Two strangers to the order wended their way to the mystic camp of the chief ranger in Court The Dalles, Foresters of America, last night. That order is becoming quite popular in this city, and is enjoying a substantial growth. The railroad company is entitled to praise for the way in which they have kept the road open, below the locks. The current seems to run to the Oregon side mare than ever, hence gives more trouble than formerly. We understand the track has been set back fourteen feet in some places.

Governor Moody, accompanied by his daughter, Miss Edna, and her cousin, Miss Dora Moody, arrived on the Regulator last night. Miss Dora is a student at Stanford University and is spending her summer vacation with relatives in Oregon. The case of the state vs. Dalrymple and Carlisle was dismissed this afternoon on motion of Deputy District Attorney Phelps. Messrs. Phelps and Riddell appeared for the state and N. H. Gates for the defendante. Mr. Riddell's illness prevented him from attending to the case, hence the motion to dismiss. Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Brooks were very happily surprised yesterday by the arrival of Dr. C. W. Russell, of Springfield, Ohio, accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Luther Russel, and his sister, Mrs. C. W. Squires. The doctor is a second cousin of Mr. Brooks, and had been attending the physician's convenvention in Portland.

In fact their most intimate friends were not apprised of their marriage, until after they were gone, nor did the reporter of the T.-M. learn of the event in time to say anything further than that we extend our heartiest congratulations and best wishes to the doctor and his estimable wife.

When the case of the state vs. Wickman, Dalrymple and Carlisle was called at 10 o'clock this morning, Attorney H. H. Riddell, who is interested in the prosecution, and was making preparation for the trial, was overcome either by the heat or a rush of blood to his heart and sank to the floor in a faint. Restoratives were immediately applied which brought him back to consciousness, but he is still quite weak, though able to attend to bus-

The report was circulated yesterday that the O. R. & N. Co. had refused to receive through freight, owing to high water interfering with their track. Mr. Lytle, the company's agent here, states that there is no foundation for the report. The high water has not interfered with traffic along the road, and a rise of several feet more have to occur before trains cannot be handled. Whenever the company cannot receive and handle freight, Mr. Lytle will make due announcement through
