It is pleasing to note the improve ments that are being made in the different business houses of the city, many of which are being renovated and brightened up in a way that indicates a revival of business. Among the improvements being made it is noticed that the interior of French & Co.'s bank is being revarnished and brightened up by R. D. Mendelsohn, the expert polisher and piano repairer. Last Wednessday Mr. and Mrs. M. J.

Canty met with quite a serious aecident at their home in Arlingion, says the Record. While trying to get some apples out of a store room, Mr. Canty broke through the boards that covered an old well, and dragged Mrs. Canty with him. They fell 30 feet to the bottom of the well, lighting in about three feet of mud and water, and it was an hour before help came to rescue them. Mrs. Canty was quite severely bruised.

Miss Janet Waldorf and her excelent company presented "Ingomar" at the Vogt opera house Monday evening The audience was not large, but the play was simply superb, and those who failed to see Miss Waldorf as "Parthenia," the sweet and self sacrificing Greek maiden, missed a treat which semes to The Dalles but once in years. It cannot but seem that the play was written for Miss Woldorf, so perfectly loes she fill the part. At the first words spoken by her, her audience is captivated and follows her easy and graceful movements through all the lifferent emotional scenes, and there are many, with absorbing interest and bursts of applause. It is her naturalness when passing through all the different phases of emotion with little effort that wins and holds her audience Miss Waldorf is certainly one of the leading artists in her profession and having achieved success at so early an age, is destined to become an idol of the American stage. Such deep feelings of gratitude can only be felt by parents, and words cannot express them, we can only say that we thank God that our children lived among such people, and ask God to bless such institutions, that they may live to fulfill their missions of love, of burying the dead, caring for the orphan and drying the tears of widows. All of this we feel has been done, as far as can be done by human beings through these organizations, for our dear loved ones.
