A few small lots of wool have been sold the past few days, but no large clips have been disposed of. There may be said to be no market for wool at present, though a few offers of 8 cents have been made for choice lots.

It is ascertained that the total loss by the fire at Umattila Sunday evening was no less than $8000, about one-third covered by insurance. The policy on the Jack's residence had not, as was stated in press dispatches yesterday, expired.

Crop in Willamette valley are reported to have suffered severely the past few weeks, and most spring grain is said to be entirely ruined. Fall wheat stood the dry weather pretty well in most sections and will yield a fair crop.

Another train load of cattle from Webfoot passed through here this morning going to Montana. From this way cattle have been shipped out of Willamette valley this season, it would seem that beef will be a very scarce article down there for some time.

The O. R. & N. steamer D. S. Baker, which has been tied up here during the past two months, was taken to Portland today. The boat was brought here for use in case of extreme high water, but since all danger of high water is past, its presence here is no longer required.

Arrangements were completed a few days ago by which Seattle will have the largest smelting plant on the North Pacific coast. The plant will be of 400 tons capacity, and will be built by Milwaukee and Salt Lake capitalists. It will be completed within six months.

W. H. Peck, a prospective farmer of Haystack, Crook county, was in the city yesterday, and reports everything flourishing in that section. Mr. Peck says Crook county will produce enough this year to supply the local demand, and will not be compelled to import any flour.

Len Burgess is in the city today and says no rain fell in the vicinity of Bakeren last Sunday night, when showers occurred in other portions of the country. Crops in that portion of the county, Mr. Burgess says, are showing the effects of the continued dry spell, and will be short unless there are rains soon.

The product of gold and silver in the states and territories of the United States for the year of 1896 is estimated by the director of the mint to have been $65,688,000 gold and silver. The increase in the production of gold over 1895 is shown to have been $3,578,000, while the production of silver shows an increase of $4,018,000.

There is no reason why all the honey consumed here should not be produced in this vicinity, since every good required by bees is to be found here. Today J. J. Norman left at this office samples of honey taken from his hives that would compare favorably with any imported article, being of perfect color and delicate flavor.

This morning Mrs. Iola Beebe, representing Dr. Murray of Portland, was arrested on a charge of practicing medicine without a license, on a complaint verified by J. G. Farley. The case is on trial this afternoon before a jury in Recorder Phelps' court.

Last night was a foggy one, but it was not sufficiently cold to bring the frosts in any section near The Dalles.

The Dalles Packing Co. received two tons of fish this morning and ran their cannery long enough to put the salmon in tins.

Mrs. Inez Fillion returned yesterday from Goldendale and Conterville where she had been in the interest of the Woodmen Circle. She will organize a circle at those places on the 28th and 29th.

Frank Summerville, secretary of the B. S. & L. Co. at Hay Creek, arrived here last evening and left on the morning train for Portland.

The midsummer meeting of the State Horticultural Society will be held in Newberg June 29 and 30. Many interesting papers on horticultural subjects will be read.

DEUR HAPPENINGS.

The Easy Little Town Preparing to Celebrate Independence Day.

A light shower on the evening of the 13th followed by a cool, moist, west wind is staving off danger and hurt from dry weather, consequently there is still a promise of a good harvest.

The water company reorganized some time ago is active putting in a new plant. The cistern or reservoir is located on the top of the hill to the north of town, and will hold near 10,000 barrels of water.

The excavation place was found to be a sand bed, composed of an excellent quality of pure coarse sand. A handful put into a tumbler of water will not show discoloration. This proves that the hill was at one time part of an ocean beach.

On next Friday evening a labor exchange organizer is to hold a meeting here. Some of our citizens in talking over the meeting and its prospects, the following conversation was had:

Mr. A.—I am favorable to labor exchange; but how am I to exchange my labor?

Mr. B.—Come over and hoe in my garden, and I will come down town and take care of the stores and printing office.

This illustrates the simplicity of labor exchange; in fact it was almost a revelation to the assembled few on the occasion referred to.

Several native born men of Oregon met Tuesday in the hall of the Chamber of Commerce, in Portland, and organized the Society of Native Sons of Oregon.

The object of the society is to promote acquaintance and social intercourse among its members; collect and preserve important facts connected with the settlement and history of the state; perpetuate the memory of the noble men and women who laid its foundation; and to exercise upon non-partisan question such influence as may be proper on the part of those who, by birth and life-long residence, feel special interest and pride in the honor and welfare of the state of Oregon.

It is provided that any male citizen of the United States, over 21 years of age, and born in the state or the original territory of Oregon, is eligible to membership upon the payment of an admission fee of $1.

A dispatch from Pendleton to the Oregonian gives the following account of recent wool sales at that place, that is rather encouraging to wool owners here: The largest sale of wool recorded on the coast this year was made by Fred W. Hendley, who sold on commission 500,000 pounds rated at Echo, in this county. There are 1200 sales and they fill 30 cars. The wool was bought by E. Y. Judd, for the Hartford wool house of which he is a member—H. G. Judd, Jr. The wool will come to Pendleton to be scored, in transit. The buyers and sellers refuse to say what prices were paid, further than that the total amount paid was nearly $35,000, which would give close to 25 cents a pound. This price is above the same last year. Before this no sales had been recorded for several weeks.

The Summer Institute. County School Superintendent Gilber has issued a call for a normal institute to be held in The Dalles, commencing on July 12, and lasting four weeks. The institute will be conducted by Prof. Gavin and Landers of The Dalles public schools and such other instructors as may be induced to assist. Owing to there being only a limited institute fund at the disposal of the superintendent, a fee of $2.50 will be charged each person attending, regardless of the number of days present. All teachers of this and adjoining counties are invited to attend the institute. Classes will be formed in each of the common branches, as well as in those subjects necessary to obtain a state diploma, and the best facilities for conducting the classes will be adopted.

A Freightier Injured. About 10 o'clock Thursday W. V. Collins met with a serious, though rather fortunate accident on the road this side of the free bridge on Deschutes. He loaded two wagons here for Prineville yesterday, and this morning while pulling up a steep hill his trail wagon broke loose, but he was unable to stop his team suddenly, and the pole that operated the brake of the rear wagon, which was attached by a rope to the seat of the front wagon, gave way. The recoil of the rope caused the pole to fly toward Mr. Collins at a terrible speed, and struck him on the forehead cutting a gash about two and one-half inches to the skull. After getting his team into a pasture Mr. Collins came to town for medical

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES.

A Beautiful Program Rendered at St. Mary's Academy.

Yesterday afternoon was witnessed one of the most interesting and complete graduating exercises ever given in The Dalles. At the appointed hour the hall of St. Mary's academy was full to overflowing with the friends of the school. The large stage was a mass of palms and flowers, and held besides four fine pianos. The decorations were arranged in the class colors, blue and white, while over the stage was draped the class motto, "Esse Quam Videri."

The first number on the program "The Witche's Dance," was rendered by nine young girls at three pianos, who showed by their commendable execution the excellent training they have received. "Heart Blossoms Cull We for Our Friends" was sung by 70 misses, and was well rendered. The next number was "A Plea for Science" which was the graduating essay of Miss Catherine Cecilia Brogan.

FATS HOLLAUQUY.

Lewis S. Record, of Worcester, Mass., furnished the following verses to the St. Louis Republic, which is rather suggestive at present:
