Pinkertons had been employed in the case, but after a year's hunt gave up finding either the girl's body or the murderer. Green was finally captured by the noted detective, Buck Stanley, in Texas, after two years' search and brought back to the scene of the supposed crime. He refused to say whether the girl was dead or alive, and was placed in jail at Delphi.

A few days later fully 2000 men took him from the jail, drove him to the Mabbitt house and lynched him. The father of the girl, who was very wealthy, spent all of his possessions following up any clew, believing his daughter yet alive. daughter yet alive.

The discovery of the body in the well yesterday was made by workmen who were cleaning it out, it having re mained unused for nearly 20 years. Green was last seen with the girl less than a mile from the well, which, at

This same filling was found in the teeth of the skeleton discovered. The teeth were also double. When a small girl she had three ribs broken, and

The popular excitement has again broken out in the neighborhood of the scene and hundreds of people are flocking to see the skeleton. The general verdict is that at last Indiana's great

VICTIMS OF HOLMES. CHICAGO, July 19 .- Another ig crime was laid at the door of H. H. Holmes, the notorious insurance swindler and the alleged murderer of the Pietzels. That Minnie Williams, of Fort Worth, Tex., met her death at the hands of Holmes there is no coubt. That she died in this city in a mindre warmer has been proved. violent manner has been proved almost conclusively. Late tonight the police found in a stove in the threestory brick building at 701 Sixty-third street, which was built by Holmes and in which both he and the Williams girl lived, a quantity of thered bones, buttons known to have been on a dress owned by Minnie Williams, and a partly melted portion of a watch chain, which was positively identified as havwhich was positively identified as having belonged to the girl.

The chain was instantly recognized by C. E. Davis, who occapies a portion of the store formerly occupied by Holmes when he was in the drug business as one that he had seen Miss Williams wear, and which he had on Williams wear, and which he had on two occasions repaired for her. Davis also claimed to recognize the buttons as those he had seen on a dress worn by Miss Williams, The ghastly dis-covery was made late tonight by a force of detectives, who had been all day at work searching the building from cellar to garret. The floors were taken up in parts, the walls were taken up in parts, the walls were sounded, and the big iron vault carefully inspected. The walls of the vault were found to be heavily protected with asbestos, which the police believe was placed there to deaden the sound.

taken when the police this morning received a communication from the Philadelphia authorities. The buildwas carefully gone over, and also the dummy elevator, which ran from the floor of the building to the basement without exit. On the top floor, in the room which was used by Holmes as an office, stood an immense stove, fully eight feet in diameter, with a door sufficiently large for the admission of a human body into the interior. This stove had, in the former examination of the house, never been looked into. Inspector Fitzpatrick opened the door and poked carelessly among the debris with his cane. Amost the first thing he turned up was a human bone badly charred. He hastily pulled it out, and found beyond question the stove were then dumped out, and portions of adult. The content of the stove were then dumped out, and portions of bones, too badly burned to admit of possible identification as belonging to any particular portion of the body, were found. A number of small buttons, said to have been worn in the front of Miss Williams' dress, were picked up, as was also about six inches of a gold watch chain which she wore. All of the sakes and debyis removed. from the stove were carefully preserved and taken to the station, where a more careful examination will be made. The police are of the opinion that not only Minnia Williams but her recognized.

A trusted messenger neatly robbed the New York Herald of $10,000 on Wednesday. He was sent late in the forencon to the Chemical National bank with a check for an even $10,000, signed by G. G. Howland, business manager. It was for the weekly pay-roll. The man had often taken this little trip to the bank, satchel in hand, and had always heretofore brought back the money safely and delivered it to the cashier. He placed the roll in the little satchel very carefully and departed. This was the last seen of

New York, July 22.—A cablegram received from Puerto Cabello, Venezuela, stated that another colony of Servian Brazilians sailed from that port for New York in the Red liner Caracas. She is due in Brooklyn about the last of the month. These foreigners are coming to join King Juan Miguel and his army of Brazilians who departed from New York in wagons on Friday for southern California. Before King Juan left the metropolis he arranged with the interpreters to meet the next party at the steamer and fit it out with another caravan and start it westward, King Juan left Jersey City by rail for Washington, where he will spend a week with the Brazilian minister, joining his caravan when it arrives in the capital.

They ranged from the city on a freight train from Pendleton. They ranged from the age of 14 to 16 years, and gave their names as George Gillenback, Andrew Anderson and Charlie James. One of the boys had re agers who would put such a play on the boards would do more to corrupt the youth of the city than all the heliholes of iniquity that flourish in San Francisco. Such plays would tend to cultivate a morbid spirit and lead the young men and women on the way to destruction.

Suspicious Action of the Bannocks.

A letter from Glenwood, says the Klickitat Republican, informs us that Ira Garner, a young man of 18 or 20 years whose parents reside between High Prairie and Lyle, was drowned last Sunday in a lake near Mount Advisor of the property of t last Sunday in a lake near mount Adams while bathing with a companion named Jake Prahl. Neither of the men were good swimmers and Prahl could render no effective assistance to his companion. The body had not been recovered when the letter was written, but a messenger had been sent to High Prairie to inform Mr. Graner of the less of his boy.

Sold by Auction Considerable excitement was creat Considerable excitement was created this afternoon by the city marshal selling a horse that he had in the pound for the cost of keeping. Horse-buyers congregated from near and far, and the animal was sold to the highest bidder for $16.75. This is not considered a fair price with what horses were worth a few years ago; but considering that canneries are buying them for $3 to $5 apiece this may be considered an indication that the market shows encouraging prospects.
