here this evening, and will go to the Endersby school house, where they hold a meeting tonight. Messrs. Allen Grant and Al. Jones arrived today from Antelope with two loads of wool. They will leave tomerrow morning, loaded with freight for the above-pamed point. Four hundred and fifty-five head of mutton sheep were shipped to Portland this morning on the Regulator. They were bought by H. A. Walker from Harvey Smith and will be sent to Fry & Bruhn, of Seattle. Miss Harriet Stevens came up on last night's train, and will return in the morning to her home in Portland. This will be Miss Stevens'last trip until September when she will again re sume her class in music. A. B. Estebenet has accepted a position with The Dalles steam laundry, and is soliciting work for that concern. This enterprise should be encouraged by a liberal patronage, for they do good work, and the money remains at home.

In the absence of rain, the presen cloudy weather is the next most beneficial thing that we could have. By the clouds grain fields are protected from the seorching sun, and the moisture in the ground is prevented from a price now.

Miss Carrie Donlon, of Portland, will arrive on this evening's train, to be in attendance at the graduating exercises of the high school. She will be the guest of Miss Georgia Sampson, and will return to her home Monday morning.

The May term of circuit cour closed Wednesday, and was the shortest and least expensive term eyer held in the county. Notwithstanding there were two jury trials, all the business before the court was concluded in three days. We heard rather a hard slam on our militia boys today, although it will probably be good news to some who have relatives and friends enlisted. The Oregon boys will not be sent to the front but in their stead the colored troops will be put forward for they are fast black and won't run. Three hundred and fifty men and fifteen officers of the Montana militia are expected to pass through here at an early hour in the morning. As yet we cannot state a definite time as the train has been delayed by a washout on the Great Northern railway. It is becoming quite eveldent that Cervera is not bottled up in Santiago Harbor, but where he is is a mystery. Probably he will bob up serenely somewhere and at sometime when least expected. If he does Sampson and Schley will not occupy a place in history along with Dewey.

Today carpenters are at work tear ing down the wooden addition made to the brick building on the corner of Third and Washington streets, be longing to Max Vogt & Co. This will be replaced by a brick building, and it is rumored on the street that it will be occupied as a commission house.

Hon. C. M. Donaldson, union nominee for congressman in this district, spent the day in the city. Mr. Donaldson has made a canvass of the entire district, and has made numer ous friends wherever he has gone. He expresses confidence in the success of the union ticket in this state, and feels assured of success on June 6th.

Eight hundred head of beef cattle will be shipped to Salt Lake tonight. There will be twe train loads of about eighteen cars each and they will be rushed through on passenger time. One hundred head were furnished by thoroughly investigated affairs on James Kelly of this city, while the Wall street, then he became a silver other seven hundred were brought in man. by Joe Howard, of Prineville.

The eld Catholic church in this city is being torn down by Mr. Grupper and the lumber will be taken to Stevenson, Wash. This church was bailt and dedicated in 1861, and Father Mesplie, whom all old residents will remember, was the priest at that time. These old land marks are gradually becoming things of the past, and their places are being taken by handsomer and more commodious buildings.

ent Exercises at the Vogt Sat urday Evening.

Last Saturday evening was comnencement day for The Dalles High schools, and seventeen diplomas were presented, though two of the graduates. Max J. Bartell and Walter T. Dickey, were absent, having enlisted in the army, and were called to the Philippines, however they were given examination prior to leaving, and were granted diplomas.

The stage of the opera house was handsomely decorated with flowers and flags, but the most attractive features were the fifteen young ladie and gentlemen who have spent years in careful and arduous study, to fit themselves for the honor that was on that evening conferred upon them. Five of the graduates who had pre pared orations for the occasion, graciously consented to have their numbers ommitted so that the exercises should not he too long, hence but ten were delivered. It would be a pleasure to the Times-Mountaineer to give a synopsis of each of the orations, for every one was a masterpiece of intellect, but space will not permit. Suffice it to say that the young people who graduated from the high school this year acquitted themselves very creditable, and we bespeak for each and every one a brilliant and successful future. They "have builded well and will reap accordingly." The program rendered was as follows:

The True Aim of Poetry....Elizabeth A. Bonn Every Man Builds Himself...... Ira B. Pruyne ocal Solo—"Life's Lullaby".....Gerald Lan Harriet N. Cram.
