Regulate the bowels, purify the blood. Clears the complexion. Easy to make and pleasant to take. 25 cents. Sold by Blackley & Houghton, druggists, The Dalles, Or. STILL WE LEAD. The Dalles is the Best Market in Eastern Oregon. During the past year Heppner has put forth considerable efforts to secure a trade that has formerly come to The Dalles, but has met with a "cold hand." Last fall the enterprising people of that city contributed liberally to a fund for improving the road to Mitchell, hoping to get the trade that place, and induce the wool raisers of Bridge creek to bring their products to Heppner. A good road was built, and the distance between being only eighty miles, it was thought the wool would naturally go there, but it did not. The shepman of Mitchell and vicinity sent their wool to The Dalles, a distance of 125 miles, for they well knew that when it was stored in the warehouse here it would command the highest price to be obtained anywhere on the coast. This is proof positive that The Dalles retains the confidence of the producers of the interior, and that it must continue to be the shipping point for the surrounding country until railroads are built to the very doors of the producers. The best prices for the products of the country have always prevailed here, and since Dalles merchants sell at very nearly Portland prices, the farmers of the Inland Empire who are within reach of this place find no encouragement to go elsewhere. News From the Stikine. J. Edwards has just returned from a trip to the Stikine river, where he met with Capt. Johnston, who is master of a steamer on that swift river. Mr. Edwards says the climate is quite pleasant, the mosquitoes are very annoying and nearly as large as wasps, while their visit is not forgotten for some time. On the run that Capt. Johnston has which is between Fort Wrangell and Glenora, a distance of 150 miles, it takes four days to go up the river and eight hours to come down. The swifts can hardly be realized, but when four days is compared with eight hours, it is easily seen there is quite a difference in time. At Fort Wrangell there are no less than twenty steamers tied up, says Mr. Edwards, waiting for business to open up. He further says that men who have been up there for months have not gotten more than sixty miles from Telegraph creek, which is only twelve miles from Glenora. He does not think a single one of them is able to get far enough in the interior to make any rich strike. Lots of the men who have started out with the firm determination of prospecting the country thoroughly, are returning disgusted with their attempt. What Dr. E. A. Satter Says. BUFFALO, N. Y.—Gentle: "From my personal knowledge, gained in observing the effect of your Shiloh's Cure in cases of advanced Consumption. I am prepared to say it is the most remarkable remedy I have ever seen brought to my attention. It has certainly saved many from consumption brought on by Blackley & Houghton, The Dalles, Or. The Stikine Cauterized. The individual race man adds to his learning as his race passes into decay. At Ellensburg, Wash., last week, an Indian named Antwine was granted a divorce from his kindred in the interior. The decree had been signed the lawyer explained to Antwine that the law forbade remarriage within six months. Thinking that the ends of justice would be better served, the lawyer made the explanation in this mode: After he had twisted his jaw into all sorts of shapes with such jargon as "okoke," "kopa okoke," "mamook law," "mika ticky," "tughum moon," and others no better, the Indian said: "Thank you, Mr. Attorney, I understand the law. I will divorce myself fully read the law divorce before I begin this suit." This particular Ellensburg lawyer has burned his text-book on Chinook, and is thinking, as a further penance, of hiring a dozen strong backs from the North Yakima Indian reservation to haul all over the Big Bend embow.—Herald. Antwine is well known in The Dalles, and the above is a good illustration of his character and naive genius. Re not deceived! A cough, hoarse ness or croup are not to be trifled with. These are the signs of the Shiloh's Cure. It will save you much trouble. Sold by Blackley & Houghton, druggists, The Dalles, Or. Elk's Jolly Social. The social given by the Portland lodge of Elks Thursday night, says the Oregonian, was entirely successful. The feature of the night's entertainment was the presence of the Norris Brothers' band and members of "The Prodigal Father" company. Tom Carwell, as leader of the band, playing a clarinet, and at the same time directing the work of his fellow players with his instrument, provoked the greatest enthusiasm. When "America" and other patriotic airs were played, every man in the hall was on his feet and continued standing until the selection was completed. Among "The Prodigal Father" company who assisted in the entertainment were Lyman Welcher, the manager, Bert Swan, George Spink, Charles Hooker and L. Williams, all of whom did their "turns" to the greatest satisfaction of all present. Henry Griffin presided as master of ceremonies, and that of his self was sufficient to insure complete success of the entertainment. To Cure a Cold in One Day. Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. Try for sale by Blackley & Houghton, druggists. Birthday Surprise Party. Last Saturday evening very pleasant party was given in honor of the 19th birthday of Miss Edythe Randall, at the residence of her parents on the hill. A number of friends had been invited and while enjoying themselves, were surprised by the Alpha Mandolin and Guitlar Club. Musical was then in order and after several selections had been rendered a dainty lunch was served, and general conversation indulged in. The merry-makers did not depart until a late hour, all wishing Miss Randall many more such pleasant birthdays. These present were Misses Cora Jones, Mattie Stroud, Elida Beck, Eva Hepper, Annie Sandrock, Valeria Liebe, Edith Fisher, Lizzie Schoelling and Edythe Randall, Messrs. Irving Parkins, Clinton Alden, Frank Sandrock, James Reese, and Prof. Ryan. Tasty Warning—Grain Saved is Money Made. To save the grain use Fry's concentrated squirrel poison. This preparation is the cheapest and most economical for the farmers. One grain kills, guaranteed. Price 25 cents per can or $5.00 per case of two dozen. For sale by all druggists. Prepare for a heavy Laugh. Monday night will be laughing night for all those who attend the "Prodigal Father" play at the Vogt opera house. The play has just enough plot to be interesting. The specialty acts come and go like lightning from the starting to the finish of the play. The specialties are fast and furious. The Oregonian's recent issue says "there is not a solemn moment in it." This will likely be the last comedy of the season, and no doubt the mirth loving fraternity will turn out en masse to see a high class attraction of this kind. Nature's Detectives.
