SATURDAY.....JANUARY 28, 1899

ITEMS IN BRIEF.

From Saturday's Daily.

J. J. Miller, of Deschutes, is in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Hinton, of Bakeoven, are in town.

Judge Bennett went to Walla Walla on last evening's train.

Messrs. W. H. Wilson and A. A. Jayne went to Portland this afternoon.

Senator Michell returned last evening from Salem, and will spend tomorrow in the city.

Dallesites have felt natural today, having been favored with one of those little breezes so common here, but which have been uncommon the past two months.

Thursday night Steve Russel was arrested by Nightwatchman Phirman on a charge of vagrancy, and last evening was sentenced by Recorder Gates to 10 days in the city jail.

It is estimated that there are from 800,000 to 1,000,000 bushels of wheat yet in the hands of Umatilla farmers. A large amount of this has been pooled in lots of 50,000 to 180,000 bushels and is offered at 50 cents a bushel.

On Thursday night the summer residence of Mr. Justin, of Portland, at Cascade Locks, was destroyed by fire. The man who had the house in charge was heating a bucket of tar on the stove, when it turned over, setting fire to the building.

Farmers of every section of the county are highly pleased with present prospects. The winter has been an ideal one, the snow having been sufficient to thoroughly wet the ground and also to protect growing crops from the frost. With anything like a favorable summer the yield of grain this year will be large.

The steamer Dalles City arrived safely from Portland at 4:10 o'clock last evening after having fought her way for four hours through the ice jam at Crate's point, and after discharging passengers, proceeded to Hungry harbor and brought the wharf boat and Regulator out of winter quarters. This was the first trip the boat had made since the 3d of the month.

The improvements that have been going on at the Umatilla House recently seem to have no limit. They began with the putting in of a steam heating apparatus last fall, and have gone on steadily until the old Umatilla is scarcely recognized by its former patrons. The latest addition is a handsome oak bar put in yesterday, that is a perfect beauty.

Either the people of The Dalles and those who visit the city are more lawabiding than those of Portland, or our peace officers are more efficient. Portland with one police to every 1000 inhabitants has robberies, hold-ups and all sorts of lawlessness, while The Dalles, with a population of 5,000, has only a marshal and nightwatch to look after the peace of the city, and acts of lawlessness are few.

The official record of lumber and shingle shipments by rail from Puget sound for 1898 was just a little short of 30,000 carloads. The figures published by the Lumber Journal show shipments of 10,729 carloads of lumber, equal to 176,664,000 feet, as against 7671 cars, or 122,736,000 feet for 1897. The shingle product removed out of the state by rail was 18,998 cars, or 3,039,780,000 pieces, as against 17,540 cars, or 2,806,400,000 pieces in 1897.

The funeral of the late Peter Johnson was conducted from the Catholic church yesterday afternoon. The remains were taken from Crandall & Burget's undertaking parlors to the church followed by the members of Temple Lodge, A. O. U. W., of which deceased was a member, and an able address was delivered by Rev. A. Bronsgeest. The pall bearers were J. P. McInerny, F. Lemke, John Kaseberger, Bert Eaton, Ed. Beck and Dan Daffron.

From Monday's Daily.

Mrs. Frank Menefee went to Portland today.

I. D. and S. B. Driver, of Wamic, are in the city.

Dave Fulton and sister, of Biggs, are visiting in the city.

Dr. Hollister went to Hood River on the afternoon train.

Mrs. R. A. Titus and daughter, of Rufus, are in the city.

C. A. Rhea, of Heppner, is registered at the Umatilla House.

Roy. A. Verhasg, of Baker City, arrived on the afternoon train.

Will Wurzweiler and B. F. Jones left this morning for Prineville.

S. W. Childers, a prominent sheep raiser of Columbus, is in the city.

J. W. Healey has returned from a visit to his old home in Michigan.

Wallace Weaver left Saturday night to visit his brother who is dangerously ill.

Thomas Hennighan, of Tygh, is visiting his brother-in-law, Fen Battie, in the city.

Miss Stella Patty, of McMinnville, is in the city visiting her cousin and wife, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Stephens.

The home minstrels have always amused the people whenever they have given an entertainment, but they will surpass all past efforts Saturday evening.

H. A. Cleek, of Willow creek, Crook county, is in the city. Mr. Cleek reports a very light winter in Cook county, six inches being the deepest snowh there has been in the section where he lives. Stockmen, he says, are still feeding and have plenty of hay to last them for some time.

Fred Young is in from Ridgeway, and says everything in that part of the country is looking prosperous. Grass on the range is growing rapidly and will in a short time make good sheep feed.

A few bright days in Eastern Oregon brings freight solicitors out of their winter quarters, which explains the presence of A. J. Lelan and E. B. Duffy, two prominent railroad men in the city.

The Dalles club minstrels will give their entertainment in Vogt opera house on Saturday evening, January 28th. Sale of reserved seat tickets will commence on Tuesday at the Snipes-Kinersly drug store.

There will be many familiar faces seen on the stage Saturday evening, but in entirely new characters, as everything put on by the club will be up-to-date. It will be beyond doubt the best minstrel show ever given in the city.

On Wednesday evening the Maccabees will give a supper and entertainment to members which will be attended by District Deputy Sherwood, who will address the members on matters pertaining to the order. All Sir Knights are requested to be present.

Billy Hoering has returned from Portland where he had been receiving treatment at the hospital for several week. While there he had two pieces of his skull, that were pressing upon the brain, removed, and both operations were quite sucessful. Mr. Heering is restored to perfect health as a result of the operations.

W. A. Rogers, the artist for Harper's Weekly, arrived here yesterday in search of suitable scenery for illustration in that journal. T. J. Seufert took Mr. Rogers in charge this morning and accompanied him to Seufert Bros'. cannery and also to Celilo, which places he will take sketches of as typical western scenery.

"A Boy Wanted" was found at the Vogt Opera House last Saturday. He was found by a good sized audience that laughed at his antics and the ridiculousness of the other members of the company. The play is a light farce comedy, and while there is nothing to it, it is entertaing and furnishes a first rate evening's amusement.

A. J. Shrum is in from his stock farm on Cherry creek, Crook county, and says the snow has all left that section and when he left home everything had the appearance of spring. Grass has begun growing nicely on the range, and sheep are getting all the feed they need. He reports very little loss of stock in the section where he lives.

Capt. Lewis visited Wasco and Moro the latter part of last week on a lecturing tour, and reports having been handsomely received by the residents of those places. Owing to the bad roads and sickness that prevailed throughout Sherman county his audiences were small, but were appreciative of the captain's narative of life in Libby.

From Tuesday's Daily.

Horatio Fargher, of Nansene, is in the city.

J. V. O'Leary, of Grass Valley, is in the city.

Frank Gabel is in this city from Wapinita.

A. A. Bonney, of Tygh Valley, is in the city today.

Wm. Lauder, of Bake Oven, is at the Umatilla House.

Henry Stegman, of Centerville, is at the Umatilla House.

R. B. May, the popular traveling salesman, is in the city from Portland.

C. P. Ragsdale, of Moro, is in the city attending the meeting of woolgrowers.

M. J. Anderson, of Dufur, made the Mountaineer office a pleasant call today.

F. H. Wakefield was among the passengers on the Dalles City for Portland today.

Today Recorder Gates sent the new Dalles charter to Salem where it will be acted upon by the legislature.

Mr. Joseph Sherar, the well known stockman of Sherar's Bridge, is in attendance at the Woolgrowers meeting.

This morning Frank Taylor, of Dry Hollow, shipped twenty head of fine, fat porkers to Troutdale on the Dalles City.

Harvey J. Smith, one of Grass Valley's successful and enterprising sheepraisers, is in attendance at the meeting in this city today.

C. A. Rhea, president of the bank of Heppner, and successful business man of that section, is in the city attending the meeting of the Wool Growers Association.

Until further advised the Dalles City will leave The Dalles Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday at 7 a. m. and Portland Monday, Wednesday and Friday at the same hour.

Don't overlook the entertainment and social, to be given at the Christian church tonight. A good program and splendid social time is in store. Admittance 20 cents.

We are pleased to note that Marcus Long, who has been confined to his room with an attack of measles and la grippe for several days past, is once more able to be on the streets.

Yesterday a bronze statue of St. Peter was placed on the main entrance to the new Catholic church in this city. It is a beautiful ornament and will add much to the appearance of the church edifice.

The grand opening of the Moody bowling alley will take place on the evening of Thursday, January 25th. This night will be reserved for ladies and their escorts, and Messrs. Esping and Estebenet, the present proprietors, are issuing invitations to guests.

Cody Black, a 9-year-old boy from the Mayville neighborhood, son of William Black, who was adjudged insane and sent to the asylum, was brought before Judge Neale, at Condon, recently, charged with incorrigibility. Sufficient evidence was produced to convince the court that the little fellow was a fit subject for the state reform school, and he was therefore committed to that institution.

A MAN LOST.

Lost! No man understands the full meaning of that word like the man who has been lost. He will tell you: "I was in the woods going ahead steadily when I realized I'd missed the trail. With a cry of 'Lost!' I broke into a run heedless or ignorant of the direction I was going."

The first impulse of a man lost in the woods is to run. The only safe thing is to sit right down and reason out the position.

Sometimes a business man gets up at the usual hour, breakfasts, kisses his wife and starts for the office. He has for sometime seen signs that he was off the trail of health. To-day the signs multiply. His brain is dull and dizzy, his heart does not beat right, his breathing is difficult, his limbs feel tremulous. He is scared. He realizes that he's far away from the trail of health, and suddenly like a panther from a tree, the thought leaps on him, "You are a lost man." The first impulse is to run for help, though the way is honey-combed with pitfalls of quackery. But the rational man faces the facts, sits down and thinks over the position and its probabilities.

That is the man we want to talk to.

Disease in almost any form is generally accompanied by the failure of the organs of digestion and nutrition. Re-establish these organs in healthy action, the blood is at once enriched, the body nourished and the general health restored. This result is invariably accomplished by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is a stomach-strengthening, nerve-nourishing, muscle-making, blood-purifying medicine. It has cured thousands who thought their health entirely lost. The "Discovery" is not a stimulant and contains no alcohol or whisky. Sold at all medicine stores.

Although there is not as much bowling done at the club alleys during the present winter as heretofore, still the quality of the rolling almost makes up for the quantity, as last week's scores would indicate. They are as follows: Monday, Fred Houghton 53; Tuesday, Fred Houghton, 61; Wednesday, Mrs. Huntington, 52; Thursday, Miss Lang 50; Friday, C. L. Phillips, 57; Saturday J. F. Moore, 50; Sunday, P. Mays. 57.

Up to noon today 300 seats for th minstrel show were reserved and are continuing to sell rapidly, so that it is evident that standing room, in the opera house, will be valuable on Saturday evening when what promices to be the best local talent show ever put on in The Dalles will be presented. The spirit of our people to patronize home talent is certainly commendable and they can rest assured that they will fully enjoy the performance.

The action of City Marshal Lauer in commencing to repair the streets before spring opens is very commendable, since if this work is neglected too long it will be next to impossible to put them in proper shape during the entire summer, and good streets go far towards making an impression on outsiders as to the thrift and enterprise of our citizens.

The sheep raisers from various points in the interior state that their flocks are at present in a good condition. For a time during the recent storm they entertained fears of being able to bring their flocks through the winter, but the only forbodings they have at present are that the winter has broken up too early and that another bad storm may come towards spring.

Numerous wheat sales are being made in The Dalles at present and the producers are evidently beginning to fear that the indications are not good for an increase over the present price which is 50 cents per bushel. Many who could have sold for better figures last fall are sorry now that they waited so long, and seem anxious to dispose of their produce at present quotations.

As it is ladies day at the club the evening session of the Wool Growers association will be held in the Umatilla House parlor. Forestry Superintendent Ormsby will arrive on the 5:30 train and will address the wool growers at this evening session, so that it promises to be both interesting and important, and will certainty be well attended by those interested in this great ndustry.

W. A. Rogers, the Harper's Weekly artist, who has been in the city sketching views of Oregon scenery for his paper in an interview today said: "I regret very much that I could not have been in this country during the spring and summer season so that I could do justice to what I consider a great state." Mr. Rogers realizes the immensity of the fishing industry on the Columbia and is very much interested in the same. He states that he will endeavor to return next summer so as to get a number of sketches along the river, and thus give the people of the other states a better idea of the magnitude of Oregon's industries.

A Commendable Move.

At a recent meeting of citizens held in Portland it was determined to erect a monument to the memory of the Oregon soldiers who died in the recent war with Spain, and General Beeby was elected president of the executive board with M. D. Wisdom as secretary, to take in hand the matter of raising funds for the monument. A committeman for each county has been selected, and Judge W. L. Bradshaw has kindly consented to act as committeman for Wasco county. Parties desiring information concerning the plan for creating the monument fund are requested to call on him or at this office. It is hoped to have the monument ready for unveiling on the date of the arrival of the Oregon regiment from Manila. All patriotic citizens should become interested in this move.

A Fortunate Escape.

What might have proven a serious fire was averted at the residence of J. T. Peters, on Liberty street, at 7 o'clock Monday morning. A quilt had been hung near the fire to warm and the children in going to breakfast had pushed it against the stove, where from the heat of the stove it caught fire. Mr. Peters had gone to his store and when the fire was discovered it was almost beyond control, though through the efforts of the ladies in the house the fire was extinguished and the house saved. The damage was slight, being confined to carpets, walls, etc., but it was a fortunate escape from a serious conflagration. Inside of an hour after the fire, the agents of the two companies that were carrying the insurance on the building were on hand ready to arrange for adjusting the loss.

CITY TAX LEVIED.

It Will be Six and One-Half for the Year 1899.

A special meeting of the city council was held at the office of the recorder last evening, presided over by Mayor Nolan, and there being present Councilmen Kuck, Clough, Johns, Gunning, Stephens, Michelbach and Keller.

After roll call, Mayor Nolan stated to the council that the object of the meeting was for the purpose of levying a tax for the year 1899 and to consider the proposed new charter.

On motion of Kuck, seconded by Stephens, it was ordered that a tax of 5 mills for general fund and 1½ mills for special fund, to pay interest on the bonded indebtedness of the city and create a sinking fund to meet the principal, be levied upon each dollar of taxable property within the city limits.

The draft of the proposed new charter was then submitted to the council, and the principal changes thereto were pointed out by the mayor, and on motion it was adopted as prepared by the commission except as to the boundaries, which were left virtually as they now are.

The taxable property of the city being $1,110,127, a tax of 6½ mills will create a fund of $7215 81, $5550.73 general fund and $1665.18 special fund.

SOMETHING TO CONSIDER.

Has the Dingley Tariff Helped the Woolgrower?

The woolgrowers of the West have almost as a unit declared in favor of a high protective duty on wool, and for almost two years have been accorded their demands. If it is beneficial to their industry, it is now time for some of the beneficial results to be realized. The following from the St. Louis Republic may be found of interest to them and throw some light on the subject:

High duties have not brought wealth or even a reasonable profit to either woolgrowers or woolen manufacturers. Despite the high duties placed upon it by the Dingley bill, the price of American wool is below the cost of its foreign rival with the duty added.

Secretary North of the Woolen Manufacturers of Massachusetts makes it clear that the existing high tariff is the cause of the unprofitableness of the woolen industry both to producer and manufacturer. The past year, he says, has been one of "general dullness and nonemployment, hardly paralleled. With all classes it has been a year of small business, of much anxiety and often of hardships and embarrassment."

He points to the fact that more important milling establishments connected with his association have assigned since the present tariff law went into operation than in any previous period of like length since the panic of 1857. Alongside this statement he places another to the effect that the importations of woolens have been smaller in quantity during the last year than for 50 years.

American wool and woolens have had the market to themselves, and they have fared worse with the Dingley bill to protect them than ever before. Mr. North gives lessened production instead of over production as one of the causes contributing to this condition. The Dingley bill sent the price of the raw material up in the beginning and caused the manufacturers to lay in a large stocks at figures which they could not realize a profit on when it came to disposing of their fabrics to the clothiers. Unprotected cotton was introduced as a competitor to wool which was protected to the extent of 22 to 23cents per scoured pound. It was mixed with wool as an expedient to cheapen the cost of manufacture. Woolen manufacturers who stuck to wool met with ruin and the price of the raw material was forced down. As Mr. North puts it, "an economic law was at work which tariffs cannot set aside."

At Cedar Circle Last Evening.

Someway the neighbors of Cedar Circle found out that their guardian neighbor, Ollie F. Stephens, would have a birthday in January and they inquired of her husband the exact date, and found it to bethe 21st, so last Friday they determined to remember her at lodge session. The plans were well laid, so that Mrs. Stephens thought the appearance the hall wore of being a forest, from the decorations of fir trees, was for the benefit of the candidate who was to be initated, so inquired no further. The affair was a surprise to the guardian neighbor.

After lodge was over the tables were laid and a delicate luncheon was served with chocolate. There was a constant flow of mirth and pleasant conversation from the moment the guardian was led to her seat of honor, and all the officers and members were seated until the hour was up, and in a few words the advisor called the attension of the guardian to the fact that the birthday luncheon was not all the Circle had thought of in remembrance of her faithfulness to the order, but that they wished to place in her hands a more lasting token of the esteem in which she is held, and after wishing her many happy returns of the day, presented her, in the name of the members of Cedar Circle, a beautiful remembrance in the form of a silver berry spoon.

The guardian neighbor, in a short, well worded address, said she thanked the Circle for thinking of her in this way, that it was a complete surprise to her and that she would do the very best she could to fill the office to which she was elected, according to the laws of the order.

The evening was a pleasant one to all, every one voting that it was just as pleasant to give as to receive, and each wished it was his or her birthday. Next week there will be initiations and balloting on candidates.

Teachers Were Entertained.

The the teachers of The Dalles public schools found an oasis in life's weary waste of toil at the pleasant home of Mrs. E. M. Wilson, on last Saturday afternoon, where they hied like a caravan of worn travelers and unburdening themselves of work-a-day cares enjoyed a respite under the genius of Mrs. Wilson and Miss Wrenn whose hospitality they enjoyed, and were regaled with delicious coffee and dainty refreshments.

Not unnaturally, their minds wandered back to their own school days, and many were the reminiscences brought to light which provoked much merriment, and mirth flowed freely until the subject of the pending school law relating to teachers' certificates was mentioned, when constrnation was depicted upon the faces of all except two who are fortunate enough to hold life diplomas. One thacher solemnly announced that within a very few months she must choose between a life diploma, matrimony or idleness. She failed to relieve the minds of those present by stating which of these calamities she proposed to take upon herself.

The shades of evening falling all too soon brought this charming afternoon to a close and all departed feeling happiness in knowing that two kind hearts at least realize that a teacher's life should not be all of toil alone.

A Pleasaht Evening.

Last night Mrs. E. O. McCoy entertained a number of friends, and a most enjoyable evening was spent. The guests assembled early in the evening, and whist was made the special feature of amusement. In the contest Mr. W. H. Moody proved the poorest player and was awarded the booby prize, while Mr. J. T. Peters scored the most points and earned the honor of being the best player. After whist had been indulged in for some time, the guests were invited to the dining hall where an elegant lunch was served, during the discussion of which Messrs Ryan and Parkins entertained the guests with mandolin and guitar music.

The guests present were Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Peters, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Moody, Judge and Mrs. Bradshaw, Judge and Mrs. Blakeley, Dr. and Mrs. Logan, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Fish, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. ## From Extreme Nervousness.

THAT no one remedy can contain the elements necessary to cure all diseases, is a fact well known to everyone. Dr. Miles' System of Restorative Remedies consists of seven distinctively different preparations, each for its own purpose.

Mrs. L. C. Bramley, 37 Henry St., St. Catherines, Ontario, writes: "For years I suffered from extreme nervousness and annoying constipation, developing into palpitation and weakness of the heart. I was unable to sleep, suffered much from headache, pain in my left side, palpitation and a constant feeling of weakness and prostration. I began using Dr. Miles' Nervine, Heart Cure and Nerve and Liver Pills and the Anti-Pain Pills to relieve sudden paroxysms of pain and headache. I soon felt much improved, and the pains and aches and weariness left me. I then took Dr. Miles' Restorative Tonic and am now restored to my former good health."

WOOL GROWERS' MEETING.

Convention Opened in the Club Rooms This Morning—Various Matters of Importance Discussed.

The special meeting of the Oregon Wool Grower's association was called to order at 10:30 Monday morning by the secretary of the association, Fred W. Wilson. In his opening speech, Mr. Wilson commented on the good seeds sown by the organization of the association last March, otherwise it would be with great difficulty that this meeting could be called. At the request of Captain Ormsby, a letter from Representative A. S. Roberts, in which he offers numerous valuable suggestions concerning the main object of the meeting, namely, deciding on some practical manner of settling the matter of protecting, to a certain extent, the grazing lands and apportioning the same between the sheepmen who run their sheep on these ranges, was read. By way of conclusion Mr. Wilson said while the sheep men were here to consider the matter for their own interest, on the other hand, nothing would be done that would be detrimental to the interest of other stock men.

Owing to the absence of Mr. Young, chairman of the association, a temporary chairman in the person of Mr. A. R. Thompson was chosen.

A motion was then made and carried that all wool men present who had not yet became members of the association could join by the payment of the initiation fee which is 50 cents.

The discussion of the question of allotment of summer ranges on the paying of a certain price per head for running sheep on these ranges was opened by J. V. O'Leary, who stated that a satisfactory arrangement of this kind would not only be of great benefit to the sheep men, but also would have a tendency to protect these ranges which are gradually being destroyed by the large number of sheep that are pastured annually. Mr. Bonner, of Tygh, suggested that each sheep man be allowed to lease a certain amount of range at a set figure and in this way, by sowing suitable grasses, the range could be made to pasture many more sheep than at present and all trouble over range could thus be avoided.

The suggestions was made that the range be leased to the highest bidder. This was commented upon with disfavor, however, by Messrs. Young and Jones who were of the opinion that the range price might be ran up to too high a figure by persons antagonistic to the wool industry, and that all should pay an equal rate for the range land

As many of those present desired to talk these matters over more fully the meeting adjourned until 2 P. M.

The afternoon session was called to order at 2 o'clock and the subject of running sheep on the forest reserve was once more taken up in earnest. A number of propositions which have been offered by Mr. Ormsby were read and taken up for consideration.

Mr. W. H. H. Dufur Forest Supervisor for this section was invited to address the meeting. He stated that while he did not know Mr. Oemsby's intention in this matter he felt sure that he would act fairly and honorably and do all possible to assist the wool men throughout the state.

He further encouraged the woolgrowers to act together in these matters and heartily favors certain allotments to each individual sheep grower. The question of allotment was heartily favored by Mr. F. N. Jones, in a short but pointed speech, while Mr. Sherar on the other hand looks at the idea with disfavor, since it would be constantly causing trouble between the sheepmen whose allotments have to be passed in going to respective ranges. Mr. Hinton then spoke in disfavor of the allottment scheme and while he favors the idea of paying the government for the range, he is opposed to allotments in any form.

Judge Mays urged the sheep men to do all in their power to keep the ranges in good condition, and stated it was not the grazing but the running over the mountains that injured the reserve for grazing purposes. He urged the wool-growers to act reasonable in bringing their sheep into the summer range and not rush to reach the range before any one else and by so doing tramp out the grass over which they pass, rather than allow their sheep to feed on it.
