THIS YEAR'S WOOL CLIP Oregon and California Run a Close Race.

Montapa Leads the Country.

The National Association of Wool Manufacturers has recently completed its annual estimate of the wool clip of the United States for 1896, and the results arrived at are striking and interesting. The estimate is based, as heretofore, upon the return of the department of agriculture of the number of sheep in the country on April 1, 1896, the return showing a total of 36,464,405 sheep, which is a loss of 3,484,983 sheep since the last report, and the smallest total reported by the department since 1875. The clip of these sheep is estimated, following the English method, by ascertaining, by extensive corresmanufacturers, the average weight of the fleeces in the several states, and multiplying the number of sheep in each state by that state average. This has long been accepted as the the approximate total clip of the Montana leads in the number of sheep and output of this clip 21,530,013 pounds of washed and unwashed wool, and 7,320,204 pounds of scoured. The Montana fleece averages 71 pounds, those of California and Oregon 7 and 8 pounds respec-

GOLD IN MILL CREEK. Rich Specimens of Quartz Taken From

caused in the city by the finding of a specimen of rich gold quartz in the gravel that is being used in constructing the cement walk around the court house grounds. This morning Col. Freeman, one of the contractors, was leveling down the gravel, preparitory inches square, and on examining it, quarter of an inch in diameter, show ing parties will likely be formed soon to hunt for the ledge, and it is by no means improbable that The Dalles may yet become a great mining camp

The finding of the quarts calls to the minds of many of the old residents of The Dalles, that years ago Mr. Rodu aldt mined on Mill creek some 12 o 15 miles above The Dalles, and realized from two to three dollars a day ground duicing. At that time Mr. Pentland wned The Dalles water works, and the mining muddled the water, so he induced Mr. Rodnvaldt to quit mining and enter his service in the old grist aill. This fact causes many to have reat confidence in the existence of a rich quartz ledge somewhere on the reek, for the Macer gold that Mr. he reports of Bradstreet's and R. G. Roduvaldt took out in early days must have been supplied from a ledge near

Some time since John Bonn sent a sample box of Hungarian prunes from his orchard in The Dalles to his son Gus Bonn, in Colorado. The prunes were such curiosities in Colorado, they being superior to anything ever before seen there, that Gus concluded to put them on exhibition at the Colorado state fair, and they took first prize for size and equality. They were admired by all visitors at the fair, and the attention attracted will no doubt create a great demand for Dalles prunes in Colorado next year.
