Frank Irvine, a merchant of Antelope, is in the city.
J. M. Russell, a wool buyer from Portland, is in the city.
W. H. Mitchell, of Portland, is registered at the Umatilla House.
L. E. Morse, the White Salmon merchant, is in the city on business.
T. A. Van Norden returned last evening from a short business trip to Portland.
H. Herbstein returned on last evening's boat from a short trip to Portland.
C. L. Ireland, of the Sherman county Observer, is in the city from Moro.
Last night F. A. McCally shipped two cars of porkers to the Union Stock yards at Portland.
M. A. Van Guilder and wife and Harvey Smith and wife, of Grass Valley, are registered at the Umatilla House.
Ben Allen and daughter, Ella, of Prineville, came to the stage last evening and will leave tomorrow for Portland.
Today the county clerk issued a marriage license to Frank Noble and M. A. E. Palmer.
W. M. Lucas, of Tygh, is in town on business, and states everything in his section is looking fine.
Three cars of hogs were shipped to the Union Stock Co. at Troutdale today by E. E. Willard, of La Grande.
Russell Sewell, wife and child, who have been visiting in the city for some time, returned this morning to their home in Portland.
Miss Virginia Marden, who has been visiting at the residence of Hon. E. L. Smith at Hood River for the past week, returned home last evening.
The bar and fixtures arrived today for the new saloon to be opened by Geo. Way in the building nearly opposite M. T. Nolan's book store.
Mrs. Stapleton and daughter, of Portland, came up last evening and left this morning for Goldendale, where they will visit for some time.
The seniors of Lassell female seminary have the following guests:
Hannah K. V. Greene and White Hallabelle Balton Belante.
Lassell Lassell Ninety-eight!
The rain last week was general all over Sherman county and crops are now safe. Nothing can prevent a heavy grain yield in that county this year.
Joe Hinkins and wife came up last evening from Portland, where they have been visiting, and left on this morning for their home at Prineville.
Mrs. M. E. Baxter, of Portland, is in the city, in the interest of the Refuge Home. She is the guest of Mrs. C. J. Cranfall, and will be returning to Portland with other interested persons in this vicinity.
The Cambrinus school is receiving a new coat of paint which adds very much to the appearance of the building.
Yesterday in the Columbia Hotel parlors, Wm. A. Doyle was united in marriage to Alice Spoonmore, Justice Filloon officiating.
The old baggage room in the Umatilla House is being remodeled, painted and papered, and will be used in the future for a writing room.
Mesdames, Filloon, Cushing and Dawson, Misses Edie and Minnie Crooks are in Portland attending a convention of the Woodmen Circle.
There will be a special meeting of the Rathbone sisters on Wednesday evening (Thursday) for the election of officers. All members are urged to be present.
Messrs. Chas. Hixon, Frank Kincaid and F. J. Reese arrived last evening from Antelope with freight. They started back today with freight for Antelope merchants.
I. J. Keffler, night operator at this place for the O. R. & N. Co., left this morning for Portland, where he went to attend the funeral of J. H. Guild, which took place this afternoon.
Ernest Jensen this morning presented this office with two fine transparent pictures, one representing the destruction of the Maine, and the other showing the battle at Manila Bay. The latter gives a splendid illustration of a naval battle.
The lovers of peanuts should buy a supply and store them for future use. This year, for the river has reached about its highest point. From now on the indications are that it will gradually fall until it reaches the low water mark. During the past 24 hours the Columbia has fallen one-tenth of a foot and this morning stood at 38.7 feet.
Last night Mrs. John Mitchell received a message stating her mother, Mrs. Bulger, was quite ill as she was in Portland. Mrs. Mitchell left on the early train this morning for Portland to attend Mrs. Bulger during her sickness.
R. Nowlin, wife and daughter have returned to the Dalles to make this their home. Mrs. Nowlin and daughter have been visiting in California, while Mr. Nowlin has been in Seattle, but disposes of his business there and returns to the Island Empire.
Rev. Bolts and wife, of the Christian Church, left on the boat this morning for Turner, where they go to attend the annual state convention of Christian Churches. They will be away for about two weeks, and during their absence there will be no evening services of Sunday services at the Christian Church.
The Fourth of July committee have been very busy sending out invitations to interior towns, inviting them to be present at the celebration. Those that should attend for the Dalles has arranged to give the grandest celebration of the kind ever held in the city. The program has been arranged, and there will be something of interest from dawn till dawn.
The Regulator had a big load this morning, and was a trifle late in getting away. There were 75 head of sheep, part of which were taken to Cook's landing, while the balance went to Portland. Twenty-seven head of horses, several wagons, carriages, and quite a lot of miscellaneous freight.

There was hardly room on the boat's bow to turn around, as the freight was piled so high and covered the whole space. There was a good passenger list, quite a few of our home people going below and a number of tourists on sight-seeing.
James H. Guild, superintendent of telegraph of the O. R. & N. Co., and one of the oldest operators on the coast, died at his home in Portland, Monday, after a lingering illness. He was 64 years of age, and was a native of Long Island, N. Y. He leaves a wife and five children. Mr. Guild came to Portland from Carson City in 1886, to assume the management of the Western Union office, which position he held for two years. In 1878 he was given the position with the O. R. & N. Co., which he held up to the time of his death.
Two Indians were arrested last night for being drunk, and now languish in jail, not having the necessary five dollars for the fine imposed by the recorder. One of them secreted a pocket knife on his person, and this morning it was found he had tried to effect an escape by cutting the lower hinge of his fastenings. He did but little damage, as the hinge is nearly a foot long and is securely fastened by bolts. This is the first time anyone has tried to break out of the city jail in this manner, and from the success of the attempt will probably be the last.
From Thursday's Daily.

The roof of the Wasco Warehouse is receiving a coat of paint today.
J. McIntyre, a wool buyer from Oregon City, is registered at the Umatilla House.
Sheriff Driver left for Dufur today on legal business and will return this evening.
The Rathbone sisters will elect officers this evening. Members are requested to be present.
Mrs. L. E. Crowe left for the Regulator this morning for Portland, where she will visit for some time.
Wm. Hoering and wife returned last evening from Portland, where they have been spending the honeymoon.
During the past twenty-four hours the river has fallen four-tenths of an inch, and this morning stood at 38.3 feet.
Messrs. J. M. and Sylvester Sharp, Alf. Allen and R. E. Fortner, of Prineville, are registered at the Umatilla House.
Leon Curtis sold a car of beef cattle to C. M. Grimes, and they were shipped last night to the Union Meat Co. at Troutdale.
You can get 81 excursion tickets to Bonneville and return every Sunday at either the depot or Umatilla House ticket office.
D. O. C. Hollister returned this morning from a trip East, where he has been visiting relatives and attending a medical reunion.
Mrs. Phelan, nee Miss Flora Mulligan, and little son of Wallace, Idaho, arrived this morning and are the guests of Mrs. W. H. Moody.
Rev. Frank Spalding, of Wasco, left on the boat this morning for Stevenson, where he will dedicate the new Methodist church just built at that place.
A case of searlet fever has been reported in the East End, and the family has been quarantined. There is no danger, as the patient is getting along nicely.
Dr. Geisendorff left this morning for Antelope, where he goes to consult with Dr. Pilkington in regard to the case of Murdoch McKay who was shot some time ago by Wm. Roff.
Hiram Naylor, who was arrested yesterday for forgery, had his preliminary this morning before Justice Filloon, and was bound over in the sum of $200 to appear before the grand jury next November.
C. A. Charlton, an attorney of Salem, is in the city, having come down this morning from Heppner, where he has been on a business trip. He contemplates coming to some point in Eastern Oregon to locate.
There will be a meeting of the Fourth of July executive committee tonight at 9 o'clock in the club rooms. It is urgently requested that all members attend, as business of importance will be transacted.
At 9 o'clock last night, Wm. H. Mansfield, foreman in the Times-Mountaineer office, was presented with a beautiful little boy by his better half. The young man is a born printer, and his first call on earth was for copy.
Full returns from all the counties in the state show Geer's majority over Spokane to have been 10,574. In this district Moody's majority over Donaldson was 7690 and in the first district Tongue's majority over Veatch was 2122.
Miss Addie Gaylord, who has been attending school at St. Mary's Academy, will leave on the Spokane River this evening for her home at Grants. She will be accompanied by Katie and Alice Nolan, who will spend a few days visiting her.
Thirty horses were shipped to Portland this morning on the Regulator. They were driven aboard when they became scarce, and part of them were being taken in the wharf boat and made a general scattering for a short time. They were finally gotten aboard and securely corralled.
The Oregon official roster has been completed, and is indeed a very neat and attractive pamphlet. It gives the signatures of all the officers and men, while the lithograph photos of the officers are very fine. In the back of the book is a complete list of the Oregon emergency corps.
The fountain which has stood on Washington street for many years was taken up recently and is being repaired by Harry Clough. The water pipes had become clogged and the water continually ran in the street as soon as it is repaired it will be replaced, and serve Adema's ale to the thirsty public.
The Oregonians unwittingly gives a fair example of the manner in which voters voted at home on election day in six counties which it names. McKinley got 7,413 votes, while Gear received 7,020 votes, nearly 400 votes less.

In the same Bryan received 11,287 votes, indicating, not as the Oregonian says, that there was a change, but that 4,000 silver-reformer voters stayed at home.
The O. R. & N. Co., have added many improvements to the Bonneville picnic grounds and this beautiful spot is now in excellent order. During the summer season tickets will be sold to the Dalles to Bonneville and return every Sunday for the low rate of 91 for the round trip. Tickets will be sold on train No. 3, leaving The Dalles at 6:55 A. M., every Sunday, and will be honored for return passage on trains Nos. 4 and 2, same date.
Fire-works have nearly doubled this year on account of the increased duty. This is, indeed, and news to the small boy, who always enjoys fire-crackers, bombs, torpedoes and in fact any of the wriggling, screaming, writhing, sizzling contrivances that state of his finances will permit him to purchase.
Newspapers here will persuade his father-families that the only way to celebrate Dewey's victory, will be to make the hills resound with bursting bombs and the roar of fire-works. There will probably be more crackers burst this year than ever before.
The administration of the public for our achievements in the present war will be expressed in tearing the air to pieces with ingeniously contrived affairs, that will make his satanic majesty stand in the background with envy.
From Friday's Daily.
Henry Simon, a popular commercial tourist, is in the city.
Mrs. Andrew Keller and daughter Josie are journeying in the metropolis.
F. Montgomery, advance agent for the Prodigal Father Co., is registered at the Umatilla House.
Miss Annie Wentz arrived last evening from Portland, and is visiting the Misses Liebe in this city.
Crops are looking first rate in the vicinity of Baker, says J. Macken, who is in the city today.
R. B. Mey, the popular traveling salesman from Portland, is in the city interviewing our merchants.
Miss Hattie Lang returned last night from Portland where she has been visiting for the past few days.
Mrs. C. J. Crandall left this morning for the Locks, to be in attendance at the bedside of Geo. Morgan.
Reports from all parts of the county are that grain crops are looking splendid, and an abundant harvest is assured.
Capt. Lewis left this morning for Dunsmuir where he goes to complete arrangements for the Fourth of July celebration.
Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Nickels returned on the boat last evening from Hood River where they have been for the past six weeks.
W. N. Wiley came in yesterday from Antelope, and reports fine rains having fallen in that section, which makes good crops a certainty.
J. H. Blaney, who has been laid up for four weeks with a broken leg, is still confined to his bed, but hopes to be out on crutches within a week or ten days.
The crop this season will be the best in years. This weather is just what is needed, and from appearances our export trade will be something wonderful.
E. Herdicke and wife, who have been sojourning at Astoria for the past week, returned home last evening. Mr. Herdicke is very much improved from his trip.
E. Straube, of Mitchell, has a band of horses at the stockyard which he is offering for sale. They are fine looking animals and will likely meet with ready sales.
A certain thin man sent a dime to an advertiser who promised for that sum to impart trustworthy information as to how to get fat. The answer was: "buy six of the best carbonated waters manufactured by Weaver & Nagel."
The condition of Geo. Morgan is no better and he is gradually growing worse. His friends, of which he has a host, will be pained to learn that the end is not far off, as Mr. Morgan realizes.
Wool is gradually beginning to move, and indications are that early in July the market will open up in earnest. Yesterday M. J. Manning bought a small clip, and made offers on several more.
The fact that war is in progress with Spain need not prevent any loyal citizen from celebrating the national anniversary in the Dalles. It will be the best celebration ever held in Eastern Oregon.
R. J. Gorman returned last night from a short vacation and visit to Mt. Angel College. He attended a meeting of about 30 children in the home, 11 of which have been taken with the disease since it was discovered Friday.
Never in its history did the Coquille country receive such a supply of milk as this season, says the Coquille City Bulletin. For the past fortnight, the daily average supply has reached the 20,000 mark, and may even yet climb higher. Something over 750 pounds of butter is manufactured daily, while the patrons received 90 cents more per pound buttermilk for their product the same month this year as last.

WOLF MARKET OPENS.
The first lot of the season sells for twelve and one-half cents.
The market for wool has opened up at this place, and today the first sale of the season was consummated. M. J. Manning bought 67 sacks from Chas. Fox of Shoo Fly and paid twelve and one-half cents per pound for it. This is a good figure for the class wool, and shows conclusively that the price this season will be good. The warehouses are full, as producers are not consigning this season as usual, but are waiting and ready to sell when reasonable offers are made.
For constipation take Kall's Clover Root Tea, the great blood purifier. Cures headache, nervousness, eruptions on the face, and makes the head clear as a bell. Sold by Blakely & Foughton, The Dalles.

ing a forged check on R. M. Jordan. It appears Naylor gave the check which was for five dollars to Jordan, who in turn gave it to Joe Farodi, who subjected to the way the check was made out, so Naylor asked for it stating he would make out another. When the paper was given him he destroyed it and refused to pay the amount, consequently was arrested and is now held for a hearing.
CELEBRATION PROGRAM.
The celebration program adopted by the Fourth of July committee, but is subject to change:
Firing salute of one hundred guns at 10 o'clock.
The Dalles light art.
10 A. M.—Grand parade of fire companies, civic societies, school children, national guard, trade displays, liberty car, floats, etc. and carries containing speakers of the day, mayor, president of the D. C. & A. C., reader of the Declaration of Independence, etc., in carriages. Parade to terminate at Academy Park grounds, over the presentation and raising of flag over the new High School building.
12 to 1:30 P. M.—Basket dinner.
1:30 P. M.—Pringing parade to Academy Park grounds, headed by the Arlington brass band.
2:15 P. M.—Exercises of the day consisting of speaking, reading of Declaration of Independence, singing by choruses of 100 trained voices, under the leadership of the choir of the church.
3:30 P. M.—Amusements, consisting of concerts by three brass bands, cagey pony races, sack races, three-legged races, egg races and foot races.
8:30 P. M.—Evening celebration of the grandest of the kind in the history of the city. Reception of the capture of Manila by admiral G. Dewey, consisting of band concerts, promenades and the largest display of fire-works ever before witnessed in Eastern Oregon.

WHERE IS THE MARKET?
Can the Fruit Crop of Wasco County be Sold This Year?
This is a question that is confronting the fruit growers of the county, and is one that is serious. Unquestionably the crop will be larger than ever before, and the quality will be excellent, but it is by no means certain that it will be marketed at a profit to the growers. This is largely the fault of orchardists, or the result of a lack of enterprise on the part of The Dalles.
Fruit growers have year after year been devoting their attention to the improvement of their orchards, but increasing the number of their trees, but have given no attention to creating a market for their product. The Dalles has been satisfied to get what naturally came to it, but has put forth little effort to increase its facilities for doing business or afford a market for the products of its patrons. For these two reasons the orchardists of the county are liable this year, to find themselves with a large crop on their hands, that must be sold on a glutted market, and thus the fruit must be sold when it ripens.
This could be overcome if the capitalists of The Dalles would put up a cannery establishment with a capacity sufficient to handle that portion of the crop that cannot be sold at an advance in the green state, or if the fruit growers themselves would form a company and put up such an establishment. If they would help themselves in this matter they would have no fruit to waste this year or any other, but without a cannery they will be forced to dispose of their fruit as they can.

BARGAINS ON BRUSHES.
Must Have More Room For Our New Goods.
Encouraged by the trade of the past week, and the appreciation patrons have of reduced bargains, also desiring to meet the increasing demand on stock of furniture ordered from the east, we have determined to continue our bargain sale one week longer. Citizens will feel more patriotic and be more disposed to celebrate the national anniversary after having furnished their homes with the necessities we are offering at knock-down prices. Talk about bargains, they are hanging around on bushes in our store. Not a thing in the house but is worth more than we ask for it. Come in during the next week and make yourself happy in making an advance on your bargains. We must make room for our new stock, and want to give every customer the advantage of the necessity to clean out our store.

DEATH OF A FLOUNDER.
On May 27, Hon. T. J. Stephenson died at his home on Bridge creek, Crook county, aged 86 years. In his death, Crook county lost one of its best known and most substantial citizens, and the state an honored pioneer.
Mr. Stephenson was born in Kentucky in 1852, and came to California in 1851. A few years later he moved to Oregon, settling in Lane county, and in 1870 moved to Crook county, then a portion of Wasco county, settling on the Ochocho, where he lived for two years. He then moved to Bridge creek where he has since resided.
In 1872 Mr. Stephenson was the candidate of the democratic party for representative in the legislature from Wasco county, and was elected. He was again elected in 1882 as representative from Crook, serving both times with credit to himself.
His death resulted from injuries sustained by being thrown from a horse on May 13. He leaves a wife and five children, all living on Bridge creek.
An Estimable Lady Gone.
Shortly after three o'clock yesterday afternoon Mrs. Serene Ferguson, wife of George A. Ferguson, died at her home on Fourth street, after a lingering illness of eight months with consumption. Mrs. Ferguson's maiden name was Butler, and she was born near Jefferson, in Linn County, Nov. 11, 1865, and was married ten years ago to Geo. A. Ferguson, at Blalock. Since then they have made their home in The Dalles the greater portion of the time. Besides her husband, she leaves one son, a mother, four brothers and three sisters.
Mrs. Ferguson was possessed of every womanly character that endeared her to her friends, and drew around her a circle of associates who esteemed her as one to be admired and loved. She was a member of the Christian church and also of Fern Lodge, Degree of Honor, of this city.
The remains were taken to Albany for interment.
A few large group photographs of officers of the Oregon regiments were received in Portland yesterday by mail from Honolulu, where they were taken. The artistic work is very good, and shows the officers in the corridor of his palace, or what used to be such, Colonel Summers sitting in the center. They all look well, and show no symptoms of suffering from sea sickness.
It is a sight to see the amount of wool that is arriving daily in The Dalles. The warehouses have sacks piled to the ceilings, and the adjacent porches and platforms completely covered. There was an excellent crop this season and if a good price is commanded, as is indicated, there will be an immense business done at The Dalles this fall.
Ex-school superintendent, Troy Shalley of Hood River came up last evening and left this morning for Kingsley to be present at the closing exercises of the school taught by his daughter, Miss Marguerite. Miss Shalley has finished a very successful year, and pupils and parents have much to say in her praise.

SCIENCE AND INDUSTRY.
—Last year the farmers of this country exported 311,722 cattle, for which they received $2,920,252.
—It is a surprising fact that the bakers of America last year sent abroad 44,368,314 pounds of bread and biscuit for which they received $6,300,000.
—Only 9,437 bushels of rye were sent abroad last year, for which we received $3,340. The fact that rye is a leading product in Germany, France, the Scandinavian countries and Russia accounts for the small export.
—J. E. Gore, writing on "The Size of the Solar System," says that "enormous" as the solar system is, it is only, compared with the size of our own earth, if it is compared with the size of the visible universe, merely as a drop in the ocean.
—An acute musical ear will detect a slight difference in tone between two notes as the one-sixty-fourth of a semi-tone. This means that in the 11 octaves that the human ear comprehends there would be at least some 8,000 or 9,000 sensationally different notes.
—Muller estimates that the total production of gold and silver since 1492 has been $2,341,600,000; of this enormous amount, $439,000,000 have gone to India and nearly all of the rest to the manufactures and arts, and only $193,600,000 have been minted or used as currency.
—Important improvements in Röntgen photography are announced from Berlin. The most interesting is a simple method of photographing the stomach and intestines. It is only necessary that the patient drink some harmless solution of mineral salt, such as lime water, which is as impalpable as bone X-rays, and an excellent results are obtained.

JAPANESE THEATRICALS.
Customs Observed in Play Houses in the Land of the Mikado.
Japanese plays usually last for morning till morning. The audience make preparations to attend the theater much as if they were going on a holiday trip from Saturday to Monday. They take baskets of eatables with them and have the principal characters regularly at the play as they would at home. Food is sold in all Japanese theaters just as coffee and ices and beer and whisky are sold in English theaters, and the hawkers of edibles attend to business while the actors are strutting the brief hour upon the stage. The "Jap" audiences sit in little boxes on the floor of the theater and eat and sleep there. They occupy a rude and primitive place, and those who have boxes in the middle and complete seats are compelled to crawl over those who are in their places. When the play is about to begin a message is announced by a wooden hammer. This message of announcement is also employed by the French, but it has been used in Japan for many generations. The success of a Japanese play depends on the moral. If the audience are not quickly responsive and a tragedy is being presented the play is withdrawn immediately and the actors reappear in something comic.

A. M. WILLIAMS & CO.
In addition to our other business we are manufacturing light carbonated beverages, and we apply the latest systems and machinery in our bottling shop. We guarantee our goods to be the cleanest because we use no wire or metallic stoppers, but a new crown for every bottle (the only crown stopper used in The Dalles). We guarantee our goods to be the best because we make our soda or carbonated water with natural gas and use no sulphuric acid (the only soda made by this system in the Dalles). All we ask of customers is to make an investigation and compare our goods with other brands. The Dalles Crystal Ice Co. JOE FOLCO, Manager.

Shortly after three o'clock yesterday afternoon Mrs. Serene Ferguson, wife of George A. Ferguson, died at her home on Fourth street, after a lingering illness of eight months with consumption. Mrs. Ferguson's maiden name was Butler, and she was born near Jefferson, in Linn County, Nov. 11, 1865, and was married ten years ago to Geo. A. Ferguson, at Blalock. Since then they have made their home in The Dalles the greater portion of the time. Besides her husband, she leaves one son, a mother, four brothers and three sisters.
Mrs. Ferguson was possessed of every womanly character that endeared her to her friends, and drew around her a circle of associates who esteemed her as one to be admired and loved. She was a member of the Christian church and also of Fern Lodge, Degree of Honor, of this city.
The remains were taken to Albany for interment.
A few large group photographs of officers of the Oregon regiments were received in Portland yesterday by mail from Honolulu, where they were taken. The artistic work is very good, and shows the officers in the corridor of his palace, or what used to be such, Colonel Summers sitting in the center. They all look well, and show no symptoms of suffering from sea sickness.
It is a sight to see the amount of wool that is arriving daily in The Dalles. The warehouses have sacks piled to the ceilings, and the adjacent porches and platforms completely covered. There was an excellent crop this season and if a good price is commanded, as is indicated, there will be an immense business done at The Dalles this fall.
Ex-school superintendent, Troy Shalley of Hood River came up last evening and left this morning for Kingsley to be present at the closing exercises of the school taught by his daughter, Miss Marguerite. Miss Shalley has finished a very successful year, and pupils and parents have much to say in her praise.

SCIENCE AND INDUSTRY.
—Last year the farmers of this country exported 311,722 cattle, for which they received $2,920,252.
—It is a surprising fact that the bakers of America last year sent abroad 44,368,314 pounds of bread and biscuit for which they received $6,300,000.
—Only 9,437 bushels of rye were sent abroad last year, for which we received $3,340. The fact that rye is a leading product in Germany, France, the Scandinavian countries and Russia accounts for the small export.
—J. E. Gore, writing on "The Size of the Solar System," says that "enormous" as the solar system is, it is only, compared with the size of our own earth, if it is compared with the size of the visible universe, merely as a drop in the ocean.
—An acute musical ear will detect a slight difference in tone between two notes as the one-sixty-fourth of a semi-tone. This means that in the 11 octaves that the human ear comprehends there would be at least some 8,000 or 9,000 sensationally different notes.
—Muller estimates that the total production of gold and silver since 1492 has been $2,341,600,000; of this enormous amount, $439,000,000 have gone to India and nearly all of the rest to the manufactures and arts, and only $193,600,000 have been minted or used as currency.
—Important improvements in Röntgen photography are announced from Berlin. The most interesting is a simple method of photographing the stomach and intestines. It is only necessary that the patient drink some harmless solution of mineral salt, such as lime water, which is as impalpable as bone X-rays, and an excellent results are obtained.
