This will be her starting place here-after until high water next spring Miss Alma Heroux left on the boat this morning for Beaverton. When she returns she will bring with her two sisters and a brother, who are now attending school in that place.

Alma Davis, of Harney, Or., last week found in the mountains north of that town a flintrock rifle gun with the date "1823" on it. The stock was rot-ten and the barrel was bent. General supposition is that it was the property of the lost emigrants who told of the Blue Bucket mines.

Business was very good in the police court today. There were four persons arrested last night, three for being drunk and disorderly, and one for refusing to assist an officer in making an arrest. Two of the "drunks" were arrest. 'Two of the "drunks" were fined $5 a piece, and one $30, because the offense was aggravated by the fellow drawing a knife on the officer. The man who refused to help the policeman was fined $5.

The city recorder had before him this morning one hobo and one individual for fast driving through the streets of the city. The gentleman of leisure was given a ticket of leave, and it is earnestly hoped that he will place as long a distance as possible be-tweenhimself and The Dalles, and the fast driver left town.

W. F. Courtney, of Tacoma, Wash.,

W. F. Courtney, of Tacoma, Wash., arrived in the city on the noon train. He is en route to Crook and Grant countles, where he will examine a band of 3000 head of cattle for which he contracted last fall. From this city he goes to Heppner, and will leave there in his own conveyance for the journey through the interior.

It is said that live rabbits, either tame or wild pigeons, and frogs, will be used in classes in biological laboratory of the university this year, and that cash prices will be paid for the same. This would seem to offer an opportunity to our boys to turn an honest pensy by collecting such animals and selting them to the university when needed.

Moro Observer: So far threshing in Moro Observer: So far threshing in Sherman county has revealed the fact that there will be but a very small portion of the 1895 wheat graded No. 2. The berry is plump and nice, and the crop goes from 4 to 7 bushels more to the acre than was expected. One Hay Canyon field is reported to have yielded 40 bushels per acre. The yield of the county, in the aggregate, will be fully up to average years before the big yield of '94.

At the stockyards of R. E. Salt-marshe & Co. today are 80 fine Merino bucks, imported from the east. A large portion of these are the property of ex-Senator Hilton, who will take them to his Gilliam county farm, where he will use them for breeding where he will use them for breating purposes. It is reported from Oregon City that several young men met and effected the preliminary organization of an anti-bloomer society. This is supposed to have evolved from the agitation of che subject, begun by Professor Shorey's lecture at the Congregational church, Sunday night. They take the position that the bloomer is immoral and opposed to religion.

An Enterprise That Keeps Up With the Times. No industry in this city displays greater enterprise than the Columbia rewery. Every new device for the manufacture of beer known to those engaged in the business have been inroduced, and Columbia Brewery beer is known throughout Eastern Oregon and other portions of the state. The barley used is of the best quality, and brewers from the east have visited The Dalles to purchase this grain because it is considered by reason of the cli-mate and soil of great excellence. Another ingredient used is the purest water, and at great expense Mr. Buchr has an abundant supply of the bes of this element that can be procured. Then the help he employs are men thoroughly acquainted with the manu-facture of the beverage, and during the time that his head brewer, Mr. F. Furter, has suffered from the broken leg his place has been filled by an expert from Portland. Light drinks are considered by good citizens conducive of temperate habits, and if more beer and wine were drank in the United States and less strong liquors the evils f intemperance would not be so prev-California and elsewhere, and there-fore we believe that the manufacture beer and wine are desirable indusries, as they furnish markets for the products of the soil and do not conluce to the destruction of the morals of a community.

As a result of Mr. Buchler's enter prise his trade has largely increased and he now exports his beer to differ ent portions of the northwest. And this gentleman is worthy of success in anything he undertakes. One of nature's true noblemen-a man with his heart in his hand-there is no project for the building of the city to which he does not fend aid. Nearly every church that has been built since he has been in the city has had his name on the list as a subscriber and the projected Good Templars Home, a few years ago, received a dona-tion of $50 from him. He has made a monthly donation to the W. C. T. U. and if there is a fourth of July celebration, or any patriotic or local demons stration or charitable enterprise you will find his name among the foremost of the subscribers. Last, but not by any means least, he has always been an earnest friend to an open river, owns stock in the D. P. & A. N. Co., and ships every pound of freight by the Regulator. The opposition line has not a better friend in Eastern Oregon than August Buchler, and this creditable to his enterprise as a citizen and business man, Every man will wish him success, for, it is fair to pre-

E. Ross, a Snake river orchardist, has produced a new variety of fruit by crossing the apple and plum. The new fruit is somewhat the quality of wool grown in this county.

Hon. M A. Moody, who has been in attendance on the meeting of the executive committee of the Republican National League, held in Chicago on the Idd inst., returned last night. The troops kept every one away from the agency but those directly interested. The Lewiston banks stole a march on the bankers from Moscow, Kendrick, Kalispell and other points, the latter having no cash with them and being unable to induce the Indians to keep deposit money with them.

About $25,000 was paid out today. Three weeks will be required to compete payments. The Indians are flocking to the agency, the news having spread rapidly, Jim Reuben, an influer al Indian, gets 2 per cent. for conducting negotiatons, acting as interpreter, etc., and the banks get one-half of one per cent for cashing drafts. Most of the money will be deposted in Lewiston.

We are creditably informed that Mr. Parker Owens, the officer who arrested

Rev. O. D. Taylor in this city, did not have the requisition papers, but only the warrants issued upon them. The private secretary of Governor Lord is a Knight of Pythias, and so is Mr. Owens. After he had procured the requisition papers in duplicate he had a long conversation with Mr. Duniway, and, when he left the office, put the warrants in his pocket leaving the requisition on the table. did not find out his mistake until arrived at The Dalles, and then he came to the conclusion to do commonly called, "run a bluff." Great preparations are being made or the opening of the Columbia river, and facilities will be given to shipper not heretofore enjoyed. The mam moth warehouse now being built will be sufficient to accommodate the large amount of wool and wheat that will be marketed at this point and also the freight for local and interior dealers. The D. P. & A. N. Co. has purchase the vacant lot west of the Cosmopoli-tan hotel, and this will be used for an incline to the warehouse, for the pas sage of wagons or vehicles. This will be a commodious passage way to and from the warehouse, and will be a great convenience to shippers. There is also a report current, the truth of which we cannot substantiate, that the O. R. & N. Co. will repair its dockage on the river front, and it unquestionably has the best landing for all stages of water in this vicinity. There can be no doubt that the O. R & N. Co. will have boats on the middle river as soon as the locks are com-pleted, and will be a competitor for a share of the trade. With an open river the business done at this point will largely increase, and not any one line of boats will be able to maintain a

Mr. Hellinger, of Tacoma, Wash., arrived in the city last night, and left for Centralia, the new town on Fifteen-Mile creek, where he will erect a wagon and blacksmith shop. This projected town is situated in a good farming country, but it is too near Dufur to ever amount to much as a trading point. The TIMES-MOUN-TINEEER will never lend its aid to any O. D. Taylor land-booming scheme and for this reason it is opposed to every owner of a forty-acre lot laying out a townsite and inducing men to invest in desirable "locations." It is a species of duplicity that cannot be reached by statute, but it should be frowned down by the moral sense of every community. Centralia may be able to support a hotel and blacksmith shop, but Dufur is only a few miles distant, has established places of busiless, and will hold the trade of the farmers in that portion of the county

The following is perpetrated by the Baker City Democrat: "A few weeks ago a young man from McEwen bought a pair of socks containing a note saying the writer was an employe of the Kenosha, Wis., knitting works and wanted a good husband. She gave her name, and requested the buyer, if unmarried, to write with a view of matrimony. The young man who found the note considered the matter in all its phases, and then decided to write to the girl. He did. Awaiting with anxiety he was at last awarded with a curt letter, stating that the girl was the mother of two children, and had been married four years, and the letter had been written ever so long ago. It was a 'sock dolager,' and the young man hunted for a solution. He found it. The merchant of whom he bought the socks didn't advertise.
