SCHLEV'S BRILLIANT WORK.

The Capture of Cervera's Fleet Was Due to His Sagacity.

An Associated Press dispatch, dated off Santiago July 4th, gives the following account of the capture of the last nanish shin:

After a chase of 60 miles to th estward, the Brooklyn, closely followed by the Oregon, overhauled the Cristobal Colon after she had run ashore and had hauled down her flag. Captain Cook, of the Brooklyn, went on board of her, and the commander of the Spanish armored cruiser came forward to surrender and was taken on board the New York, which came an THE HEROES hour after the Brooklyn and Oregon had completed the capture of the Christobal Colon. The latter was not seriously damaged, though she was struck several times by shots from the Brooklyn and Oregon. During the chase, a clever man suver of Commodore Schlev in heading due west to Cape Caney, while the Cristobal Colon had taken a more southerly direction with a much greater distance to cover, rendered the Spaniard's escape impossible.

There seems to be no doubt that the Cristobal Colon and perhaps the other three Spanish armored cruisers would bave escaped had it not been for the prompt action of Commodore Schlev. The Brooklyn, his flagship, alone was n a position to attack the Spanish vessels as they left the harbor, and the commodore steamed directly toward them and engaged all of the four cruisers, inflicting great damage upon

The Oregon was the first to join the Brooklyn, and afterward the Iowa, Indiana, Texas and Vixen closed around the Spaniards, all pouring in a deadly fire, but from the beginning to the end of the fight the Brooklyn, Oregon and Gloucester did the most important part in the destruction of the enemy.
