NEGOTIATIONS COMPLICATED

Spain Not Ready to Give up the Philippines.

MADID, Aug. 20.—The government has resolved to insist that the capitulation of Manila, after the signing of the protocol, shall have no effect in the peace negotiations unfavorable to Spain. In any event the government holds that capitulation, signed by the commanders of the forces, does not entail the surrender of the whole Philippines.

All indications are that peace negotiations will be prolonged. The opposition from some sections are redoubling the agitation for convoking the cortes, and it is said Sagasta begins to hesitate, although he shares the opinion of Duke de Rio, the foreign minister, as to the inconvenience involved in the meeting of the cortes, and a series of debates on the peace terms. It is supposed the cortes will meet after the election to councils about the middle of September.

MUSTER-OUT WILL BEGIN RIGHT AWAY

Will Send From 75,000 to 100,000 Troops Home Soon.

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—A special dispatch to the Tribune from Washington says:

Adjutant-General Corbin said in an interview that he was going to muster out between 75,000 and 100,000 volunteers as soon as practicable. The selection of the regiments will not be made arbitrarily, but having in mind, first of all, the reports of the regular army officers now with the volunteers. The highest consideration will be given the wishes of governors, as well as of the regiments themselves. The interests of the national government demand the disbandment of troops secured under the second call in certain instances, and in other cases regiments raised under the first call, which have had service and which have been materially reduced in efficiency thro' sickness, will be the first to go.

It will not be feasible to issue a general order or to prepare a complete list covering all the forces to be mustered out for some time to come. On the contrary, as soon as an agreement is reached regarding any particular regiment, it will be immediately sent to the state camp, and as soon as its property can be turned over to the government and its accounts settled, the individual records of its officers and men will be completed and they will be discharged from service under the United States.

The only mustering out orders issued up to the present time relate to the First Vermont infantry.

WARSHIPS ASSEMBLE.

Seventy Vessels Will Rendezvous at Fort Monroe.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—One of the largest fleets of warships ever assembled in an American port will be brought together in the next few days at Fort Monroe. Already 57 warships are under orders to rendezvous there and the orders still to be issued will raise the total to the neighborhood of 70.

Naval officials say it is difficult to realize the extent of such a marine aggregation in one harbor. The orders began issuing last Monday, when five ships were ordered to Fort Monroe. On the 16th another ship was added. On the 17th eight more were sent, and on the 18th 17 ships were added. Yesterday's orders include 18 more ships.

PYTHIANS GATHER.

Over 25,000 Visitors Assembled at Indianapolis.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 23.—The biennial meeting of the supreme lodge of Knights of Pythias opened this morning with every section of the world where there is a grand lodge represented. The national encampment of the Uniform Rank was formally opened Monday afternoon, and nearly 1000 uniformed men are in camp. The supreme temple Rathbone Sisters opens Wednesday morning. The imperial palace Knights of Khorassan began yesterday morning and will last four days. The supreme lodge of the Pythian Sisterhood opened this morning. People have flocked in from all parts of the country. Trains are loaded with passengers, and it is estimated 25,000 strangers are in the city, and more than half that number are expected today.

Clark Seriously Ill.

CHICAGO, Aug. 26.—A special to the Times-Herald from Camp Wikoff, Montauk Point says:

Brave Captian Clark, of the battle ship Oregon, prostrate in a cabin of the St. Pau, the victim of nervousness; Cervera vanquished admiral, receiving the plaudits of thousands.

This spectacle, a grim picture of war's result, has been witnessed in New York.

The victor battling for life and health, the defeated, round and sleek, crowded and jammed by the hundreds seeking to grasp his hand.

Yellow Jack Subdued.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—The war department is not alarmed about yellow fever among the troops in the United States, but a close watch is being kept at all points where there is the least danger. Three cases at Key West were the only ones reported in the South, and no additional cases have been reported in the last three or four days. At Montauk Point there are several suspicious cases, but if it is yellow fever it is of a very mild type.

Another Trust Organized.

BOSTON, Aug. 19.—The Journal today says:

Puny Children

Who would prescribe only tonics and bitters for a weak, puny child? Its muscles and nerves are so thoroughly exhausted that they cannot be whipped into activity. The child needs food; a blood-making, nerve-strengthening and muscle-building food.

Scott's Emulsion

of Cod-Liver Oil is all of this, and you still have a tonic in the hypophosphites of lime and soda to act with the food. For thin and delicate children there is no remedy superior to it in the world. It means growth, strength, plumpness and comfort to them. Be sure you get SCOTT'S Emulsion.

THE REBELS EXCLUDED

Gen. Merritt Proclaims Military Government.

LONDON, Aug. 22.—The Manila correspondent of the Daily Telegraph, in a dispatch dated Sunday, says:

General Merritt has proclaimed a government of military occupation. The news of the armistice arrived on the 16th. It is feared that the Americans may restore the Philippines to Spain and thus reinaugurate a fresh period of tyranny, extortion and rebellion.

The Americans found $800 in the Spanish treasury.

Foreign opinion is loud in praise of the action of the American commander in excluding armed rebels from the city. It is believed his firmness saved Manila from pillage. A week ago there appeared to be a possibility of collision with the rebels, but there is no danger now. Everything is quiet.

REAREND COLLISION.

Frightful Accident on a Massachusett Railroad.

SHARON, Mass., Aug. 21.—A frightful rear-end collision occured in the Sharon station of New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, at 7:30 o'clock tonight, when an express train which was running as the section of a long train, crashed into the first section, composed of local cars.

As a result, seven persons were killed and 26 seriously injured. The injured were nearly all removed to Boston on a special train which was met by ambulances and surgeons. The rear car of the local train was completely demolished, and a portion of the second car, while the engine of the express train was crippled.

The two trains which were in the collision were usually combined into one long train, but as the traffic today was so heavy, it was divided, the first section running as a local accommodation, while the second which started from Mansfield 15 minutes later than the first, ran as an express. The local train due at Sharon at 7:02 was 13 minutes late. It left Mansfield on time making two stops add had lost the 13 minutes between Mansfield and Sharon. It was due in Canton Junction the next station beyond Sharon two minntes ahead of the express train, which should have passed it there. Sharon is situated on a curve, and both the outward and inward tracks are protected by electric block signals.

Although a heavy loser in the fire of the 14th, he is not the least discouraged, for he still has confidence in the future of The Dalles, despite the ravages of fire and water. He will, as soon as the debris can be removed and the ground cleared, begin erecting an elegant two story brick 100x100 feet on the former site of Mays & Crowe's hardware store to be used by that firm for their immense business. The building will be thoroughly modern and provided with every apportionment to make it strictly up to date in every particular.

OLD GLORY WAVES PROUDLY

Celebration of Annexation at Honolulu.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 22.—The steamer Belgic this evening brought the following:

Honolulu, Aug. 12.—Precisely at eight minutes to 12 o'clock today the Hawaiion flag descended from the flagstaffs on all the government buildings, and at exactly at five minutes to the same hour, the Stars and stripes floated on the tropical breeze from every official flagstaff.

The ceremony of today was a most impressive one. To hear the strains of "Hawaii Ponoi" for the last time, as a national anthem, to hear the bugle blow taps as the Hawaiian ensign sank from its position, and to notice the emotion of many who had been born under it and had lived their lives under it, was solemn. But then came the bright call for raising Old Glory, and the strains of the "Star-Spangled Banner" broke forth as that banner was unfurled to the breeze.

Then the cheers broke forth, and eyes which had been dim for a few moments became bright and lightened up when the Stars and Stripes blew out.

The picture presented in and around the extensive building was most striking. In the grounds and around all the approaches were crowds of onlookers of every station of a varied nationality. Notably remarkable was the number of Hawaiians. Within the grounds the military and naval display was fine. Hawaiian troops, United States marines, the mounted patrol, the police and the citizens' guard presented a splendid appearance, while the platform for the exercises and the verandas of the executive building were gay with brilliant summer dresses, dancing feathers and ribbons and the brightest faces that Honolulu possessed. The uniform of staff and navy officers added brightness to the scene. A line of these stalwart, well dressed men, stretched across the first step from the veranda and made a distinctive mark in a massive grouping, which was in itself worthy of special notice. The weather was fortunately propitious. The breeze came down Nuanu valley pleasantly and made the noble flags stream out in all their beauty.

THE FORMAL CEREMONIES.

The ceremonies opened with prayer by Rev. G. L. Pearson, pastor of the First Methodist church, of this city. United States Minister Sewall then rose, and adressing President Dole, who had risen, presented him a certified copy of the joint resolution of congress annexing the Hawaiian islands to the United States.

President Dole answered acknowledging the making of the treaty of political union, and formally yeilded to Minister Sewell, as a representative of the government of the United States, the sovereignity and public property of the Hawaiian islands.

Mr. Sewall replied:

"Mr. President: In the name of the United States, I accept the transfer of the sovereignty and property of the Hawaiian government. The admiral commanding the United States naval forces in these waters will proceed to perform the duty entrusted to him."

GEOLOGY OF THE KLONDIKE.

How the Rivers Are Changing the Country.

A recent explorer in a part of Alaska as far removed from the newly-discovered Klondike region as Washington is from Boston has said: "That country is one-half made; the glaciers are slowly doing the work, the mountains are smoking and the rivers are vomiting out quantities of quicksand." What is true of the Cook's Inlet country of southern Alaska is also true, in a measure, of the valley of the Yukon. There are, however, some differences. In the region of the gold fields there are no glaciers. Active volcanoes, too, are so far away that it is only by the occasional reports of Indians or prospectors who have made a longer trip than usual that their existence is known. And yet one can see, through all the valley of that great river of the north, aboundant evidences of the unformed character of the country.

The one thing which strikes the traveler, be he la[y]man or geologist, is the immense amount of work which the streams are perform[ing]. The Lewes river, down which [...] es his way to the diggings, rises, [...] known, in a series of lakes, the [...] of which is over 30 miles [...] country in the upper lake region is mountainous, with torrents plunging down through rough valleys from the eternal snow.

The contrast between this water of the lakes, which is [...] and that of the stream emerging [...] em is remarkable. The latter [...] comes turbid, being full of sediment [...] that one cannot see more than a quarter of an inch below the surface. A basinful taken out and allowed to st[and] clears itself in time, and a thick deposit of mud is found in the bottom of the receptacle.

The current boils and flows very rapidly, and as the boat floats along a sound is heard like that of frying fat. Upon searching for the cause of this sound it is found to lie in the grating against the bottom of the boat of the very fine particles of sand carried in suspension. From the moment of entering the Lewes river until the end of the trip this sound is never absent. A truly enormous amount of material is thus borne along by the Yukon and finally emptied into the immense delta at its mouth in Norton's sound.—Leslie's Weekly.

The Bob White Qua[il]

In the spring of 1897 those who were interested in establishing the Bob White Quail sent for a large number and ten dozen were received and they were placed on Mill Creek about a mile and a half below town, says the Walla Walla Statesman. They have now scattered from the Touchet to the Yellowhawk, and their clear "Bob White" notes can be heard every day. One gentleman the other day found a nest of about 12 or 14 young ones. Reports have been received from all directions and they have multiplied in good shape, and if the pot hunter can be prevailed on to keep his hands off these splendid birds until they have been well established, they will furnish good sport to local nimrods. No one is permitted by law to kill any of these birds until October 1900, and Game Warden Justice offers a personal reward of $5.00 to anyone who will give conclusive evidence of any one having killed any. It will be remembered that those who furnish the information gets half of the fine besides.

The E. O. Insane Asylum.

A Salem press dispatch says:

The status of the $25,000 warrant issued in payment for a branch asylum site in Eastern Oregon, yet to be determined by the state treasurer, isa subject of interest to lawyers here. The supreme court rendered an opinion holding that the treasurer should be perpetually enjoined from paying it.

Upon request of counsel for the holders of the warrant, the cause was remanded to allow the filing of an answer. The lower court accepted stipulations and made an order authorizing the payment of the warrant, State Treasurer Metschan has not yet passed on the matter. It is held by some that he will not be warranted in taking up the paper while the supreme court decision stands unreserved, notwithstanding the order of the lower court. The warrant and interest amount to about $33,000.

For Marking Sheep.

An authority says that, to make an indelible marking ink for sheep use shellac, 2 ounces; corax, 2 ounces; water, 25 ounces; gum arabic, 2 ounces and lamp black. Boil the borax and shellac in water until they are dissolved, and withdraw from the fire. When the solution has become cold, add water to make 25 ounces and lamp black enough to bring the preparation to a suitable consistency. When it is to be used with a stencil it must be made thicker than when it is applied with a brush. This formula gives a black ink, for red ink substitute venetain red for lamp black.

Spokane is to be taken by storm this week. On Thursday morning there will assemble the Editorial Associations of the states of Washington, Oregon and Idaho. There will be a day for business and two days for pleasure. There are a great many matters that could be discussed for mutual advantage and profit, and for the junketing trips, who deserve them more than the weary pencil-shovers of the press?

PASSING OF LORD FAUNTLEROY.

The Mother Tried to Be Brave When the Golden Curls Fell.

The scene was in a Ninth street barber shop and the time was a morning earlier in the week. The "tonsorial artist" nearest the door had just called out "Next!" when there entered a very pretty young woman leading by the hand a four-year-old boy, with long, golden ringlets. He was a manly looking little fellow, and his hair was just the shade of the young woman's, although she looked almost too young to be his mother.

"Are you the man who cut this little boy's bangs last time?" she asked.

"Yes'm; want 'em cut again?"

"No, not this time. I want his hair cut short all over. And won't you try to cut each curl off separately, for I want to send some of them out of town and one to his grandmother."

She had a pasteboard box in her hand in which to take away the gold that was more precious to her than any that has come from Klondike. She said she wanted the little boy's hair cut. It was probably the lad's father who wanted it; she had only acquiesced.

Several of the ebony-hued artists gathered around to watch, while the lad took his seat in a big chair, as proud as Punch, for he was to be a "mother's little Lordy Fauntleroy" no longer. He smiled, but there was a suspicious tremor about his mother's lips as she took a brush, and for the last time curled his beautiful ringlets about her slim and tapering finger.

Snip, snip! went the scissors, and one by one the curls were carefully laid away in the box. Before the last one was gone the young mother was huddled up in the bootblack's chair crying as if her heart would break. There was no doubt now that she was the child's mother. He was a baby no longer. It was much more comforatble for the child, and it was time it was done, and all that, but just the same he would never be mamma's little baby again, and she could not see the wealth of falling gold for the tears in her eyes.

Not a man in the place smiled, and even the "Shine, mister," seemed to see a bit of pathos in the scene. The barber over in the corner had to stop a moment while the man he was shaving wiped a sudden tear from his own eye. The man, gray-haired and somewhat crusty, was thinking of a lock of gold tucked away in the back of his desk in a busy downtown office, and his memory had gone back to the time when he tucked that strand beneath his blue soldier's blouse and with musket on his shoulder had started for the front.
