Dilligent inquiry discloses that there will be material shortage in the fruit crop of Clackamas county. The heavy freeze in February practically ruined prunes in the vicinity of Clackamas, but prospects were fairly good in the Canby district until the hailstorm a few days ago, which literally stripped the trees of their buds. The lecture of Dr. Fulno in the court house last night was quite well attended, and the doctor interested his audience for nearly two hours discussing the systems of Christian science. He is a fluent speaker, and his lecture was instructive, especially to those who have not made a study of the doctrines he advocates.

A structure has been erected on Third street, back of the Skibbe hotel, that is at least a violation of the city ordinance establishing a fire limit, if it is not a violation of the laws of decency. It consists of a lot of old boards, parts of dry goods boxes and rubbish nailed together to form a hut for a hobo who seems to have pre-empted the premises. If he is per-mitted to remain there it will become a rendezvouse for hobos. The authori-ties should move him out.

The Biggest Thing Yet. Dr. Oglesby and Bonny Milliorn, roprietors of the Monarch mine in Crook county, have undoubtedly the biggest mining proposition in Oregon. They have just returned from there, and the description Dr. Oglesby gives of it is that it is a perfect mountain of ore, enough to supply all the quartz mil's in the United States for half a century. It is located on Crooked river, 15 miles above Prineville, and instead of being a ledge is a mountain balf a mile in length and 1500 feet high. The returns from five assays of the rock average $3.98 free gold to the ton, which is considered good in view of the quantity of rock, the ease with which it can be mined and the good facilities offered for milling. Messrs. Oglesby and Milliorn have located a large body of the ground, and also secured a water right which gives them the use of all of Crooked river, that can be carried in such a manner as to give a fall of 30 feet. > EDITOR TIMES-MOUNTAINEER I notice in The Times-Mountainee of the 15th inst. the following questions which were published as having peen taken from the list of questions prepared by the state school board of education for the benefit of applicants for teachers' certificates at the recent eachers' examination.

"Is it better to plant potatoes in the dark or the light of the moon? Why?' "Shingles are said to curl up, and rail fences are said to sink when laid a certain time of the moon Which is it? Why is it?" I was in hopes that some of our bright children would answer this very pertinent, yet perplexing questo the entire satisfaction of al and thus save many of this generation and generations to come, the tortures of unbalanced minds or total imbecili It is not my purpose to criticise the actions of this honorable body o highly educated and intelligent gentlemen, nor shall I attempt to solve their "spud-moon" problem and lose my mind as a reward. Several of my poor fore fathers went crazy on this very same subject. My object of writing is to offer some other ques-tions which I hope the state board of education will consider without prejudice and give them a prominent place in their categorical list. If they will adopt these questions, which appear below, and they are satisfactorily answered, I shall feel that my life ha not been a failure and the world is better off for my having lived in in "First-To see the new moon first at your back, by looking over one o your shoulders will bring bad luck Which is it? Why is it?" "Second-A ring set with an opal when worn by persons of a certain temperament, will bring all kinds of bad luck, to the wearer. Name the temperament? Why is talk so?"

"Third—A certain foot of the rabbit when worn about the person, will bring good luck. Any other foot of me rabit or any other rabbit will invite imps, devils, snakes and nightmare. Which is the good luck foot? Which is the bad luck foot or feet as the case may be? Why is it?' The foregoing questions are fully as important as the "spud" question, and equally as perplexing. Now if these questions, together with the "spudmoon" question, are not promptly answered by applicants or others, it is to be hoped that the great intellectual gentlemen who compose the state school board will open wide the globular part of their anatomy, and pour forth the knowledge that will benefit

The Portlanders were loud in their praise of the treatment they received at the hands of the German residents of the city, whose guests they were, and also of Dalles climate. A more perfect day could not have been se lected for outdoor sight seeing, the sky being clear, the temperature just right and no wind blowing. All expressed themselves as having spent a most delightful day, and said they were so well pleased that at some future time they will again visit the city. The excursion left here at 6 o'clock in the evening and arrived at Portland shortly after 9, without an accident or an incident to mar the Cost of Raising Wool. A great many people imagine that the expense of running a band of sheep is very slight, and on paper they are able to figure out immense profits. This probably accounts for so many inexperienced men who go into the sheep business making a failure of it and finding themselves hopelessly bankrupt at the end of a few years. One of the successful sheep raisers of the county, while in conversation with the Times-Mountaineer reporter the ther day, when asked what the average expense of running sheep in this locality was, stated that under the most favorable conditions it would be 5 cents a year a head; but the ordinary expenses of running sneep in this county, that is herding, feeding, doc-toring, taxes and incidental costs, is about one dollar per head, though if poorly managed the expenses sometimes run to $1.50.

To illustrate the cost of running a sheep ranch this gentleman, who has about 10,000 head, said since last November he had used on his ranch 3,500 pounds of beef, 3,600 pounds of pork and bacon and some 40 or 50 head of sheep, making his meat bill something ike $600 for the past six months Other provisions were consumed in like proportion, so the cost of feeding the people on his ranch is something that neighborhood. like $125 a month. In addition to ,m13-2m iving expenses are wages to hired neip, taxes, shearing and interest on his investment which taken all togeth er amounts to more than $650 a month supply enough power to drive 200 stamps, and will be one of the cheapest or above 75 cents a head for the 10,000 sheep he runs.
