The president has a tired expression that is indicative of the strain he is held under by the wiseaceres. N. J. Sinnott, well known to quite a number of our-people, will deliver the oration in Antelope on July 4th. Mr. Sinnott is one of the best orators in this part of the state, and it is a rare thing in Antelope to have the privi lege of listening to such a speaker as Mr. Signott -Antelope Herald. Indeed Mr. Sinnott is a good orator, and Antelope is fortunate in securing his

The mammoth elk which has adorned the main office of the Hotel Portland for several years, says the Telegram, was shipped to Omaha Saturday, to show the people of the Mississippi valley the kind of stock Oregon raise when let alone. It took two large crates, each as big as a Klondike shanty, to protect his elkship from being bruised on the trip. The smaller crate was set on the larger to receive the head and antlers, and the body had been previously wrapped in burlap
