

Times-Mountaineer. SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 25, 1897. ITEMS IN BRIEF. Will Field started today for San Francisco. E. Jacobson goes to Spokane on this evening's train. Mayor Nolan went to Portland today on a brief business trip. Miss Anna Johns went to Portland today to spend Sunday. Ed. Wingate came home this morning from a visit to Heppner. Mrs. Grace Mitchell Johnson, of Astoria, is visiting friends and relatives in the city. Today a car load of beef was shipped from Salmaster & Co's stock yards to Troutdale. Mrs. Minnie Gilson and children, who have been visiting relatives in the city, returned today to their home in Portland. Henry Cross, the office boy of the Times-Mountaineer, went to Portland on the Regulator today, to visit friends and relatives. Miss Minnie Sandrock left today for Portland, where she will take a position in one of the leading military stores of that city. Don't forget the harvest festival to be opened at the Salvation Army barracks, commencing with a supper to-night and continuing four days. Judge Bradshaw, Hon. A. A. Jayne and D. S. Dufur leave this evening for Condon to attend circuit court which convenes at Condon next Monday. Fishermen on the river continue to make good hauls every day, and the indications are the fall catch will be equal to any ever made at this place. The D. P. & A. N. Co. are preparing to sluice off the point north of their warehouse so as their boats may make landings more easily during high water. Out in Kansas a widow with two children wedded a widower with two children and they had two more children. One day the husband called to his wife: "Your children and my children are in the yard thumping the life out of our children."

A Dallas firm recently placed an order with the Pendleton Woolen Mills for 300 robes. That the firm will get extensive goods, made of pure Oregon wool, is not doubted, but those same robes should have been manufactured right here in The Dalles. The enterprising representative of Van Camp's pork and beans, Miss Lillian Robinson, has been in the city today dispensing the goods of her firm at the store of Pease & Mays. A commercial traveler Miss Robinson takes pre-eminence as one of the most successful drummers on the road. Yesterday the president appointed Hon. T. T. Geer, of Macleary, Or., to be register of the land office on Oregon City. This is one of President McKinley's appointments which the senate will be called upon to confirm. Mr. Geer having declined in advance to accept a $500-a-year place when he was entitled to any office in the gift of his party. In Portland yesterday club wheat dropped to 85 cents, but there was no change in prices at The Dalles. Hay here today came up smiling and offered farmers 80 cents a bushel for all of the wheat they were willing to dispose of. This is another evidence that The Dalles is a market which the farmer finds is stable and profitable for him to court. There was a car load of cattle on route from Eugene to Baker City unloaded at the stock yards today, that could hardly be called cattle. They were more walking skeletons than anything else. Among the lot were a number of old work steers, that after being filled up on Eastern Oregon hay will give the Portland markets work good, tough beef. U. S. Jones, aged about 45 years, died at his home in Dufur last night. In the afternoon he submitted to the amputation of his leg as the last resort to save his life, being afflicted with blood poisoning, and survived only a few hours after the operation. The operation was performed by Dr. DeLich, of Dufur, assisted by Dr. Hollister, of this city. The general face of Lou Morse, White Salmon's leading merchant, illumined the streets of The Dalles last night. At the dock this morning while waiting for the boat to start he entertained the audience by dilating upon the fine fishing there, and the White Salmon. Trout he declared, were so gassy in the river that an angler has to go behind a tree to bait his hook, else the fish will get it before he can cast a line. The other day J. C. Wingfield, one of the most prosperous farmers of Endersby, had an attack of Klondike fever, and hid away to Portland to inquire about passage to Alaska. Arriving in that city, he met John Parrott, whose stories of the north was an effectual cure for Mr. Wingfield's malady, and he returned to his farm convinced that he had a richer Klondike of his own than anything Alaska can possibly offer. If you don't blow your own horn, who will The Dalles Dispatch says: "The Dufur-Dispatch probably has a much larger circulation among the Wasco county farmers, than any one other publication in the county, advertisers should look into this matter in their own interest. County officials, in fairness to farmers, whose presence and labor make the county what it is, should think of this, too." Comment is unnecessary. The firm of Pease & Mays is not only large and liberal sellers but also extensive importers. As evidence, they today received a car load, 24,000 pounds, of beans. This shipment indicates something of the magnitude of the business of The Dalles. Merchants here find that in order to meet the demands of the trade they must order in quantities similar to the invoice received today by Messrs. Pease & Mays.

From Monday's Daily: Indian Agent Cowan went to Portland today. Mrs. J. A. Fleck and daughter went to Portland today. Mrs. Barrett, who has been visiting in the city, returned today to Portland. Otto Kleiman is up from Portland to meet the work on the Cash-cash church. Sheriff Holder, of Sherman county, passed through The Dalles yesterday on route to Portland. Lots 5 and 6, block 8, second addition, west to Hood River, were sold at sheriff's sale today to Ida B. Roe for $400, to satisfy a judgment of Ida B. Roe against C. C. Roe. Miss Dallas Alloway left this morning for Eugene to resume her studies in the state university. Mr. and Mrs. Daggett, of Arlington, were in the city yesterday and returned home on last night's train. Mrs. Ed. R. Bishop, of Heppner, has been visiting in The Dalles the past few days, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Johnston. Two drunks were up in Recorder Sinnott's court today and were fined, one $5 and the other $10. Neither of them was a capitalist, hence they both languish in jail. If you do not know who Crispates are we would advise you to visit five states and find out. You will never regret it and you will want more. Pease & Mays sell them. Deputy Sheriff Kelly came in last night from a week's vacation on his farm near Kingsley. He reports having had an enjoyable outing, and succeeded in bagging a fine lot of chickens while out. Jewish New Year, which comes on Monday, Sept. 27, will be respectfully observed by the Jewish residents of the city. Their stores will be closed on that day, also an announcement day. Last Friday a lad 18 years of age, John Corbin, was brought to the penitentiary at Salem, to serve a term of one year for the larceny of a horse. The boy is an orphan, and feels his disgrace keenly. The new wheat platform put in by the D. P. & A. N. Co. at the wharf is completed. It is so arranged that drags can back up to the platform and discharge much more readily than could be done before. Train No. 2, the east-bound overland, was seven hours late reaching here this morning. The delay was occasioned by the engine getting off the track at Troutdale last night. No material damage was done. Rev. J. B. Lister, of Independence, the state corresponding secretary of the Christian church, will give an address in the Christian church at this city this evening on the subject, "Our work in Oregon." All are cordially invited. Secretary of State Kincaid has announced that he will draw the warrants for the appropriation for the state fair and the different districts. There is no question about the amount appropriated for the fair, which is $100,000. C. B. Allen, O. R. & N. agent at Cascade Locks, was in the city last night. On the first of next month Mr. Allen will exchange places with Mr. Hen, agent at Hood River, taking charge of the station at that place, while Mr. Hen will go to Cascade Locks. Yesterday Miss Anna Bettencourt arrived here directly from Italy, and today at 11 o'clock was married to D. A. Leonard, a prosperous farmer of Centerville, Wash. The ceremony was pronounced by Rev. Bronsgeest at the residence of Mrs. L. O'Brien acting in the capacity of best man, giving the bride away. At the special meeting of the common council held Saturday night, the ordinance granting concessions to the Washougal & La Cava Transportation Co. for the use of land on the water front for dock privileges was referred to the judiciary committee with instructions to report to the council next Thursday evening. Notwithstanding the fall in wheat at Portland, Dalles buyers kept the price up to 80 cents all last week, but as there was no indication for an increased demand today, the price here went down to 78 cents. No sales of consequence were reported at that price. The receipts of wheat however have been larger today than any other day of the season. Last Saturday R. B. and Henry Driver, two of the most thrifty farmers of Wamick precinct, brought in the first lot of wheat on the coast and sold it at once for 80 cents a bushel. Henry says wheat may go higher, but he is willing for the speculator to have the benefit of the rise if there is any, as 80 cents pays him very well for raising the wheat. The stockyards have been full of cattle and sheep all day. The two double deck cars of sheep and two cars of cattle were loaded out, and a train of 18 cars of cattle from Ashland arrived at 11 o'clock last night and unloaded to feed. Another train of 22 cars from Ashland will arrive this evening. They are all billed to Chicago, and are the property of A. L. Alley. Yesterday Fox Battu and Dol Palmer were out to Five-Mile gunning and brought in three fine young chickens, both of them claiming the honor of having killed them. But the dispute was settled today when the boy who sold them the chickens came in and inquired if any more Dalles hunters would be out his way next Sunday. If any more are coming, he will hunt all week and have a stock of birds saved up. The independence city council is proposing to license nearly all kinds of business at from $10 to $25, those now in business being given free licenses. The point aimed at seems to be that business of many kinds have been so overdone as to be unprofitable for all concerned, and the ordinance would deter others from coming in to set up business except in a permanent way and where there was a real good opening. A party of ninetyn consisting of T. A. Ward, L. J. Norman, Dennis Bunell and Will Gilmore scoured the mountains between here and Klickitat for two days in quest of prairie chickens, and returned last night with three groups. Mr. Norman was the only one of the party who had any really good luck while out. He steadily crawled for two miles to get in range of a flock of decoy geese, and succeeded in riddling the tin dummies with shot before discovering what they were. From Tuesday's Daily: Attorney W. H. Hiddell was called to Portland on business today. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Barnes, of Endersby, were in the city today. Frank Lister, who for the coming fair can be had by calling at this office. Clock raffle will take place at Kinnersly drug store at 8 o'clock tonight. Miss Ethel Deming went to Portland today to visit until the last of the week. No change in the price of wheat today, 78 cents being the top price offered. The O. R. & N. lost three freight cars by the fire at Pendleton yesterday morning. The cars were on the siding between the mill and warehouses. Joseph Shannon is quite comfortably located in his new harness shop in the East End. And now that the fall is assured let everybody assist in making it a complete success. Phil Brogan is back from Prineville where he has been looking after matters in the probate court. E. C. Fitzpatrick brought in a car load of fine beef from Tygh today and sold them to C. M. Grimes for the Union Meat Co. Mrs. J. M. Pattison, of Oakland, Or., will arrive here this evening, to spend several weeks visiting friends in The Dalles and at Dufur. Karl's Clover Root Tea, for constipation, is the best and after using you don't say so, return the package and get your money. Sold by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists, The Dalles, Or. Mrs. W. F. Lyons, of Moro, was a passenger on the Regulator today. She goes to Oregon City to spend the winter visiting relatives. More perfect weather could not be desired. Farmers are able to finish their threshing, and get their grain under shelter while the sun shines. Be not deceived! A cough, hoarseness or croup are not to be trifled with. A dose in time of Shiloh's Cure will save you much trouble. Sold by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists, The Dalles, Or. Capt. McNulty went to Portland today on freight for bringing the steamer Lone to this place. Capt. McNulty will have charge of the Lone when she is put on the river between here and Portland. Ladies, take the best. If you are troubled with constipation, swollen skin, and a tired feeling, take Karl's Clover Tea, it is pleasant to take. Sold by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists, The Dalles, Or. Don't Tobacco Spit and Smoke Your Life Away. To quit tobacco easily and forever, be sure you get the "Cure" which is guaranteed to cure all drug addicts, and is sold by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists, The Dalles, Or. Pendleton's Enterprise. Saturday-morning the Pacific Express Co.'s deliveryman left at this office a package from the Pendleton Woolen Mills that contained a report of eight colors made of Oregon wool, and by Oregon factory. The present from the woolen mills at Pendleton is duly appreciated by the editor of the Times-Mountaineer, but produces a feeling of regret because the handsome robe was not manufactured in The Dalles. Pendleton by her enterprise secured a woolen mill that turns out goods that compare with those manufactured by any mill in the world, while The Dalles, the greatest wool center in the United States ships its raw material abroad to have it converted into articles of commerce. It is unnecessary to draw any conclusions. The Dalles has simply allowed its more enterprising neighbor to capture an industry that should have located here; but this is no time to moralize—it is a time for action. Let us enter the field as a competitor of our neighbor, and establish a factory that will produce an article equally as good as the sample of robe which was forwarded to this office by the Pendleton mills. Then instead of our merchants being compelled to place orders with the Pendleton mills, they will place them with a home institution. Everybody Says So. Casanova Candy Cane, the most wonderful medical discovery of the age, purges and refreshes the taste, acts gently on the bowels, cleanses the blood, and cures all ailments of the system, such as colds, coughs, croup, whooping cough, and all ailments of the throat, chest, and lungs. Sold by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists, The Dalles, Or. Driven to Suicide by Grief. A father lying at the morgue, dead by his own hand; an erring daughter missing; a wife who has become a socialist; a widowed mother, with five small children clustered about and another child to be brought into the world. Such is the culmination of the story of girlish waywardness and parental dread of disgrace, through exposure, that has been published, and is being distributed, and the board of commissioners are actively engaged in improving the fair grounds and putting them in shape for accommodating stock that may be entered for exhibition. The "Hot" opera house has been secured for the parties, where orchard, farm and garden products, works of art, etc., will be exhibited, and it is the purpose of the management to give exhibitors all the floor space desired for making exhibits. As to the speed program, sufficient material has been subscribed to justify the offering of $1,000 in purses, and some good racing is expected. The track is being put in first class condition, and there is already a number of local horses in training for the races. No-To-Bee For Fifty Cents. Guaranteed tobacco habit cure, makes men smoke, blood pure, etc. All druggists. WILL GO WITH A DOG TRAIN. J. F. Hubrick Starts for Klondike With a Train of Dogs. Tuesday J. P. Hubrick, recently of Pasco, Wash., took passage on the Regulator for Portland, and from there sails on the Elder for Skagway. At Seattle he will be joined by Ed. Alverson, and the two expect to spend the winter months crossing over from Skagway to Dawson City. They will outfit at Portland with sufficient supplies to last them a year, and will take their outfit across the mountains by dog train, having a string of some thirty dogs that they are taking with them. Both men are experienced mountaineers, are rugged young men, and if anybody gets across into Dawson City this winter they will be among the number. Mr. Hubrick has made calculations on spending two seasons on the Yukon, provided he does not make a stake sooner, and fully expects to return from the north with a competency for life. To Cure Constipation Forever. Take Casanova Candy Cane, 10c or 25c. Sold by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists, The Dalles, Or. A Boy and a Cider Mill. Last Saturday evening L. Comin and family went to Mill creek to spend Sunday with the family of Theodor Meesle, and no sooner had they arrived at the farm when the little boy, aged about 9 years, undertook to operate a cider mill that stood in the yard. He set the machine in motion, then undertook to feed with his hands. In doing this he got his right hand mixed up with a couple of cog wheels, and the hand was terribly lacerated. Fortunately no bones were broken, but the flesh on the back of the hand and fingers was badly cut, and it required a number of stitches to restore the fingers to their normal condition. The boy was brought to town Saturday night and placed under Dr. Hollister's care. Dreadfully Nervous. Gentle is was dreadfully nervous, and for relief took your Karl's Clover Root Tea. It quieted my nerves and strengthened my whole nervous system. I was troubled with constipation, kidney and bowel trouble. Your tea soon cleansed my system so thoroughly that I rapidly regained health and strength. Mrs. S. A. Sweet, Hartford, Conn. Sold by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists, The Dalles, Oregon. Company's Attention. Officers and members of Co. G. will report at the armory on Saturday, Sept. 25, 1897, at 7:30 P. M. sharp, fully uniformed and equipped for company drill and quarterly inspection. By order of A. L. Reese, captain commanding.

use are evidence of prosperity and thrift, but they are also expensive luxuries, which every municipality should consider the expenses of before adopting. Last Saturday night the city council met for the purpose of receiving the report of the committee on electric lights, and the report showed that the best rates to be obtained from the Electric Light Co. were $10.50 per month for 15 lights on a contract of three years; $10.75 a month for each light for two years, and $12 a month on a contract of one year. That is the best contract that can be made for lighting the streets with 15 lights, and is $15.50 a month, or $1,800 a year. Now the question arises, can the city afford this expenditure? At the present rate of receipts and disbursements, the city is going ahead at the rate of about $1,500 a year, its receipts being that much greater than its expenditures. With the extra expenditure of $1800 a year for lights there would be a deficit of nearly $4000 a year, unless the expenses of the other branches of city government can be reduced. City recorder Sinnott is making a careful examination of the records of the city, and will submit to the council at the special meeting called for Thursday night an estimate of the probable receipts and disbursements from Dawson City in 25 days from which the council can determine if the luxury of lights can be afforded. The Woodmen Circle. The Pacific Circle, Women of Woodcraft, is now in a splendid condition. They have their grand circle office at Leadville, Colorado, and have on their roster 2000 beneficiary members and 800 social. They have paid three death claims in full since April 1st, the present year, and have two in Oregon to pay in full within the next month. The order has 32 circles in this state organized since April 1, 1897, and is all in 78 in the jurisdiction since the above date. The Pacific Circle was adopted by the head council of Woodmen of the World Pacific Jurisdiction, at its auxiliary, on August 11, 1897. The amount of insurance is from $500 to $2,000 and the assessment rate is a graded one just like that of the Woodmen. The order furnishes a $100 monument to every deceased lady member who carries a beneficiary certificate. The order is a social, benefit and fraternal one, and the social after every meeting of the circle tends toward cultivating a true fraternal spirit among its members. The guardian of the local circle is Mrs. Ella Cushing and the clerk, Miss Louise Rintoul, and the order meets every Friday evening in Fraternity hall, over N. Harris' store. Educate Your Housewife with Casanova Candy Cane, cure constipation forever. 10c or 25c. Sold by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists, The Dalles, Or. THIS IS ASSURED. The Meeting of the Second District Agricultural Association Will Be Held. Complete arrangements have been completed for holding a fair in The Dalles, commencing on Tuesday, Oct. 12, and continuing five days. The premium list has been published, and is being distributed, and the board of commissioners are actively engaged in improving the fair grounds and putting them in shape for accommodating stock that may be entered for exhibition. The "Hot" opera house has been secured for the parties, where orchard, farm and garden products, works of art, etc., will be exhibited, and it is the purpose of the management to give exhibitors all the floor space desired for making exhibits. WENT UP IN SMOKE. Byers' Flouring Mills at Pendleton Destroyed by Fire. The large roller mills at Pendleton, with a capacity of 500 barrels daily, owned by W. S. Byers, were destroyed by fire Monday morning, together with nearly 90,000 bushels of wheat and 2,000 barrels of flour. The fire was first discovered about 3:30 by James Gray, the night watchman of the mills, who was the only person awake about the premises. It originated in a small smut room, and is supposed to have been caused by spontaneous combustion. The fire spread very rapidly, and was seen by the night engineer in the woolen and scouring mill near, who whistled an alarm. The fire department soon responded, but by that time the large building was a mass of flames and nothing could be done except to save adjoining property. At one time the $80,000 courthouse on the block opposite was smoking, but the mill walls fell in and the firemen were able to save the courthouse. The firemen had great difficulty from bursting hoses, and were handicapped by a large crowd and the excitement of the people. The contents of a stone warehouse near the mill were greatly damaged and nearly ruined. The corrugated-iron warehouse was totally destroyed. The loss is at least $150,000 half on the plant and half on wheat, flour and other property. In the mill elevator 60,000 bushels of wheat were burned, and in the stone warehouse 25,000 bushels of wheat and 2,000 barrels of flour. There was no insurance, save $50,000 on the mill building and machinery. The stone warehouse was supposed to be fireproof, but the intense heat fired the contents. Only a part of the machinery was running at the time cleaning wheat. The destruction of this fine milling plant is a serious loss to Pendleton and in fact to the entire state, for Oregon's flour had gained much notoriety through the sale in China, Japan and South America of the products of Byers' mills. "Byers' Best" took the first premium at the Columbian exposition in 1893, and had an almost world-wide reputation. It has not yet been determined if the mills will be rebuilt, but judging from Pendleton's past enterprise it is very likely the plant will be replaced.
