THE PROSPECTS AHEAD.

The Democracy of the nation will be in better condition to go into the national campaign next year than it has been for years. It will of course have obstacles to overcome, but none so great as it has overcome in some of the states in which elections were held the 5th of the present month. Prior to those elections the men who dictated to nominations and formulated principles were traitors to the party than the rates charged by the Southand had but one idea in view-personal aggrandizement. But the party, in the recent elections, showed itself coursgeous enough to rebuke such cipal traffic between Stockton and Fresno this winter. It begins to look ers, and next year they will be supplanted by a more patriotic class. like the much boasted advancement of Not only did the party reprove the the present age was a mistake, when leaders who have done wrong in one the primitive methods of moving instance, but in every state where such freight are found to be cheaper, than by rail. The Democracy of freight at a reasonable profit, as does the home company that operates bethat state has very emphatically said tween The Dalles and Portland. it was done with Brice and Briceism.

In the state of New York, by staying away from the polls, the Demo orate emphasized their demand for a return of the better class of men and brains to the leadership of the party. on-lookers are impressed with his zeal," D. Doyle in an artic "Law and Lawyers" in the Southern Magazine, "In my own experience have had cases where I advised my clients not to sue because I was sure they had no chance, and although they followed my advice instead of employ ing other counsel, they refused to pay a reasonable fee and in one case left me to pay the court costs. And I have seldom advised a client to compromise or submit to arbitration that I did not displease him. It requires moral courage to advise one against his inclinaions, but it is sometimes a lawyer's sacred duty. Whatever may be said as to its morality or true wisdom, yet I must say I regard this aggressive and partisan spirit more conducive to mod-ern success than profound judgment, for I have seen lawyers succeed chiefly by reason of it in whom the logical faculty was not at all conspicuous. In speaking of success, it will be observed that I do not mean the eminence of such men as Erskine, Wirt, Webster, William Pinckney, Rufus Choate and Charles O'Connor, but such success as is attained by the leading members of the bar in every town or city of the United States, who have a good practice, sometimes very lucrative, though they are unknown to fame and forgotten outside their neighborhood when they are gone."

CANDLES AS PERQUISITES. One of the Queer Official Obse

Paris. A Paris official recently received his annual present of ten pounds of can-dies. The man thus favored is the police commissary of the district of Saint Germain l'Auxerrois and he receives his box of candles from the chamber of notaries.

The origin of this observance dates a long way back. It arose out of a dis pute between the police commissary of the Chatelet and the corporation of notaries. The outy of the former was to hold a lighted candle at the door of the chamber as the legal gentlemen were enter ing it, and on one occasion the commis-sary, with the spirit which animates many men in office, even in our own great country, complained that it was anfair for the expense of the candles to fall upon him, contending that he ought rather to receive an indemnity for his services. He gained his point, and from that time forward the commissary was given three hundred pounds of wax candles annually. In the course of time the three bundred pounds of wax melted away and dwindled, till in the present day the ancient custom has come down to the gift of a ten-pound box of com-
