alarm, but the incipient blaze was put out immediately and no damage was done. From Thursday's Daily. Walter Klindt left today for Seattle. Mrs. Robinson went to Hood River today. Mrs. Alexander is confined to her bed with typhoid fever. Mrs. Wolfarth is dangerously ill at her home on Ninth street. Miss Marion Kennedy, who has been very ill with typhoid, is recovering. Mrs. Chapman left this morning for Portland to remain a few days visiting friends. John Parrott returned on today's train from Seattle, where he has been delivering hogs. D. B. Kelly, of Crook county, left this morning for Portland, where he will spend the winter. Mrs. Capt. McNulty and two daughters went to Hood River this morning to attend the funeral of Mrs. McClure. Mrs. E. Hartwick returned this morning from a visit to Walla Walla, accompanied by Mr. Hartwick's sister, Mrs. F. Vincent. The next Bryan rally in The Dalles will be on Tuesday, Oct. 6, when Hon. J. K. Weatherford, of Albany, will discuss political issues. Mrs. Mrs. Farrington left today for Ellettsville, Indiana, accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Ed Farrington, to home at Ellettsville to remain during the coming winter. W. H. Loehbeck is reported very ill with typhoid fever, and his friends consider his recovery doubtful. Mrs. M. Heister and Mrs. E. Thomas arrived on the Regulator last night from a visit to relatives in the Willamette valley. An eastern exchange suggests that the demonization of horses by the crime of bicycling may have had something to do with the price of oats. Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Hunsaker, of Prineville, were passengers on the Regulator this morning. Their destination is Portland, where they go to attend the exposition. Last evening the Columbia Packing Co. received 46 heads of hogs from J. J. Butler and others of Kingsley. They were grasshopper-raised hogs and are intended for fairs. The O. R. & N. is doing a fair freight business at present, running ten freight trains through this place daily. The greater portion of the traffic is wheat from the upper country. The case of Blakney vs. Ganger, in Justice Filloos' court, was dismissed this morning, the defendant giving possession of the property in litigation and paying all costs. H. Hahn, of the firm of Wadhams & Co. of Portland, arrived last evening from Crook county where he has been looking after his stock interests, and left this morning for Portland. Thomas Harlan, of Hood River, addressed a large audience at Enderby last evening, and convinced a good many of the wavering that it is to the interests of the masses to support Bryan for president. This morning John Sieber was taken to St. Vincent's hospital for treatment. Mr. Sieber has been suffering for some time from an ailment that required more careful nursing than was possible to give him here. The De Moss troupe left on the Regulator this morning for Hood River where they will give an entertainment tonight, and from there they go to Portland. They have seven engagements in that city. J. W. Walker, of the Pacific Distilling Co. at Grants, returned last night from a visit to San Francisco, and left on a freight for Grants this morning. Mr. Walker says the distillery will start up on Nov. 1. Hiddell's fruit house in the East End is handling a considerable amount of fruit. This morning three men were employed packing apples for shipment, and a ton of prunes was prepared for shipment this afternoon. C. C. O'Neil, manager of the Prineville Land & Live Stock Co., one of the largest wool growing companies in Eastern Oregon, is in the city today. O'Neil reports his stock well in fine condition, and that they will come out of the mountains fat and fine. All will be welcome at the meeting to be given by the Bryan club at the Baldwin tonight. The meeting will be addressed by Hon. Harry Watkins, one of the Bryan electors for this state, who is conceded to be one of the ablest orators in the state. The Waco warehouse Co. beg leave to inform farmers that they have storage room for 200,000 sacks of wheat and any one wishing to store their wheat and hold for later market can do so on usual terms. Also, they will pay the highest cash price for wheat, oats, barley and rye. Revival meetings are now in progress at the Christian church. Rev. Skaggs, the pastor, is delivering a series of masterly sermons, which are having a telling effect upon his audience. His combined logic and eloquence attract large congregations, and much good work is being done. Sportsmen will do well to note that the open season for prairie chickens closes tonight. Persons killing chickens between Oct. 1 and July 1 of the following year will be fined a fine not less than $50 nor more than $100, or imprisonment in the county jail at $2 a day for the amount of such fine. See Louie, a native of the Flowery kingdom, was given an examination yesterday before Justice Filloos on a charge of having assaulted Tom Louie, another colored man with a dangerous weapon, and was held in bonds of $300 to answer before the next grand jury. Two witnesses were also held in bonds of $50. The crop report issued from the Department of Agriculture for September indicates that the wheat crop of the world is about compared with last year's, hence prices should range higher for the Pacific coast crop. California is the only state that produces any great amount of wheat where the crop is reported up to the average. Yesterday Judge Bellinger gave his decision in the case of the United States vs. the Tygh Valley Land and Livestock company. The charge against the concern was trespassing on government reserve by pasturing their sheep on it. The court decided that the defendants could be enjoined from trespassing upon the reserve. The vigorous ringing of the fire bell about 8 o'clock last night brought about half the residents and all the firemen into the streets, but fortunately their services as fire fighters were not required. The explosion of a lamp in the O. R. & N. depot caused the

Portland, went down on the boat this morning. Little Joyce, daughter of Geo. A. Herbert is reported sick with a mild type of typhoid fever. H. L. Pugh, of Waco, and R. E. Foley, of this city were passengers on the Regulator today to Hood River. Hon. Francis Clarno arrived on the local today from Portland. He speaks in Lufur tonight and at Kingsley tomorrow night. The funeral of the late W. H. Loehbeck will take place next Sunday at 10 A. M. The funeral will be conducted by the Masonic order. Mrs. W. H. Barrett, of Medford, arrived yesterday evening and will remain in the city a few days visiting her brother, W. C. Alarary. Mrs. Lottie Smith and Mrs. W. J. Hamilton who have been visiting in the city returned to Lower Cascades on the Regulator this morning. Mrs. Helmbold a daughter of Senator Mitchell came up with him from Portland today and is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Brooks while in the city. Mrs. Geo. C. Blakeley, who has been in Portland for some time past under treatment by a prominent oculist, returned last night Her eyes are greatly improved. On account of the rapid increase of freight shipments, the O. R. & N. Co. has put on two new train crews one each on upper and lower division. When it begins to move at all very rate. The anniversary exercises of the Gesang Verein will be held Sunday evening and not in the afternoon as stated yesterday. Members of the society and their friends are expected to attend. Miss Ella Weathers, who has been visiting Mrs. W. A. Kirby in this city, left this morning for her home at La Grande, accompanied by little Madam Kirby, who goes to La Grand to visit relatives. A. R. Rhodes, of Newberg, who has been looking at farming lands in this vicinity with a view to locating, returned to his home at that place this morning by boat. He was much pleased with this country. Too much credit cannot be given Miss Johnson, the nurse who attended Mr. Loehbeck. It is through her untiring efforts and careful nursing that his life was prolonged the last 48 hours before his death. The good ship Regulator took a large number of passengers this morning to down river points. If the political discussions that began on the wharf continue in the evening, we may expect quite a breeze up the river today. W. H. Hendricks of Walla Walla, went by boat to Lyle this morning for a week's visit. He is an enthusiastic Bryan man, and asked that the MOUNTAINER be sent to him while at Lyle, that he might be kept posted. He says Walla Walla will give Bryan a big majority. The A. O. U. W. lodge here is rapidly increasing its membership since the visit of Grand Lecturer Herrin and the other grand lodge officers. Last night 12 candidates were initiated into the first degree, two others rode the goat, and proving successful riders were pronounced good workmen, and eight applications for membership were received. This good old order maintains its popularity well. Mr. W. C. Solbeck was badly hurt about half past two today. He was riding in a wagon with a load of market, when the team ran away, throwing him out, the wheel of the wagon striking his neck and crushing the fingers of his right hand. He was brought into town at once, in an unconscious condition, and Dr. Hollister is in attendance. It is not thought to be a very serious hurt. Mr. Andrew Keller, our popular baker and confectioner, has an exhibition in his show window a fine specimen of his work, in the shape of a wedding cake. He won't tell yet who the happy parties are, who are to partake of it—that may furnish another item shortly. Mr. Keller's establishment is another of The Dalles business houses that is rapidly advancing as a wholesale and jobbing house. He is furnishing candies now to the trade at less than Portland prices. Death of Mrs. McClure. Mrs. Amelia H. McClure, widow of William C. McClure, died at her home near Mosier Wednesday at 4 P. M. and will be buried at Mosier tomorrow. Mrs. McClure was an old citizen and highly respected resident of Mosier precinct, having settled at that place in March, 1864. Her husband, William C. McClure died in May, 1895, and since that date her health has gradually declined, her life finally fading away in the peaceful repose of old age. Mrs. McClure had for many years been a member of the Methodist church, and died in the faith that she would receive the reward of a well-spent life. (LaGrande and Colfax papers please copy.) To Wear Masks For Bryan. A Chicago dispatch bearing date of Sept. 24th, says: A feature of the Bryan demonstration on Chicago Day, Oct. 9, will be a division of masked men, who will represent that they are coerced employees, who are compelled to wear McKinley buttons to hold their jobs. These men will march together wearing black masks to conceal their identity, and carry banners proclaiming their "serf-like bondage to a pluming world," as the campaign orator would put it. It is the intention of the silverites to make a display a feature of the demonstration. McKinley Zealots. Thirteen of the faithful assembled at the council chambers Tuesday evening and effected a permanent organization of the McKinley Zealots of The Dalles, by the election of H. H. Riddell president, L. S. Fritz vice-president, Dave Lemason secretary and treasurer, L. C. Christman captain, J. K. McAvoy first lieutenant and A. B. Kern second lieutenant. Mr. Kern reported that 40 zealous converts and 60 cape uniforms had been ordered, and would arrive in a few days. The zealots will be joining practicing at once and will be in readiness to parade at all McKinley meetings during the campaign. The De Moss Family Quartette. Although the crowd that greeted the De Moss quartette at the Congregational church last night was not large, it was none the less an appreciative audience, and was well repaid for having attended. The opening piece, "General Ouster's Last Battle," composed by Henry De Moss, was happily received, and was pronounced by all as one of the greatest "character" productions ever heard, and the "Columbia Souvenir Song," which has been rendered by the quartette all over the land, was another popular hit. In fact every number rendered was good, and convinced all the hearers that the De Moss family are accomplished musicians, able to make music out of the simplest contrivances. The entertainment was indeed one of the best musicals ever given in the city. Rest in Peace. Last night at 45 minutes past 11 o'clock W. H. Loehbeck breathed his last, cut off suddenly in the prime of life and usefulness by that dread disease, typhoid fever. William H. Loehbeck was born in London, England, in 1837, and was 39 years of age. His father was a sergeant in the British army and came to America when his son was quite young, settling at Charlottonville, Prince Edwards island, where Mr. Loehbeck was raised to manhood. He came to The Dalles in 1887 to work at Moody's warehouse, and went into business on his own account in 1888, conducting a feed and commission business in the East End. Mr. Loehbeck was prominently connected with many enterprises in our midst, his energy and good judgment making him especially useful in the department and public works of all kinds. He married 18 years ago Miss Mabel Burke of Charlottonville, who survives him. His mother was telegraphed for but could not reach the bedside of her son in time to see him alive. Kind friends were with him however for he was the kind of man who makes friends, true and generous. He was a member of the Masonic order. It is that "Death seeketh a shining mark," for W. H. Loehbeck will be sadly missed in this his far west home. Requiescat in Pace. Land Transfers. John Robinson and wife to Mr. Eunice Johnson, lots L and K of blk 40, Ft. Wiley, for the past six years chief inspector of government work at Cascade Locks, has been assigned by the engineers to the care of the big gates, and will do the opening and shutting necessary to let boats through, after Nov. 15th. Our people are to be congratulated on this assignment. Mr. Wiley is one of our best men, and is well known to the people, practical man, knowers every detail of the gate machinery and is justly proud of a work that has been done so largely under his supervision. It is also understood that Mr. Wiley is the choice of the engineers for permanent charge of the locks, and as it will be doubly so for our best interest to prevent that position from falling into the hands of politicians to be used as a bait or a prize for dirty campaign work, on either side. It is a good time now, in advance of any definite knowledge as to which side will be in power, to have it clearly understood that the keeping of Cascade Locks shall never be used as a political factor. The "Bovary Girl." This exciting drama was rendered to a good house at the Vogt last night, and was well received. The plot of the play is deep and well laid, and requires some heavy acting. The star, Lillian Keene, as Mrs. Bovary, is a really fine actress, and her performance was a masterpiece. The play was rendered to a good house at the Vogt last night, and was well received. aid the cause. PORTLAND, Oct. 31st, 1896. Editor TIMES-MOUNTAIN: The undersigned, having by due authority been appointed a sub-committee to make a final effort for raising the balance of the fund necessary to secure a proper testimonial to the battle ship "Oregon," present the following to the people of the state: When, in May, 1895, the general committee was appointed by the governor, various plans were devised, each promising good results; but for various causes the amount required to give proper recognition to the great hero conferred on the state has not been raised. The main cause has of course been the stringency of the times, but in addition to this, the committee has stepped aside for various enterprises, among these being local celebrations and the exposition at Portland. The political contest in June last also interfered to some extent with the work of the committee. But the time is drawing near when the magnificent battle ship "Oregon" will have been fully completed, and may turn her prow northward to visit the waters of the state after which she has been named. The people of the state owe it to themselves that a fitting recognition of the honor accorded us be made. The balance still left to be raised, if all contributions and pledges are collected, is about $1500. We regret that the people of the interior parts of the state have not come forward with that liberality which patriotic interest suggests, and this appeal is now made to commercial bodies, associations, churches, societies, clubs and individuals. None are asked who cannot give. The amount contributed will come back to the donors a hundredfold under the consciousness of a duty performed. Subscriptions will be received up to and including October 31, 1896, and should be forwarded to Henry Farrington, treasurer, territorial battle ship Oregon, First National Bank, Portland, Oregon. Very resp't. R. M. MITCHELL, CHAS. F. BEBEE, CHAS. H. CHENIZIE, MRS. SOL. HIRSCH, MRS. H. J. CORRETT, MISS RICHARD NIXON, MISS FAIRBANKS, ERANK MOTTIER, Sub Committee. Bathing Sisters Entertainment. The Bathing Sisters had an unusually enjoyable evening's entertainment yesterday. First and foremost a prominent disciple of Esculapian was strapped onto the lodge goat, and daily initiated into mysteries of which this deponent knoweth not. Next, a list of ten questions pertinent to the coming winter's wood pile, were handed around. For instance, "Was asked, what kind of wood would rock the baby? Paper wood. Ten questions such as this stumped the most knowing, but Mrs. Dr. Frazier answered seven correctly, and won first prize. Charley Stubbing not being on foot on wood, what, so bore would me the booty. After the prizes came an elegant supper, prepared by a committee of which Mrs. W. H. Wilson was chairman, and after the supper dancing was in order until midnight. The Bathing Sisters never do anything by halves, and this said to have been the best, even of their usually pleasant evenings. Letters Advertised. The following is the list of letters remaining in The Dalles postoffice uncalled for October 2, 1896. THE DALLES WATER SUPPLY. Is It Impregnated With Germs of Disease? The prevalence of typhoid fever in The Dalles at present is so general that it is being talked of in every household, and the leads citizens to fear that there is something wrong with the water supply. The Dalles water works are supplied from Mill creek, a stream that rises in the Cascade mountains, and the water should be perfectly pure, if allowed to run uninterrupted; but it passes through a number of farms, and it is said flows through numerous sheep corrals, pig pens and cattle yards, which must impregnate the water with disease germs, such as produce typhoid and other fevers. The health officers of the city and the water commission should at once make an investigation, and if anything is found in or along the stream that tends to impregnate the water it should be removed. The health of the city must not be endangered by a lack of vigilance on the part of those whose duty it is to see that the water supply is pure. WHOLE LOT OF THEM Anarchists Thick in Morrow County, says Walter Pierce. W. M. Pierce, who delivered one of those "anarchistic" speeches in Heppner Monday, came here today by team. He also made the trip going to team. Mr. Pierce says he has only to go over to Heppner, as a representative of free silver and the matchless Bryan, to find hosts of strong supporters and a fervent reception. The Bryanites came to the meeting in charge. The stage was decorated with bunting and flags. A number of campaign songs were sung, and an enthusiastic audience listened to and applauded the sentiments expounded by the speaker. "A young man sees things as they really are, and he is a Bryanite," said Mr. Pierce, "will say the Bryanites are making a winning fight over there. The Bryan club contains men of all classes, business men, professional men, laborers, mechanics, wood growers, wheat farmers, and has a membership which shows it to be about the most popular institution in the city." At the Monday meeting the ladies of the Bryan club presented the club with a beautiful silk flag, which will hereafter be displayed by the club at each meeting.—East Oregonian. Are Not All For McKinley. It is claimed by the republican press that all the old soldiers are for McKinley, but this claim seems without foundation. Fully half the Grand Army met in the vicinity of The Dalles yesterday around the standard of Bryan, and this seems to be the case in other sections as well. The Roseburg Review, in telling of the speech delivered by Hon. A. S. Bennett, of this city, terminated at Roseburg by a call to conceal their identity, and carry banners proclaiming their "serf-like bondage to a pluming world," as the campaign orator would put it. It is the intention of the silverites to make a display a feature of the demonstration. McKinley Zealots. Thirteen of the faithful assembled at the council chambers Tuesday evening and effected a permanent organization of the McKinley Zealots of The Dalles, by the election of H. H. Riddell president, L.
