Lightship Launched.

PORTLAND, Dec. 12.-Lightship No. 10 was successfully launched from the ways at Wolff & Zwicker's yard, at 11:30 yesterday morning, and is now noored at the contractors' wharf waiting to receive her boiler, masts and spars. Three thousand people, standing on the East Water-street elevated roadway, the roofs of surrounding buildings and the Madison and Morrison street bridges saw her enter the water. Not an accident nor a hitch narred the event.

Shortly after 11 o'clock, Miss Dorcas Merrell, who had been requested by the contractors to christen the vessel, nounted the platform at the bow, accompanied by her mother and father, Commander John P. Merrell, inspec tor of the 13th lighthouse district. F. Wolff president of the Wolff & Zwicker iron works, and a number of invited guests were also on the platform. Taking the champagne bottle, which was suspended by a red, white and blue cord from the starboard bow, in her hand, she made ready for the moment when the ship should start.

operr house tonight. A large number of representative citizens were present and the entire subsidy of $80,000 was guaranteed. During the past several days, committees from the Commercial Club have been canvassing different portions of the county, and when the meeting was called to order tonight, a total of $70,400 had been subscribed. After the purpose of the meeting was stated, subscriptions were called for, and $3000 was secured. A few hundred dollars is still lacking,

OREGON CITY, Dec. 11 - Mark Baker, of Stafford, was shot in the shoulder this afternoon by his father, Colonel P. A. Baker. They were shooting at a target for turkeys. When Colonel Baker's turn came, he called to his son to shade the target, so he could see the bull's-eye better. The young man stooped over in front of the target to pick up a board, when the colonel's gun, an old muzzle-loader, was accidently discharged. The ball entered the young man's shoulder in the soft part of the bone, and plowed a hole through it. Priest Turns Protestant GREEN BAY, Wis., Dec. 13.-There were no services Sunday in the "old Catholic" church of this city. Rev. A. A. Miller, the priest of the parish, has resigned his charge and has accepted the Protestant faith. Rev. Mr. Miller states that he resigned because the congregation was not willing to accept and abide by the "old Catholic" reforms. These he specifies as the introduction of public confession, instead of private confession, and the abolition of the order of the Virgin Mary. Other than becoming a Protestant he gives no plans for the future.

Boys and Girls Aid Society. Supt. Gardner, of the Boys & Girls Aid Society, of Portland, is in town, having brought up a little girl for Mrs. Thorburn, of Kingsley, and will return with six children, two girls and one now appears, did not land more than boy, the children of I. V. Howland, who went to the penitentiary recently for selling land that was mortgaged. Also three boys named Adkins, who are voluntarily surrendered by their mother to the society.

Kelly, Hood River; Jas. Kelly, Kingsley; J. Stein, Tygh; Mrs. Thorborn,

The Boys & Girls Aid Society has taken a large number of destitute and cient patronage to keep it going. A bused children from this county at laundry capable of doing the business different times, and this saved the county considerable expense, as well of this city would employ not less than 20 hands, and their wages distributed as the public considerable annoyance. And since the legislature failed to appropriate anything for charitable institutions, this society is the only one that will accept children outside of Multnomah county, but with them there is no red tape, whatever, they only require to know that they are in need, and they are looked after. They have a fine building, well arranged for the comfort of the children, until they can be placed in homes, where they have on hand from 25 to 40 little ones. It seems that, at this time, they have a hard time to exist. This county pays their $10 per month, and the superintendent is looking for voluntary subscriptions of any amount. Mr. Gardner makes bis headquarters at Blakely & Houghton's om of Baptismal Christening and Odd esults of Mistakes. Down to the early port of the present entury it was usual to name a child after the saint on whose day he happened to be born. A writer to Note and Queries in 1853 states that he had recently baptized a child by the name of Benjamin Simon Jude. On his expressing some surprise at this somewhat singular conjunction of names, he was informed that the birth had the day from a child. The custom of naming children after any particular saint has fallen into general disuse, except in those countries where the population is corposed almost entirely of Roman Catholics The giving of a name in baptism is really no essential part of the rite, but is merely a custom derived apparently from the Jews, and which through long practice has become an important element in the ceremony.

Many instances might be furnished of children who have inadvertently received wrong names. The registers in Warminster church contain the follow "1790, January 17, Charles, daughter of John and Betty Haines. This child ought to have been christened Charlotte, but owing to a mistake of the ponsors, it was wrong named." William and Sarah Weiddick. N. B .-It was intended that this child, being a girl, should have been christened Maria, but through a mistake of the podfather it was named William."

The Dalles Steam Laundry has

May, but has never received enough work to make it a profitable investment. Why this is no one can explain, for there is certainly enough work here for a laundry, as some $400 goes to Portland each month for laundry work. This should be kept at home, and would be if people practiced religiously the principles of patronizing home industries. The laundry will likely open again next spring, and should it, there ought to be suffi-in the city would be of considerable importance to the town.
