PEASE & MAYS

"All Sufferers From High Prices Cured Here."

Young, Oregon, July 29—Last night, with a great display of artillery and naval force, the Spanish fleet surrendered to Commodore Cerveras in the harbor of Manila. The only remaining resistance is the fort of Intramuros, in the city, which alone is capable of resisting the fleet. Commodore Cerveras has received permission to sail with his fleet to the Philippines, which he will do in a few days.

THE POWERS SAY NO MORE

Admiral Fitzgibbon, in his dispatch to the Government of the United Kingdom, in which he referred to the Spanish surrender, said: "We have been informed that the Spanish fleet has surrendered to the United States Navy, Admiral Cerveras, in the harbor of Manila, with the exception of the fort of Intramuros, which is capable of resisting the fleet. Commodore Cerveras has received permission to sail with his fleet to the Philippines, which he will do in a few days."

HAWAIIANS ARE PROHIBITED

The Japanese government has prohibited the entry of the Japanese into Hawaii, in order to prevent the threatened attack on the United States by the Spanish fleet. The government of Hawaii has also prohibited the entry of the Japanese into the United States, in order to prevent the threatened attack on Hawaii by the Spanish fleet.
