WHY GRAIN IS CHEAP.

Tacoma Merchants Say Exporters Bearing the Market. The fact that little grain is not moving, though the wheat season is fairly open, has led to an investigation being made to determine the reason, says the Tacoma Ledger. From the evidence gathered it would seem that Goldendale last night for the purpose of defending the Bunnell boys and others arrested for assaulting Mr. Seufert. Their trials came off today before Justice Rorick at Grand Dalles. W. B. Presby, one of Goldendale's weeks ago, and are now seeking to leading attorneys, is in the city. He save themselves from loss, or rather to

At San Francisco, however, charters have dropped greatly. Where Tacoma and Portland exporters purchased tharters at 35 and 37 shillings, San Francisco exporters are now getting them for 24 and 25 shillings. This, it is estimated by grain men. givees San Francisco the advantage in the purchase of grain. One grain man said to a Ledger reportar yesterday that Washington farmers can ship to San Francisco now and obtain, after de-ducting freight charges, 5 cents more a bushel there for their wheat than at Tacoma and Portland. San Francisco quotations are 55 cents a bushel and Tacoma and Portland quotations are 43½ and 44 cents. "In other words," said the gentleman speaking, "Tacoma and Portland exporters are endeavoring to make the farmers sustain the loss they should bear themselves, a loss resulting from their own bad judgment in making charters when the market was at the bighest. They are offering these low prices thinking the farmers will take them but in this the exporters to my mind, are using poor judgment. The result of their arbitary action will simply be to force grain that would otherwise be shipped to Tacoma and Portland, to San Francisco. Such action as theirs does more than anyhing else to injure the port. To my mind it cannot be too severely cenured. Where the Tacoma and Portpay 50 cents.'

on Downs the Lordly Cayuse His Native Heath. The cayuse is rapidly passing over the great divide, and soon the last of his race will face the inevitable and expire to satisfy the cravings of the human stomach. It is, perhaps, ac-cording to the eternal fitness of things hat here in Eastern Oregon, wher he first horse, the eo-hippus, nipped the cenozoic herbage from the hole in the ground out of which our rolling prairies have grown, the beginning of is destruction should occur. Truly the cayuse is of royal descent, if length of pedigree can be taken as a measure of nobility, for the first horse, though no larger than a sheep with the tariff off him, was cotemporary with the earli-est vertebrates, and has seen the great animals of the earth pass away. He has survived them all, because he was f all the innumerable types of animal life, the fittest. The plesiosaurus chewed grass for breakfast with him but the plesiosaurus vanished centu-ries ago! The megatherium fed on the top branches of the trees, a beast so large that the horse seemed to him but a microbe! The pterodactyl became an iambic, shed his pter and winked out! The sabre-toothed tiger with a head as large as a water bucket and a paw like a boxing glove devoured his species, but the horse survived him! Granivora, carnivora, omnivora all vanished long ago from the earth leavng but their bones to show their ypes—types that printed their story on the pages of the great geological book of Nature. But the cayuse stayed, because he was always a stayer. It was a long time ago, my friend, when the little horse rehearsed for his first bucking match! It was a long time ago that his little bones were turned to stone down on the fly leaf of the geological book! It is a long ways down into the eocene formation to where his petrified bones bear silent but convincing evidence of his antiquity! Down to where the clay beds that covered his bones cons ago turned to stone! Down 1800 feet below where his descendants now crop the bunchgrass from the undulating plains! Yes, indeed! It was a long time ago! Year by year, century by century, the dust, the sediment, the detritus from the hills accumulated over those petrified bones until they were buried nearly half a mile deep. Nor was that all; after they were buried the John Day river, year by year and with infinite slowness, cut out a channel down through the rocks until after, no one knows how many centuries of centuries the little bones are again brought to light. The cayuse grew up with the country, 1800 feet of it, and is at least that much above his ancestors. But his day is done. Nature could not down him, but civilization will. He stood the saddle and the harness, but the slaughter-house, the tin can and the hippophagous anthropoid called circle of his existence. The rubber-footed bike and the electric current have destroyed his usefulness, the ru-minating animals require the grass and tions. Behold the end of him! We suggested yesterday that an ex cursion be given to the Hood River fair the 4th of next month. Instead o that the Regulator will make a special round trip rate of 50 cents, on both days of the fair, October 4th and 5th. We urge upon our citizens the impor-tance of visiting this fair, not only our fruit-growers but our business men should attend it. Heretofore there has been a lack of sociability between the two sections of the county and this should not be allowed to con tinue. We know the people of both sections and we know they would like each other better, were they better acquainted. It is for The Dalles to take the fair furnishes a good opportunity to begin a new deal. Hood River is the lovliest spot in the state, is settling up rapidly with a splendid class of people that we all ought to know bet-

and rejoice with them in the develop ment of the countys' resources. They are making a wonderful showing, one of which they are justly proud, and one which will gladden the heart of every good citizen. Make them a visit and see for yourselves.

A Versatile Officer One of our county officials Wednesday received a letter of which, with not given, the following is a copy:

Mrs. Min-nehaha Wathposset seemed to be the leader of the hilarity diving into the offal up to her elbows and nailing the choicest morsels with a grace and celerity that defies competition and compels the admiration of her charming sisters. Miss Birdie Multnomah Wapato adds beauty to the cene, and is the life of the party. The manner in which she haugs a wad of salmon eggs on the underbrush is the envy of all her associates. She wore a dress of some dark material decollete at the bottom, and orna-mented with a rich garniture of sal-mon eggs and refuse. Our District Fair.

We cannot impress upon our readers too strongly the necessity of making easy to do this, and the benefits are so great that it will be only those who have no interest in the development of our resources who will not do something towards making the fair what It should be. Wasco county is easily the banner fruit country of the state in quality, quantity and variety of its orchard products. This position she should maintain. The local fair advertises the country, and from the ex-hibits a selection can be made that at the Portland exposition will excite comment and attract settlers. That is the result we are working for. need a population of at least 50,000 before our natural resources will begin to be utilized. Hood River valley can and will maintain a larger population than the county now boasts, and the county can easily support ten times or twenty times its present population. Let us get rid of mossbackism and get a move on. This is the time, and the fair presents a good opportunity to make a start. Try it.

The seed mate-rial may be disinfected by immersion in a bath of corrosive sublimate. The resiye sublimate solution should be of the strength of two ounces to fifteen gallons of water. The bath should be about an hour and a half long, although some variation in time is immaterial. Cutting and planting is done as usual. The result of the treatment is a crop essentially free from blemish and o great market value. Sometimes a considerable increase in yield results from the treatment. The method is easily and cheaply applied and is worthy of extended trial.

-lilliputian, in fact, are Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. Dr. R. V. Pierce, Chief Consulting Physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y., was the first to invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y., was the first to introduce a Little Pill to the American people. For all laxative and cathartic purposes these sugar-coated thartic purposes these sugar-coated "Pellets" are superior in a great many ways to all mineral waters, sedlitz powders, salts, eastor oil, fruit syrups, laxative teas, and other purgative compounds. Made of concentrated vegetable ingredients, they act in a mild, natural way. Their secondary effect is to keep the liver active and the bowels regular, not to further constipate, as is the case with other pills. They don't interfere in the least with the diet, habits or occupation, and produce no pain, griping or shock to the system.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure biliousness, sick and bilious headache, dizziness, costiveness, or constipation, sour iousness, sick and bilious headache, diziness, costiveness, or constipation, sour stomach, loss of appetite, coated tongue, indigestion, or dyspepsia, windy belchings, "heart-burn," pain and distress after eating, and kindred derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels. These "Pellets" are easily dissolved in the stomach and absorbed into the blood, stimulating a flow of bile from the liver, and arousing to activity all the glandular secretions. Thus they act in nature's own way. In proof of their superior excellence, it can be truthfully said, that they are always adopted as a household remedy after the first trial. Put up in glass vials, therefore always fresh and reliable.

One little "Pellet" is a laxative, two are mildly cathartic. As a "dinner pill," to promote digestion, take one each day after dinner. To relieve distress from overeating, they are unequaled. They are tiny, sugar-coated granules; any child will readily take them. Once used, always in fazor.

Accept no substitute that may be recommended to be "just as good." It may be better for the dealer, because of paying him a better profit, but he is not the one who needs help.

A Timely Reminder Each season forces upon our consideration its own peculiar perils to health. The advent of fall finds many reduced in strength and vigor, poorly prepared to continue the business of life. The stomach and bowels, the great highway of animal economy, is The Dalles, Portland and Astoria especially liable to disorder in the fall. The nervous system has also suffered in the struggle. Typhoid fever and malaria in particular find in the fall that combination of earth, air and water that mark this season as esecially dangerous. The falling leaves, the decaying vegetables contribute their share of contamination. Hood's Sarsaparilla furnishes a most valuable safeguard at these important points, and should be used in the fall before serious sickness has laid you low. For Over Fifty Years.

FILTHY LUCRE.

Many Prefer a Dirty Note to a New Oas, Especially In the West. The raid that was made on the treasury department for new notes and coins by the visitors in Washington during the Grand Army encampment and the 1,000,000 and more old torn bills which they left behind indicates what a rarity a crisp, new note is in the west. In Washington people have got to be quite fastidious about their money. That which is fresh and clean is right at their hand, and when a note begins to get a little soiled they do not care to handle it. Notes such as are regarded as in good condition in Chicago and other western cities would not circulate for a day in Washington. Pocketbooks are seldom used there except for small change, the correct thing being for those who have money to carry the new bills in an envelope without folding them, so as to preserve their newness.

A Washington man going west can mark the stages of his progress by the changing condition of the money. In the cities of the far west it is bad enough, but in the country places and among the farmers generally after passing the Ohio a new note of small denomination is a thing almost unknown. Even in Minneapolis men from Washington who carried crisp $1 notes in the "original packages, just as they came from the treasury, found occasionally places where they could not pass the money because it looked "too new to be good." A good many of the street car conductors refused to take the new notes, but a dirty bill, all patched and almost free from design, was taken without question as the proper thing. It is said at the treasury department that comparatively little money comes in from the west for redemp-

Great quantities of these notes don't come back for redemption, and in the final run of years the government is much the gainer by it. The trouble is that, while the treasury is always ready to destroy the old notes and give new ones in their place, there is no provision for transportation of the notes, and the amount of express charges from a distance prevents their being sent in for redemption. In 1882 congress made an ap propriation for the payment of such express charges, and for once the entire country got a new set of greenbacks. Since then there has been no appropriation for that purpose, and the national currency is sadly in need of repairs.—Cor. Philadelphia Tele-

The Pincky Spaniel. Captain Williamson was shooting in India, with a spaniel, which apparently found some game which his master guessed to be a hare. "The dog came to a stand over a bank wagging its tail, with ears up and his whole frame in a state of ecstasy, I expected that he had got a hare under the bank, and as the situation was in favor of getting a shot I ran toward him with more speed than I I should find a tiger sitting up and staring Paris in the face. It is of course just possible that tiger was "nervous" and that the little dog merely exhibited the impudence habitual to little dogs, who know that they can worry a horse or a bullock into beating a retreat when quietly lying down in a field.-Lon-

Henry L. Pierce and President Grant. "Henry Wilson and Henry L. Pierce," said a well known teller of political stories, "were great friends. I think Mr. Pierce did what no other man ever did with a president of the United States. Without consulting Mr. Pierce, President Grant made an appointment in Boston which was very distasteful to Mr. Pierce, who was at the time in congress. As soon as he heard of it he sought out Mr. Wilson and both called on the president, who refused to change his ideas on the appointee.

"With firmness and respect Mr. Pierce, arising, said: "Mr. President, I consider this appointment a personal insult to me, and I shall never forget it.' "He never did, at least so far as President Grant was concerned."-Boston Globe, two-thirds as much Cottolene as they formerly used of lard or butter. With twothirds the quantity they will get better results at less cost than it is possible to get with lard or butter. When Cottolene is used for frying articles that are to be immersed, a bit of bread should be dropped into it to ascertain if it is at the right heat. When the bread browns in half a minute the Cottolene is ready. Never let Cottolene get hot enough to smoke.
