The rain fall since 5 o'clock last night has been 76-100 of an inch.

I. Sichel came up from Portland last night and will return tomorrow. Arlington purposes observing Thanksgiving with a grand ball on the night of the 26th.

D. B. Gaunt came in from Paineville yesterday. He reports a lively racing season in progress at that place. Before adjourning court at noon today Judge Bradshaw excused all the jurors who live outside The Dalles.

This has been one of the gloomies days ever witnessed in The Dalles. Rain has fallen steadily almost all day. Last evening Judge Bradshaw sentenced F. L. Leonard to two years' imprisonment, he having been convicted

Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Logan, of Prine ville, arrived on last night's train from Portland where they have been visiting the past month. No party has anything to crow over in Curry county. Complete returns from all the precincts give Bryan and McKinley 300 votes each. Portland had a slight breeze yester day, the wind reaching a velocity of 49 miles an hour. This was companied by heavy rain. Today Lee Louie, the Chinaman who was indicted for assault with a dangerous weapon, plead guilty to simple assault, and was fined $50. Prof. J. T. Neff, who has been here the past few days serving as a member of the county board of examiners, left on the afternoon train for Hood River. Today Robert Mays & Son received 75 head of young cattle from L. W. Curtis, of Rockland. They will take the cattle to their stock ranch near

J. W. Walker, manager of the Grants distillery, is erecting a roller mill plant at Carson, in Baker county. All the grain in Eagle valley will be tributary to the mill. The Oregonian today says Eastern Oregon wool has advanced two cents in Boston. If this is true, we should feel the beneficial effect here sometime between now and Christmas. James Connolly came in yesterday from his stock ranch on Cherry creek. He says the recent rain has reached all over Crook county and has started the grass and fall grain growing nicely. Miss Mollie Brookhouse, who has been visiting friends in this city and on Tygh Ridge, left this morning for mercy of the court be extended. Mar-Astoria to resume her work in the office of the Oregon Telephone Co., in county jail last winter as a punish-to Her List. News of another Grant county tragedy comes from the northwestern portion of the county. The Davville mail carrier, Mr. Valade, informed a News reporter that he had received information from his driver that a Frenchman named Martin Morin who had been herding sheep until recently, had shot and instantly killed a sheepman named Billy Wilson near Rock Creek. The tragedy occurred last Friday while the two men were riding horse a few rods from the main traveled road, and the unfortunate Wilson was buried Mon.

Only meager particulars could be obtained. However, the preliminary trial of the Frenchman was in progres before Justice Cown, of Rock Creek, and the prisoner will doubtless be brought to the county seat and committed to jail, for from all accounts the shooting was malicious and without Wilson was shot in the back the ball

This falling off in British imports by $75,000,000 in nine months gives one good reason why wheat is but little above 60 cents a bushel in Chicago. The exports of British coal fell off $10,000,000 in the first nine months of this year as compared with the year before. In cotton varns the export diminished by over 25,000,000 pounds and in cotton piece goods by 250,000,000 yards, as compared with the exports in 1892. While this shows a heavy immediate loss to manufacturers and to labor, it is indicative, however, of decreased stocks of cottons in purchasing countries, unless other manufacturing countries have met the deficiency in the English trade, which does not appear reasonable in face of the large stocks of raw cotton that are available In textile fabries the exports decreased by nearly $10,000,000, and in woollen and worsted yarns by nearly $3,000,000, and in woollen goods by $3,500,000. Metal poods, hardware and cutlery all fell off in quantity and value; tin plate exports decreased by nearly $500,000, smaller purchases by the

The storm which has prevailed throughout the Northwest is said to have been one of the severest ever known. Throughout Western Oregon and Washington, an unusual amount of rain fell, and rivers everywhere were running over their banks. At Oregon City the Willamette rose seven feet in 24 hours, and the canal and locks at that place were closed

Sunday evening.

At Salem the river stood at 24 fee looding all the lower docks. Mill creek was a raging torrent. The dyke built by the state from the reform school to the penitentiary, at an expense of $7,500, was much damaged. In Linn and Lane counties much damage was done to county roads and bridges, and the Southern Pacific track was under water in many places. Frains were delayed on the entire

Over in Washington, the Puyallup, Stuck, White and Black river valleys between Tacoma and Seattle were flooded, causing such danger to traffic that the Northern Pacific abandoned its entire service on the Seattle branch Sunday. The Great Northern track was also seriously damaged, and it will be some time after the flood subsides efore trains will be run regulari that road. Throughout Eastern Oregon and Washington the rain fall has been unusually heavy, but the damage done is comparatively slight. On this side of the Columbia the only material damage by high water was that done to the O. R. &. N bridge across Herman creek. But the Northern Pacific bridge across Yakima river, in Washington, was damaged, one bent of the bridge at Cle-Elum having been washed away. Throughout Eastern Oregon the rain has been more beneficial than detrimental, since it has thoroughly wet the ground, making it possible for farmers to plow, and giving them an opportunity to prepare their fields for early seeding next spring.
