

ITEMS IN BRIEF.

From Wednesday's Daily.

Mr. Frank Woodcock is in the city today.

Mr. B. W. Crossen returned last night from Portland.

Mr. V. C. Lewis of Cascade Locks, came up on the noon train.

Mr. Leslie Butler was a passenger on the Regulator this morning.

Messrs. J. M. Armatow, Joe Marsh and Geo. Meader, all of Wasco, are in the city today.

Two sheep shearing crews will leave tomorrow for Baker to begin operations in that section.

About thirty men are employed at Suter Bros' cannery getting it in readiness for the season's run.

Mr. Geo. Morgan went to Cascade Locks today to remain a few days visiting with his family and friends at that place.

Down in Kansas a man was fined $300 for beating his wife, and a neighbor $3000 for beating his mule. Mules are too expensive in Kansas.

Mr. E. B. Treman, a representative of the Merchants Protective Union of Portland, is in the city today soliciting membership to the Union.

A lodge of Elks was instituted at Salem yesterday with 45 charter members. Over 100 visiting Elks were in attendance to witness the organization of the new lodge.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Wakefield left on the Regulator this morning for Monmouth, having been called there by the serious illness of Mrs. Wakefield's brother, Samuel Nealy.

Nine hundred thousand dollars is the price paid by the government for the weather bureau. Of course this is a good thing, but we ought to get more good weather than we do for that price.

Mr. Frank Stroud, of Prineville, was in the city today, en route to Albany for the purpose of settling up the estate of his Uncle, Ira Stroud, who was accidentally shot and killed at Halsey one day last week.

Mrs. Kinney delivered an able address on the subject of temperance in this city last evening. Mrs. Kinney is an accomplished and forcible speaker, and no one can hear her without being impressed with the logic of her argument.

Dr. E. R. Wingate, of Spokane, has been visiting old friends in this city the past few days. A railroad car was blown away from The Dalles about two years, and is at present connected with a number of large mining industries in the vicinity of Spokane.

Nature is preparing to favor East-Oregon with more showers. They cannot come too often from now on, but it is nearly ready to blow away any too many showers right now as a source of inconvenience to sheep men where they want to shear their flocks.

G. S. Gray, of Heppner, representing a Wyoming firm and himself, is in Gilliam county, looking for yearling ewes and wethers. He has already purchased 5,000 head in the Condon country from Ed Dunn, administrator of the Ernest Seekamp estate, and D. Monroe. He wanted about 5,000 more to fill his contract.

A gentleman who recently went to Newhall California, writes from there stating that the country is a railroad and is nearly ready to blow away. They have only had four and one-half inches of rain in a year. Fruit will not yield half a crop, the bees are not feeding themselves, and the grain is six inches high and turning brown.

Postmaster Crossen is in receipt of a letter from Len H. Curtis, a railroad engineer who is well known to many residents of The Dalles, stating that he is confined in Providence hospital in Seattle with a badly injured leg, the result of a railroad accident. He thinks he will be laid up for at least two months, as his leg was badly mangled in the wreck.

Hon. Z. M. Brown, of Portland, arrived here on last night's freight from Mayville, where he has been buying a band of 200 head of cattle, which he is having driven to his stock farm in Crook county. Mr. Brown has also bought some 300 head of cattle in Southern Oregon and will take them to Crook county. Mr. Brown left this morning on the stage for Prineville.

Dr. Roland Grant and family, accompanied by N. S. Dygert and W. H. Wesco, the doctor's photographer, spent last night in the city, and went down the river on the Regulator this morning. The boat will stop at various points of interest along the river to allow the party to take views of the scenery, which are to be used in the doctor's lecture on "Where Ralls the Oregon."

From Thursday's Daily.

Mr. H. Gleason went to Portland today.

The rain fall last night was 5.100 of an inch.

Mr. Hans Hanson has been suffering from a gripe several days.

Mrs. Agnes Baldwin left on the afternoon train for Portland.

Mr. J. H. Crawford went to Hood River today on legal business.

Col. Pike, of Goldendale, came upon the Regulator from Portland yesterday.

Mr. W. C. Alloway, accompanied by his daughter, Miss Daisy, went to Portland this morning.

Walla Walla has bought a chemical engine, which is expected to arrive in that city on May 1st.

Hon. W. H. Bligg is so far recovered from his recent illness as to be able to sit up several hours each day.

Water Commissioner Norman has been laid up for several days with a gripe but was able to be on the streets today.

The merchants will hold a district convention at Rufus next Friday, for the purpose of nominating a legislative ticket.

Mrs. Ella J. Getts, and Mrs. Bradshaw in this city, left on the afternoon's train for her home at Lafayette.

Hon. H. Barnett, of Troy, Ohio, who has been looking after his property interests at White Salmon, is in the city. Mr. Barnett expects soon to leave for his home in Ohio.

The fact that the O. R. & N. Co. has begun put train No. 24 in active service and that it will from this time run on a regular schedule is an indication that the business of the country is improving.

Last night Mr. Frank Goetz, received a telegram announcing that his sister Miss Jennie Goetz, was dangerously ill at her home in Albina. He left on this morning's train for Portland.

Mr. R. R. Hinton, a prominent sheep raiser and farmer of Baker county, is in the city. Mr. Hinton says sheep in his section are thriving, but the recent cold weather has caused some loss of young lambs.

The wool crop of 1896 is beginning to arrive. Two loads of new wool were received at Moody's warehouse Tuesday and two loads were taken in at the Wasco warehouse and to the Tugh Valley Land & Live Stock Co.

Yesterday the bondsmen who were standing good for Mrs. Walter's appearance as a witness before the case of the state vs. Landis surrendered her to the authorities, and she is now confined in jail.

Hermann, the healer, now in Portland, is undoubtedly one of the greatest fakes of the age. A man went from Albany to see him. A boy wanted $1 just to receive his name. Then Hermann demands $5 before an examination is made.

Mr. Wm. Robinson has returned to the city with a complete line of furnishing goods which will open in the building formerly occupied by the Jacobson Book & Music Co. which has been moved to the corner of Second and Laughlin streets.

The artisan well being sunk at the Columbia brewery is now down 103 feet and water rises to within six feet of the surface. The drill is now working in solid granite, and it is expected when this strata of granite is passed through an abundant supply of artesian water will be reached.

Owners of fish wheels have some complaint to enter against nature. On account of the fall in the water of the Columbia fish are not running as they ordinarily do at this season of the year. However a few warm days will cause the water to rise and will also induce the royal Chinook to move toward the head of navigation.

By a decision of the general land office the decisions of the local land office have been sustained in the following cases: In the case of the estate of Mrs. C. H. Hovey, containing 20 acres of land for cancellation; Arthur E. Cousins vs. Abiel Eskrine, Bartholomew Kelley vs. Philip Livingston, Walter C. Jenison vs. Douglas McGraith and Wyatt A. Stark vs. Geo. E. Longhill.

Mr. George Allan McNulty, who died at his home in this city on Thursday, April 18th, at about 3 P. M. was born at Portland, Oregon, August 1, 1860. His funeral took place at the Congregational church in this city April 19th, at 2:30 Sunday afternoon.

Rev. W. C. Curtis, of Prineville, the pillar-bearer was Dr. H. Clough, Mr. O. Kinerly, O. Lewis, H. Lough, W. H. Moody and Capt. O. S. Ward, and was largely attended by relatives and friends.

Voters of The Dalles district will be afforded a wide range in which to make selections for the office of clerk of the peace on election day. Besides the regular nominees of the democratic and republican parties, J. M. Filloon and J. G. Farley, J. M. Walton and L. S. Davis have announced themselves as independent candidates for that office, each of them having filed their names with the county clerk to have their names printed on the official ballot.

Rev. I. D. Driver, who is running for state senator in Lane county, has been lecturing at Roseburg. The Roseburg Plaindealer reports one of his lectures as follows: "Dr. Driver said no infidel's progeny descends to the fifth generation. God Almighty had determined they should not extend the curse so far. Four noted infidels, who came to this coast in an early day, viz. Sam Culver, Jesse Applegate, Francis Marion, and Nathaniel all died insane, after 63 years of age."

If asked the question "Have you got a stomach?" it would be safe or general principle, to answer "Yes." But, if you are sure of it; that is, if you ever feel any distress after eating or any pain of whatever description in the region of the stomach, or if you get something more than an ordinary stomach; in other words, you have got a diseased stomach. The stomach is a powerful muscle, and the proper remedy for a tired muscle is rest. Try the Shaker Digestive Cordial, for this product not only contains digested food, which will nourish the system without any work on the part of the diseased organs, but it aids the digestion of other foods as well. You can rest its value in your case for the trifling sum of 10 cents. Samples of this article at this price are carried by all druggists.

Laxol is the best medicine for children. Doctors recommend it in place of Castor-Oil.

From Friday's Daily.

Mr. Nell McLeod, of Goldendale, is in the city.

Mr. Harvey Smith, of Grass Valley, is in the city.

The rain fall for the past 24 hours was 15-100 of an inch.

Gambinon book beer is on tap today at Otto Birgfeld's.

Mr. G. W. Johnson returned today from a visit to Portland.

Mrs. Mary Hanna returned to her home at Albany this morning.

Mrs. Capt. McNulty, accompanied by her two daughters, left this morning for their home at Mosier.

Messrs. L. E. Crowe, Wm. Van Bibber and Sam Wilkinson left on the afternoon train for Portland.

Fruit prospects are very flattering in Hood river valley, says Mr. E. D. Fisher, who was in the city last night.

Rev. M. L. Zwelzig, pastor of the Lutheran church of Portland, has spent several days in the city and left this morning for his home.

Mr. W. N. Wiley, who has his sheep located on Eight-Mile, says he has had a very successful lambing, having been increased his stock 100 per cent this season.

Hon. J. H. Lawrence, of Pullman, Wash., the blind orator and populist campaigner, has arrived in the city, and will lecture in the court house tomorrow evening.

The Washington Post figures out that the Chicago convention will be followed on the financial question as follows: For free silver 464, against free silver 356, doubtful 84.

Rev. L. Grey will hold English Lutheran services in O. D. Taylor's church, on Sunday morning at 10 A. M., and on Sunday evening at 7:30 P. M. A. P. M. Rev. L. Grey will hold a German service at the same place.

Consistency is a jewel but it is not always practiced, especially by some people who advocate theories. For instance, an ardent free silver man of Hood River, issued a neighbor 460 a few days since and drew the note payable in U. S. gold coin with interest at 10 per cent.

Today workmen began re-arranging the stage in the armory building and making preparations for putting up scenery. It is the intention of Mr. Vogt to decorate the stage with the latest and most approved apparatus so that it will admit of any play being put on that may come along.

Hon. A. S. Bennett, candidate for congress in the second district, needs no introduction to the people of Oregon, as he has been a prominent figure for many years. His acknowledged integrity and abilities have won him the admiration and respect of all, regardless of party ties—Jacksonville Times.

Mr. Phil Brogan returned yesterday from Anapelo, where he had been looking after his stock interests. He reported the season quite successful. There were a number of slight snow storms the first of the week, which retarded sheep shearing and also put the farmers back with their seedling.

All officials in the city have had a day of perfect quietude. No taxes have been paid at the sheriff's office, the county clerk has not been disturbed all day by parties wanting to record deeds, etc., the justice of the peace and recorder have clear dockets to show, and at the land office perfect quiet reigns supreme. In fact there are no busy places in the city except the newspaper offices and at the new buildings that are being erected.

Today a TIMES-MOUNTAINEER reporter was shown the plans and specifications for the new Williams building, and was convinced that when it is completed it will be the handsomest building in the city. The ground floor of the new room will be made the dry goods department, and the rear will be the offices, while the second floor will be occupied by the clothing and furnishing departments. The entire building will occupy a block on Third Street.

Thursday afternoon it set aside as lady's day at the club rooms, but this fact is sometimes forgotten by members of the club, and when one thus forgets himself and skulks out on First street after he has been "fired" it is amusing to note how cautiously he endeavours to secure his identity.

A prominent member of the club undertook to get away yesterday unobserved, after he had been induced to visit the rooms, but he got the "horse laugh" all the same.

The horse which Otto Birgfeld uses on his delivery wagon is a record breaker. It gave an exhibition of its speed on Fourth street this morning, and a gentleman who was timing it with the town clock states that it ran a mile exactly in 1:35. It probably would have made better time had not the horse been so excited by the front wheels of the wagon which it had attached to it. The horse was given its liberty by the king-bolt breaking, releasing the front wheels of the wagon, and the driver being thrown to the ground. No material damage was done either to the driver, wagon or horse.

WET OR DRY?

Goldendale Has Had a Varied Experience With Saloons.

Probably no city on the coast has had more varied experience in saloons than has the county seat of Klickitat county. For many years after the city was incorporated all retail liquor traffic was supposed to be prohibited, that is no license for the sale of liquor was issued, but nevertheless there was more or less liquor sold at least people who wanted intoxicants could find places where their wants were supplied, and it was a notorious fact, that although Goldendale was a prohibition town, there was a considerable amount of liquor sold within the corporate limits. The city authorities undertook to regulate the traffic as best they could, but like all other places that have honestly attempted to prevent the sale of liquor, it was found to be a most difficult and knotty proposition.

Sometimes there has been a high license law, and sometimes a low license law in vogue. Sometimes there have been saloons in Goldendale and sometimes there have been none, but all the time liquor was to be had and it was often sold to excess. Last year the total liquor was fixed at 8000 gallons, and in consequence there was no saloon, but intoxicating beverages were sold, while the city derived no benefit. This has led the present council of that city to endeavor to regulate the traffic by revising the liquor ordinances. An ordinance has been prepared, and was expected to become a law last night fixing the annual license for one saloon at $250 a year, and granting license to druggists to sell liquors in quantities of eight ounces, the same not to be drunk on the premises of the store, for which privilege the druggist must pay $150 a year.

If this ordinance has become a law Goldendale will have for a time at least settled the liquor question and will have one saloon, that is to be located under the strictest surveillance. According to the provisions of the ordinance no tables or chairs are to be allowed in the house, neither can any game of chance, either for money or amusement, be played in or about the place.

Goldendale will have a "wet" season for a year, but its dispenser of the "ardent" will indeed be a model saloon, if such a thing is possible, a little quiet place where the wayfarer can drop in, satisfy his thirst and pass out, but he must not, cannot loiter there to rest, nor can he waste his time playing "vint." "Other places that have been unable to govern the liquor traffic satisfactorily will watch with interest Goldendale's new experiment.

Farmers Jubilant.

The fine shower of rain that fell last night causes farmers all over Wasco county to feel that an abundant yield of grain is almost assured. Grain was in a fair growing condition and the ground was getting thoroughly moist, but the recent rain which was very heavy, added sufficient moisture that even without any more the growing grain will have attained sufficient height to shade the ground before any extreme warm weather will occur, thus insuring good crops. With such prospects for an abundant yield, and the certainty that fair prices will prevail when the crop is harvested, farmers can look forward to a prosperous season, and since they are the ones who produce the wealth of the country, better times in every line of business may well be expected during the coming year.

A PROSPEROUS INDUSTRY.

The Pacific Distilling Company's Plant at Grants.

Tuesday a representative of the TIMES-MOUNTAINEER visited the prosperous village of Grants, situated on the Columbia river, in Sherman county, 25 miles east of The Dalles, and was shown through the large plant of the Pacific Distilling Company at that place. The company's chief industry is their distillery, which is one of the most complete on the coast, and is supplied with all the latest and most approved appliances for producing alcohol and high wine. At present the distillery is run at less than one-half its full capacity, producing only 400 gallons per day, while its full capacity is 1300 gallons. The product of the distillery is of standard quality, and finds a ready sale in San Francisco, Portland, and other points, and is fast becoming popular in the markets.

In addition to their distillery the company has a large flouring mill and stock feeding plant, and furnishes a ready cash market for farm products of the vicinity tributary to Grants. At present they are feeding about 100 head of cattle and 1000 hogs. They have 600 hogs in their fattening pens and a like number in outside lots, where they are kept in a healthy, growing condition, and as those in the pens are shipped to Grants, the pens are filled up from the lots, and thus the company turns out on an average about 500 head of fat hogs every 60 days, the time which is required to fatten and prepare a hog for market.

The plant of the Pacific Distilling Co. is very complete, and altogether is an industry that is steadily growing. The industry is one which is of vast importance both to Sherman and Klickitat counties, since it furnishes a market for the products of the farms of those counties.

ARRESTED ON SUSPICION.

For the Murder of George A. Scott, the Missing Book Agent.

William Bare and Richard Hinkle have been arrested at Canyon City on suspicion of having murdered George A. Scott, the traveling agent of K. Gill & Co., of Portland. The Canyon City News says: "Wednesday last week Joseph Keerins and Mart Batley investigated the premises of an isolated sheepherder's cabin in the mountains, about eight miles beyond the city, and there found a body of a man, which was turned last fall, and upon digging into the ashes found small fragments of human bones, teeth, a matchbox, the charred leaves of books, buckles and buttons from a man's clothing, and the buckles belonging to a single set of cart harness, and a small piece of cart-roping."

"Henry Trowbridge brought the relics into town, and Sheriff Cozad and Deputy District Attorney Cozad immediately went over to inaugurate a systematic search, and to forward to the authorities all the things which might be preferred against him by the authorities of the Washington district, but such authorities declined to submit any charges for such action.

This week Mr. Grey left here for his headquarters in The Dalles, but he will return here to preach once a month.

FURTHER ENDORSEMENT.

The council of the Lutheran church in this city, in view of certain published statements reflecting upon the character of the Rev. L. Grey, recently called on the local churches to request the publication of the following testimonial, which speaks for itself: OREGON CITY, Or., April 7, 1896.

TO REV. L. GREY,

REY. A. DEAR BROTHER:

In view of your departure from our city, we have the honor to express our relation to the Ministerial Association here, we, the undersigned are instructed by the body to tender you this testimonial of our brotherly esteem and good wishes for your future success in the Master's work. At your request we have gathered and signed our relation to the Ministerial Association here, we, the undersigned are instructed by the body to tender you this testimonial of our brotherly esteem and good wishes for your future success in the Master's work.

Scoring Mill to Open.

The scoring mill has received some wool and preparations are being made to start work in the sorting department next week, probably Monday. The sorting and pressing department will open for the season's operations soon thereafter. Prospects are excellent for a big business at the scoring mill this year. A number of the old force of employees have returned from St. Francisco, and soon the institution will be the scene of activity.—East Oregonian.

Liquor Dealers Need No Go to Portland.

Liquor dealers need no go to Portland for their supplies since they can be furnished with anything desired at Stubling & Williams' wholesale liquor store in this city.

HOON.

MOODY—At Ashland, Oregon, on April 18th, to the wife of Zenas A. Moody, a boy.

Information Wanted.

The following communication containing some pertinent questions mysteriously found its way into this office, and if the queries therein contained could be satisfactorily answered it would be a mental relief to a great number of readers of this section. We edit by today's Oregonian that Lieut. Watney has been promoted. Thank the Lord! How much would it cost to get Capt. Plisk promoted? And what would it cost to get "Doc" Day promoted and sent to South Africa? If not too costly we will raise a subscription for the same. These questions are asked by an East-Oregonian of twenty-five years' experience waiting for the locks to be opened.

Capt of Thanks.

We wish to convey through the columns of the TIMES-MOUNTAINEER the heartfelt thanks of ourselves and family to all who so nobly assisted us during the sickness and at the death of our beloved son, George Allan McNulty, and for the many kind acts of help and sympathy shown him during all the past years of his illness at Mosier and The Dalles, by neighbors and friends and also to the P. & A. N. Co. and Capt. O. S. Ward and crew of the Ste. Regulator, and for the many floral offerings sent by kind friends. CAPT. AND MRS. J. MCNULTY. The Dalles, April 21, 1896.

PENDELTON POSTOFFICE ROBBERY.

Issue Raddock Arrested, Charged With the Robbery.

PENDELTON, Or., April 23.—On the west-bound train tonight United States Marshal H. C. Grady and Deputy J. M. Bentley passed through here on the way to Portland, having in charge Isaac Raddock, of Raddock station. He is charged with having held up and robbed Postmaster Johnson, of Pendleton, about two months ago, of some $800. Since the robbery occurred it has been common parlance that Johnson had only to look into a mirror to see the man who committed the crime.

This, however, was suggested by those best able to know, Johnson has been active in assisting the officers, with the above result. Raddock had never been looked upon as other than of the best character. Two years ago he was a candidate before the democratic convention of Umatilla county for the office of county treasurer, but was defeated in the convention. Raddock tallies exactly with the description given at the time of the robbery by Postmaster Johnson. He is tall, slender, wears a slouch hat and dark clothes, and speaks broken English. He is known to have been in Pendleton about the time of the hold-up.

DIED IN THE COURT ROOM.

H. L. Hardesty Drops Dead While Judge Lowell Prepares Sentence.

Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 was the time appointed by Judge Lowell for passing sentence on Joseph Parr, for assault with a deadly weapon on the Indian policeman, says the East Oregonian. The sheriff had brought the prisoner up from the jail, counsel for the state and defense were in the places and a number of spectators were seated in the room. Attorney M. A. Butler was making a statement in behalf of Parr, and had gotten well along with his statement, when the court suddenly called the room a short distance from the bar like the falling of a heavy body. Upon looking about, everyone saw the body of a man lying on the floor. Closer examination showed it to be H. L. Hardesty. He had come into the room to hear the sentence passed on Parr and was in the room when an attack of heart disease, Mr. Hardesty did not breathe from the time of the fall.
