AS TO CHEAP MONEY.

The organs of Mr. Hanna speak cheerfully of "cheap money."

The dear dollar, the single gold standard is an efficient instrumentality for enabling the rich to starve the poor.

EUROPE WILL FOLLOW.

Among the main contentions of the supporters of Wm. J. Bryan in reference to the financial question are that the unrestricted coinage of silver by the United States will benefit the agricultural classes, and will cause other nations of the world to adopt a system of bimetallism.

There is an inadequate supply of gold to supply the world's needs, and it is frequently asserted that progress was made, was that of the twenty years after 1873.

THAT PERIOD OF PROSPERITY

Under the gold standard, and we have had it ever since 1834—the United States has made its richest strides in prosperity, and the most prosperous period of all the period in which great progress was made.

NOT ENOUGH GOLD.

SCRAPS FROM HISTORY.

Probably no more convincing argument in favor of the free coinage of silver could be submitted to the reader today than a few extracts from speeches delivered by Senator Mitchell at different times in the United States senate, hence we quote the following:

"Can this eight million and odd farmers in this country be hoodwinked and deceived by the pretence that their interests are to be advanced by the monetization of silver and the maintenance and perpetuity of the single gold standard? Can they be so blind to their own interests as to be made to believe that the elimination on one of the precious metals from the circulating medium of the country, with the resultant contraction of that medium, the destruction of silver, the money of the poor man and the workman, will advance their interest or contribute to their welfare?"

"The eyes of the money changers of Lombard street and the unconscionable stock gamblers of Wall street are centered upon the senate of the United States as never before. They await with ill concealed anxiety the result of a vote that will increase by one-half the purchasing power of gold and cut down in like proportion the price of every agricultural commodity produced in this country."

EDITORIAL NOTES.

If a gold standard tends to keep up wages, why are people working for 25 and 50 cents a day in England, Germany and Italy?

"The reputation argument is the old, threadbare one of the monetarists. It is the argument of the creditor against the debtor, of the banker against the farmer, of the rich against the poor."
