Weigle, of Prineville, is visiting in the city. Mrs. O. E. Farnsworth, of Hoppen, is visiting in the city. H. F. Marshall, of White Salmon, spent the day in the city. Hon. W. H. Biggs returned by last evening's boat from White River. Judge Bennett and Geo. E. Stewart have returned from Goldendale. Miss Mary Beall, of Portland, is visiting her father, H. M. Beall, in the city. Mrs. Wm. Cumbie, of Prineville, returned last evening from a visit to her parents in Portland. Mrs. Theodore Prinz and children went to Stevenson today to examine their summer camping grounds. Albany will soon have a militia company, forty names having been signed the roster of the new company. Rudy Cradbaugh, who has been attending school at Eugene during the past winter, is in the city visiting his former schoolfellows. We have been waiting for summer a long time, and it seems to be here at last. The temperature has been well up in the 80's during the day. Hood River strawberries are ripening rapidly, and are on the market at splendid prices, the first shipments having brought seven dollars a crate. The river here registered 34 feet, a rise of half a foot in 24 hours. The tendency is for a gradual rise the next few days, and by Friday the river will probably be 36 feet here. Leo Morehouse, clerk of the supreme court at Pendleton, is visiting in the city. Mr. Morehouse is quite a scenery artist, and during the day has taken a number of views of The Dalles and vicinity. High water has made it necessary to close the locks for the present, and today the Regulator took down wagons for transferring passengers over the portage. The wagons are in charge of Joe Robertson and F. B. Saunders. W. H. Vessey, a large sheep rancher from the Yakima county, came into Walls Walla Sunday. He states that he recently sold 100 pounds of this year's clip at 72 and 82 cents. Most of this goes to the Pendleton Woolen mills. Deputy Sheriff Sexton and Constable Hill returned last night from having taken Mr. Stoking to the insane asylum at Salem. Mr. Stoking gave them no trouble on the road, and all appearances were perfectly satisfied with going to the hospital. At the last regular meeting of Friendship lodge, No. 9, Knights of Pythias, the following officers were elected for the ensuing term: G. C. Fred Burdett; V. C., George Gosser; Fred, H. L. Kuck; M. W., F. D. Creighton; M. as A., Cary Jenkins. The report comes from Long Creek that 200 sheep belonging to Robert Foster were shot and killed on Slide creek, in Grant county, for the past few years there has been an effort made to keep sheep out of that section, and this is probably a revival of the former war on sheep men. Portland people will arrange for an excursion to Astoria, which will include a number of boats, to meet and welcome the Oregon boys on their return from Manila. Why not The Dalles do likewise. Let's charter a boat and go down to Astoria for the purpose of welcoming our soldiers boys. J. E. Adcox has opened a jewelry store in the East End, in the rooms formerly occupied by Goodfellow, where he will carry a full line of jewelry, clocks and optical goods. Mr. Adcox is a first-class workman, having been head jeweler in H. C. Liebe's establishment for some time past, and has given general satisfaction to all customers. Dr. Martin A. Jones, general manager and proprietor of the Portland Dental Parlors, is in town looking after the branch office recently established here. He has secured the services of Dr. Sanford Murray, D. D. S., late professor of dental pathology in the Phall dental college. Dr. Murray will arrive in The Dalles the first part of the week. Sargent Frank Elliott, of Portland, is here for the purpose of arranging a broad sword contest with Ira de Melchior, also of Portland. But owing to there being no grounds suitable for such a contest, which must be on back to back will probably go to the Walls Walla. Mr. Elliott is a guest at the Columbia hotel, where he would be pleased to meet those interested in judging. Judge Hamilton has rendered a decision in the case of J. E. Davis et al vs. the city of Eugene. The suit was brought to compel the city to vacate the streets passing through the public square, which is located on the corners of four adjoining blocks. These streets have been open and in use since 1869, and the court held that by such use for that length of time the right to maintain suits is extinguished. The case will probably be appealed to the supreme court. Some time since four men died in the mountains near Astoria under most peculiar circumstances, supposed to have been the result of poisoning from food they ate. Since the finding of their bodies, no effort has been made to ascertain the cause of their death. It is asserted it would cost Clatsop county several hundred dollars to have the contents of their stomachs analyzed, and the county court will not bear the expense. This is very unsatisfactory for the people of the state at large want to know what the cause of the deaths was. Captain Holbrook, of the quartermaster's department, U. S. army, was in Astoria Monday and requested the water commission to submit an estimate for supplying Fort Stevens with water. It is estimated that to extend the mains to the fort, using six and eight-inch pipe, would cost about $30,000. Captain Holbrook states that it is the intention of the department to expend about $100,000 now in fixing up the Fort Stevens barracks on the grounds, and that fully as much more will be spent in the near future. The next social event which will be given in about ten days under the management of Mrs. T. Ruelle, and for the benefit of the public library, is a committee consisting of Mesdames J. S. Schneck, H. Logan, A. S. McAllister, G. C. Blackley, W. H. Moody and Miss Lang have taken the matter in hand, and have secured the assistance of 50 ladies who will appear in the cast. The object for which the society is to be given is a very worthy one, for the library is one of the most beneficial institutions in the city, and the ladies who are taking part are to be commended for their enterprise. From Thursday's Daily. D. W. Huff, of Moro, is in the city. Miss Beall returned by boat today to Portland. Dr. H. E. Reese, of Wasco was in the city today. C. E. Fitzpatrick, of Tygh, was in the city last night. Mrs. D. S. Cates, of Cascade Locks, is visiting in the city. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lindsey, of Idaho Falls, are visiting in the city. Last night J. E. Bowen, of Powell, brought 30 head of horses here for sale. Bert Phelps stopped off in town today on his return from Portland to Heppner. J. H. Jackson is looking after the sheep of the city during the absence of Marshall Lauer. City Marshal Chas. F. Laner was a passenger on the early morning train, bound for Portland. This morning Mr. Peabody, of Sherman county, shipped a bunch of cattle to Portland by boat. Moro will celebrate the Fourth in appropriate style. Ex-Congressman Ellis will deliver the oration. Today Tom Moffet, of Sherman county, delivered a fine lot of beef cattle to the Columbia Packing Co. William Ellery, the Boston wool buyer, returned last evening from a visit to the B. S. & L. ranch in Crook county. The D. P. & A. N. boats transferred again today at Cascade, the river having not fallen enough to permit them to pass through the locks. Bert Eaton and family left today for Hood River where they will reside in the future. Mr. Eaton having rented a fruit farm near the town. Mrs. H. E. Ankeney left this morning for her home at Eugene, after having spent several days in the city visiting her sister Mrs. DeHuff. Rev. Father Bronagess will not visit Kinsley next Sunday as he had intended, hence there will be services in St. Peter's church on that day. Misses Lizette and Susie Brogan, who have been visiting their cousins in this city for the past three months, returned to their home in Antelope yesterday. It is stated that there are 1000 strawberry pickers at work in the berry country, but the vicinity of Hood River, and they are gathering 4000 and 5000 crates daily. The river fell three-tenths of a foot last night, but the fall is only temporary, as it will begin rising tomorrow. A few days since two men who were working on the O. T. & T. line between here and Prineville performed a daring feat at Deschutes bridge. It became necessary for them to pass under the bridge, and the only way to do it was to pass down in a small boat. At that point the river is a perfect torrent, the current being about 40 miles an hour. They let the boat over the falls, some 300 feet above bridge, with a rope, then jumping in dashed down the mad current, making a safe landing under bridge. It was thought to be impossible for a boat to live in such water but they made the ride safely. From Friday's Daily. July patrons at Pease & Mays. Mike Glarey, of Dufur, is in the city. The latest in Crabb suits at Pease & Mays. Charles U'Ren, of Ridgeway, is here on business. Hon. Eugene D. White returned today to Portland. You'll need a crash suit. Pease & Mays have them. Miss Cora Joles went to Portland today for a short visit. County Clerk Kelsey returned last evening from Portland. Last night C. M. Grimes shipped a car load of beef to Troutdale. This morning the river registered 32.7, a fall of about one foot since yesterday. Mrs. C. L. Schmidt left this morning for Portland to spend a week in that city. Charles Alford and family and W. White and family of Goldendale, are in the city. City Superintendent Leaders went to Portland today to witness the closing exercises of the schools in this city. A boy wanting to learn the printing trade can secure a good position by calling at this office at once. Hans Hanson has gone down the river to conduct a saw mill owned by him and Mr. Tomson. The mill is located 16 miles south of Lyle. Miss Maud Sutherland, who for some time past has served as stenographer in the Eastern Oregon Land Co., office here, returned today to Portland. The reunion of the pioneers in Portland next Thursday will be the largest ever held in the state, and elaborate arrangements have been made for their entertainment. T. Burgess is in from his home at Bakedown. He says grass on the range in the vicinity of Bakedown is better than it has been for a number of years, consequently stock is doing well. The lady ministrals have employed Bert Baldwin to furnish music for them during their rehearsals and also for the entertainment at which time he will have an orchestra of eight pieces. Last night the Native Sons elected G. C. Blackley and J. A. Douthett delegates to the grand cabin which meets in Portland next Tuesday. F. Menefee and H. H. Riddell were selected as alternates. Pease & Mays are showing a large and complete line of crash suits for men and boys. The assortment comprises a variety of new and stylish patterns. Just the thing for the coming hot weather. Already people are beginning to arrive for the circus which will open here tomorrow afternoon. They are coming from Kilkieat, Sherman and Crook counties, and several hundred will be here from this county. Ned Wicks has returned from Skagway, where he has been the past year. He comes back pretty well satisfied with Oregon and is convinced that the ordinary man is better off here than he would be chasing around after gold in Alaska. The postoffice at Cottage Grove was robbed last night of $1000 worth of money. The safe was blown open and several hundred dollars stolen. Two men and a woman have been arrested on suspicion of being connected with the robbery. Homestead and timber claim filings are more numerous at the Oregon City land office than for several years past. Receiver George E. Baker reported that the receipts will foot up over $4,000 for June, as upwards of $1,000 has already been received. Yesterday G. M. Cornett, manager for The Dalles-Prineville stage, arrived from the south, and says everything is looking well in Crook and the southern part of the county. He is, though a little late, are well set, and he predicts a splendid harvest of both hay and grain. The largest outfit shipment of the season began today, when a portion of a lot of 2,500 bogs arriving from this and Crook counties. The dry cows, about 400 head, were packed by J. L. Kelly and driven across the river to pasture, while the remainder will be loaded and shipped to Kansas and Nebraska. Marshall Lauer returned last night from Portland, bringing with him the girl who attempted to run away from home last Wednesday. Now that she has been brought back to the parental roof, it is to be hoped she will consent to remain with her parents, and not again venture upon such an escapade. One of those incidents which make life pleasant occurred at the residence of Prof. John Gavin last night. During the evening the teachers of the public schools called in a body and presented Mr. Gavin with an elegant rocker as a token of their esteem for him, and a remembrance of the pleasant relations that have existed between them while he acted in the capacity of principal of the high school and city superintendent. Last night five new members were received into the Treasurers' club of Native Sons. Grand Secretary Eugene D. White met with the club, and in his talk gave the members much encouragement. The club is now on a firm foundation, and promises to become the most popular society in the city. No one in Oregon can well afford to keep out of its objects are purely patriotic, as the prime principle is to aid in developing and building up the resources of the state. COUNTERFEITERS INDICTED. Several members of the Dodson Gang Pleaded Guilty, and Others Will Plead Later. The United States grand jury returned several indictments against the members of the gang of counterfeiters generally known as the "Dodson gang," and who have been in custody for several weeks. Two of the members of the gang, Luther Dodson and Ed Heisenauer, pleaded guilty to having in their possession and passing counterfeit money, and will be sentenced later. David D. Bonney was also indicted on a similar charge yesterday and will plead guilty at length. An indictment was also returned against William Coram for the same sort of a crime, to which he will plead Tuesday. Elmer Miller, a resident of Eastern Oregon, pleaded guilty to the charge of unlawfully opening another person's letter, and was fined $20. Miller does not seem to be of a criminal disposition generally, and as this was his first offense, he was let off with a light penalty.—Portland Telegram. The Lady Ministrals. The fad of the social world has happened in The Dalles and the appearances are that as up-to-date, very fancy and thoroughly refined ministrals program will be presented by the ladies June 21st and 22d. It is under the management of some of the leading ladies of the city and will be given for the benefit of the public library. There will be a splended party with a cast of fifty persons—six and ladies, interlocutor, character people, soloists and a charming quartette. The olio will be replete with the latest minstrel specialties, with plenty of negro dancing, and it will be done by our home ladies and "yodel" artists. The work is being coached by Mrs. Ruelle who has had phenomenal success for four years in placing lady ministrals with home talent. The Single Doctor. When your wheel is sick and in need of fixing take it to Charlie Burschert, Second street, next to Gungling's blacksmith shop. Full line of bicycle supplies operated in stock. Agent for the celebrated Rambler.

OREGON CROPS. Conditions are becoming more favorable throughout the state. Following is a synopsis of the crop reports issued from the Portland bureau on June 5th: WESTERN OREGON. Plowing and seeding continue to be delayed. There has been no seeding on the low land. Wheat and oats sown after June 1st seldom make good crops. A few sections report signs of rust on grain. Fall sown wheat has commenced to head. Spring grain sown before May let is as promising as the fall sown. Unless adverse conditions prevail, the southern crop of strawberries is ripening slowly; a few days of warm, clear weather will hasten them. Grass has made excellent growth. The hay crop will be much heavier than last year. The quality of alfalfa is good. The first cutting of alfalfa has commenced in the southern counties. Garden produce is making good growth but the weeds are growing more rapidly; the ground is too wet to cultivate or pull weeds. Late potatoes are not yet in the ground. Corn planting continues where such is possible. EASTERN OREGON. The grain prospects are excellent. Fruit prospects are better than in western Oregon. The soil is thoroughly soaked and the question of moisture is practically eliminated so far as the growth of crops this year is concerned. In sections of Union county the wireworms are doing some damage. Seedling has been actively pushed over the plateau region. Throughout the Columbia river region reports are made to indicate that everything is favorable for a large grain crop; the total acreage of grain is less than usual and much less than last year; the acreage of spring grain is above the average. Working summer fallow continues. The amount of weeds is greater than ordinarily occurs at this season of the year. Corn is making slow growth. Grass is making excellent growth and the hay crop promises to be much better in quality and larger in quantity than last year. Peaches are beginning to be better than for years. Straw continues in the mountains, so that stock has not yet been taken to the summer ranges. The fruit prospects continue as formerly reported. Ripe cherries were picked in Hood River on June 5th. The cherry crop will be a good one. Strawberries are ripening slowly; up to June 1st only 368 crates had been shipped from Hood River, while up to the same date in 1938 had been shipped 11,356 crates. Prunes have ceased dropping and leaf on is now completed. Peaches will be a full crop. Apples promise well. Sugar beets are making good growth in the Grande Ronde valley. The reports from this portion of the state are much better than in former years, so that eastern Oregon crops will evidently be good. The City Election. The regular annual city election will be held on Monday, June 19th, at which time a mayor, city treasurer and five councilmen are to be elected. Two councilmen in the first ward, one in the second and one in the third ward—also a water commissioner at large and one for each ward. Judges and clerks of election have been appointed for the several wards as follows: First ward—Judges, C. S. Smith, Geo. J. Liebe, W. J. DeWitt, clerks, F. W. Wilson, C. L. Schmidt. Second ward—Judges, Wm. Mitchell, E. P. Fitzgerald, clerks, J. C. Baldwin, J. B. Mann. Third ward—Judges, Wm. Mann, J. H. Jackson, J. Staniels, clerks, Ed. Wiggins, J. Doherty. Reception to Mr. and Mrs. Rushing. A most delightful evening was spent at the home of Senator and Mrs. E. B. Dufur on Fulton street Tuesday night, the occasion being a reception for Senator and Mrs. Rushing by the ladies aid society of the Christian church. The evening was devoted to rehearsals, vocal and instrumental music, conversation and general sociability. The entertainers were all excellent, but the one given by Mrs. Rushing's was especially good, fairly captivating the audience. At the close of the program Mr. G. Rushing made a pleasing address, then the 60 ladies and gentlemen were invited to partake of a delicious luncheon consisting of ice cream, cake, coffee and lemonade. The entertainment lasted until about midnight. Two of the most enjoyable evenings ever spent in the city. OREGON'S FUTURE PORT. It must be at the Mouth of the Columbia River. Why Portland should ever have made the principal center for the trade of Oregon has often puzzled many, for it is located so far inland that it has ever been placed at an unfavorable disadvantage when brought in competition with the cities that were situated immediately on the sea coast. But in the early settlement of the state, the Willamette valley was the first home of the pioneers, and Portland being located near the mouth of the Willamette river and also being accessible to ocean vessels, naturally became the distributing point for the rest of the state and the base of securing supplies. But in the evolution that is going on, the close competition between both buyers and sellers, the mouth of the Columbia is destined to supplant Portland as the great distributing point for Western Oregon and a large portion of Eastern Oregon and Washington. The great expense of bringing ocean vessels from the mouth of the river to Portland, and the fact that no large sea going vessel can take on a full cargo at Portland at the time work against that city. The building of a railroad to the mouth of the river and the fact that freight can be carried cheaper by river boats than by ocean vessels from interior points to the mouth of the Columbia, makes it certain that Portland must soon lose its prestige as the warehouse for Oregon. These facts existing, one begins to wonder where the trade of the state will center. The casual observer would probably say Astoria, but he must realize that Astoria, too has its disadvantages. Had it not, it would long since have been the principal city of the state. The disadvantage with that Astoria must contend is that the anchorage for large vessels is not protected from the winds, hence the harbor is not inviting. But further down the river, at the new town of Warrenton, one finds every facility for the making of a large city. Its harbor is so situated that the vessels at anchor are protected from the ocean winds, its water front is located so that the largest ships may anchor with perfect safety, and its bounds extend over a level track of land that admits of the erection of large docks and warehouses at the least possible expense. The advantages of this point were recognized by A. B. Hammond, promoter of the railroad leading to the mouth of the river, hence he secured terminal grounds there for his road. In course of time all the products of the inland districts must find their way down to the Columbia river either by boat or rail, for the transportation rates must be lighter on the downhull haul along the river than they are across the Cascade mountains to Puget sound. This alone will make some point near the mouth of the Columbia the principal city of the Northwest, and from present appearances Warrenton is destined to be that place. At present it is what might be termed a city on paper, but before the expiration of a few decades it will be a city in reality, and those who invest money in realty there will ever realize good returns on their investment, for the mouth of the Columbia must be the distributing point for all Oregon, and Warrenton possesses all the natural advantages to make of it a great and thriving city. TO IMPROVE THE LOCKS. Work Will Be Commenced at an Early Date. Captain W. W. Harris has submitted to the secretary of war a project for expending the $75,000 appropriated by the last river and harbor act for the improvement of the canal and locks at the cascades of the Columbia river, and the project has been approved. It is more in the nature of continuing the work already begun and nearly completed, but, more explicitly, the money will be expended in rebuilding the locks and in erecting a new canal, which are to go as the command here, has been revoked. Battery B. of the Third artillery, is to be sent immediately from Fort Monroe to Angel island, in this harbor. Walnut Growers Combine. LOS ANGELES, Cal. June 7.—Seven walnut growers' associations in southern California have combined for mutual protection. W. W. Jackson was elected president and A. Montgomery secretary of the new organization. The compact provides that all sales shall be under the direction of the executive committee. THEY WENT INTO HIDING. Judge Lowell Has Scared all the Slot Machines out of Pendleton. At the convening of circuit court in Pendleton last Monday, Judge Lowell, in his charge to the grand jury, called attention to the law prohibiting slot machines, and insisted that it be enforced. Speaking of the results of the charge, the East Oregonian says: Judge Lowell's order to the grand jury to investigate the slot-machine matter and see that steps were taken to secure a right enforcement of the Prohibition act, and that it be enforced.
